Exemplifying a twentieth century cattle herder, cowboy Sally Callaway moves 'em through the chure.

"Smile! You're on Candid Camera!" Enthusiastic Doug Miller inspires his client.

Senior Michelle Draeger is processed during registration.

Mixed Reactions Greet New Year; Instructors Return

"To me, it seemed like the whole school was not-united. Everyone was just wandering around as if they didn't know what was going on."—senior Steve Haynes.

"The start of the year was really near, because we had a lot of time to get reacquainted with friends."—freshman Christina Foster.

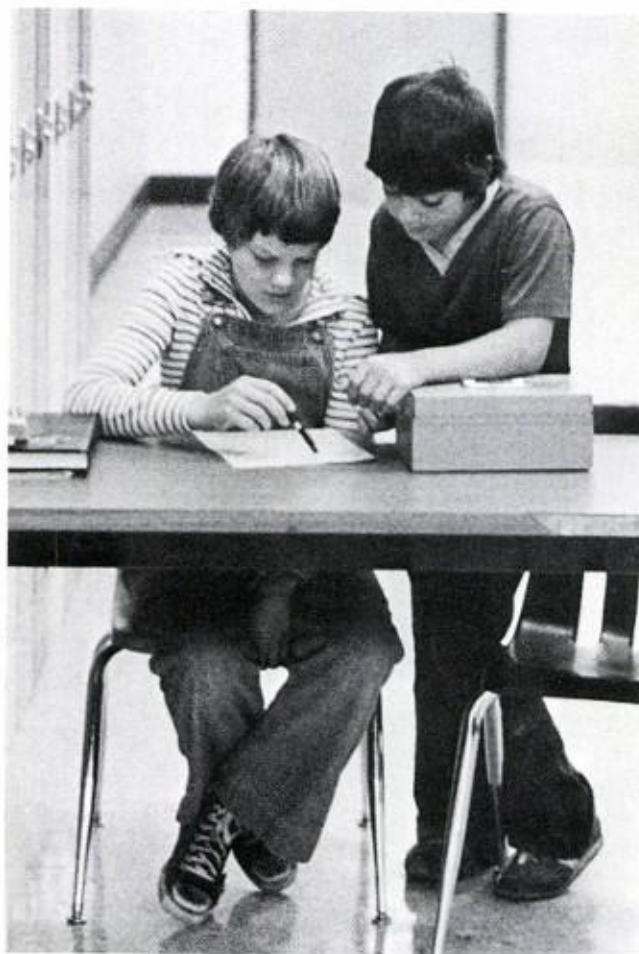

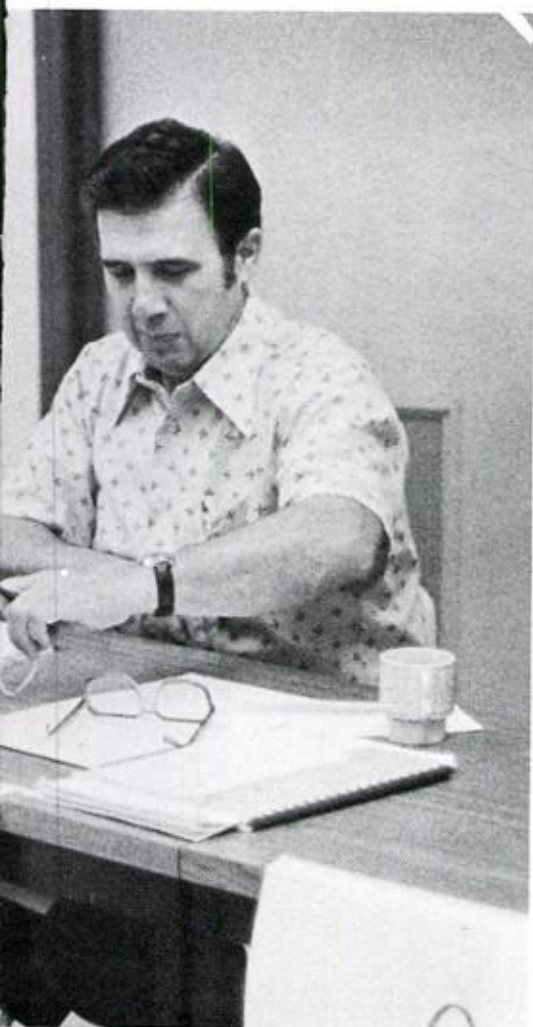

"It was kind of a bummer, 'cause I had to get reregistered four times. Can you believe it?"—sophomore Joe Yelverton.

"During the first week, everyone, teachers and students alike, cooperated together fully. There were no problems."—Security Guard Steve Novelli.

"I think it was really boring. All I did was sit around and listen to the subs and my friends."—seventh grader Jerry Sather.

"We (the swimming team) swam part of the year without a coach, and that kinda slowed us down a little bit. But he came back and everything turned out o.k."—junior Johnny Lindquist

The first trip back to school for most people was the yearbook distribution party held on August 24. Registration began the next week and students were photographed, they paid activity fees, and were issued a class schedule. The 1979-80 school year had two beginnings. The first began without the full complement of usual teachers. They returned over a week later, and school began again.

Enthusiasm, Style, Pride Heighten School Spirit Week

"Toga Day was a blast."—junior
Stephanie Tatum

"Waco"—sophomore Darla Johnson

"Spirit Week is always Spirit Week."—
Mr. Ed Nash

"It went as well as could be expected considering the strike."—senior Barb Jones

"Shows the school has pride."—sophomore Laura Morris

"Spirit Week was really fun, especially the life saver pass because we won!"— sophomore Jennifer Ginsburg

"It would have been better if there had been more time to get into it."—Mr. Jim Taylor

"Spirit Week was especially nice because we had a lot of Seniors participating."—senior
Pam Scott

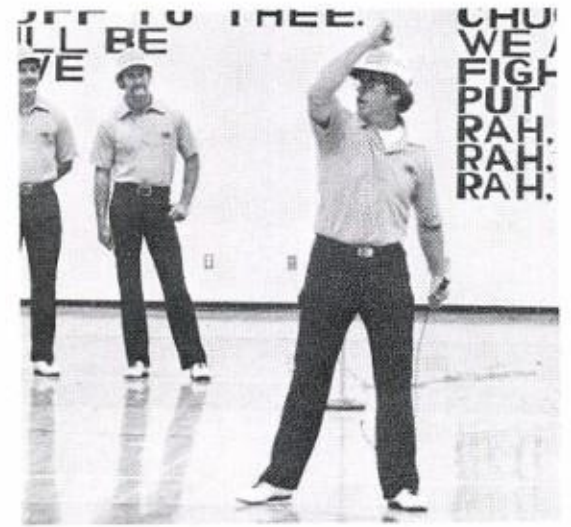

"Love'd it."—sophomore Sandy Knueppel

Spirit Week was September 17 through the 21 this year. Pep Club sponsored it and decided the days would start out with Monday as Favorite Sport Day, and progress through Inside-out and Backwards Day, Fifties Day, Toga Day, and concluded with Black and Aqua Day. Some of the lunch time activities included a life saver pass, gunny sack races, plus the spoon and string trick. An assembly on Friday climaxed the week, with Coach Huffer raising spirit for the Homecoming game on Saturday.

Pep band member Andrew Dunning gets into the music.

"Who we gonna bear?" screeches Football Coach Huffer.

Totally involving themselves in the lifesaver pass are sophomores Rodney Wild and Mandy Senseney

Living their socks off to "Basin Street Blues" are the animated Potato Dancers during a Spirit Week pep assembly.

Anticipating his moment of retaliation is Darren "Deak" Kadel as Steve Novelli helplessly awaits his fate.

Striking a casual pose, Peeper and Colleen, alias "Laverne and Squiggy," suitably portray Fifties Day.

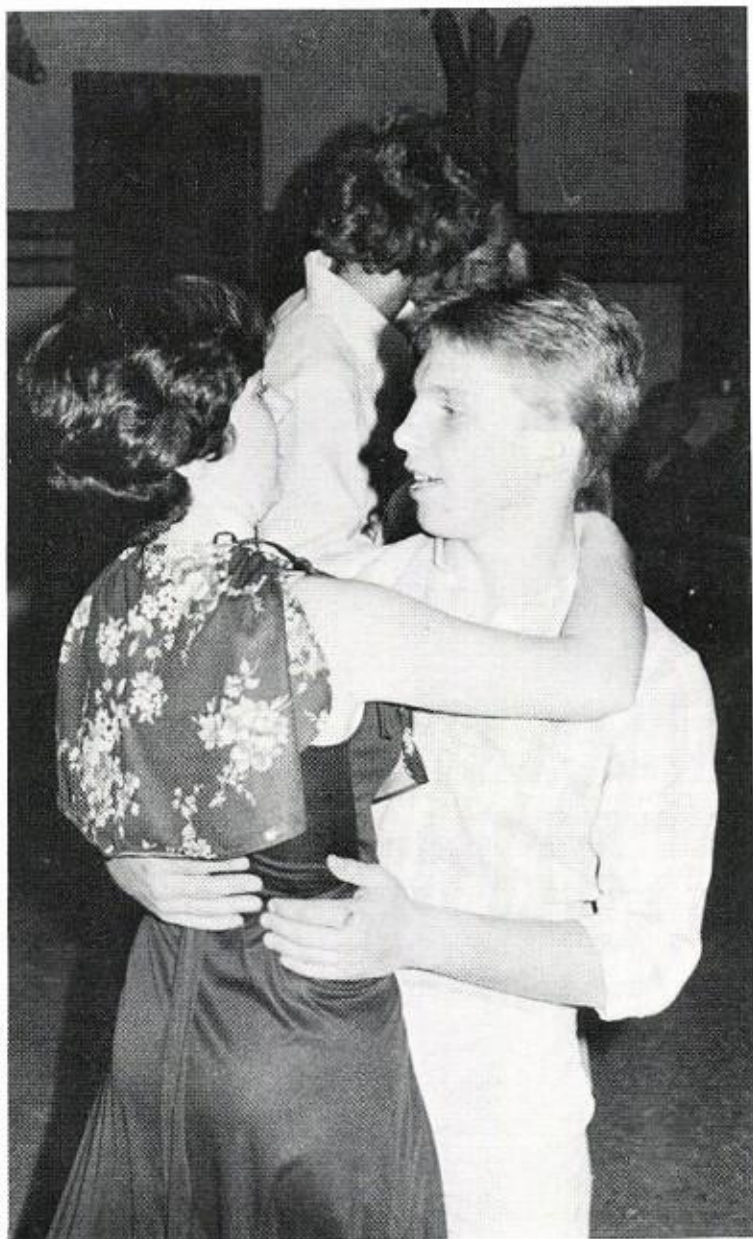

Accepting his punishment as one of the many hazards of his profession is senior high principal Ed Nash.

Getting into the spirit of Inside-out and Backwards Day are Polly Tritt and Keith Reed.

Moments after being crowned, the queen and her escort smile for the crowd.

With toothpick in mouth, Darren Kadel and Annette Gray enjoy a dance.

Three enthusiastic seniors help to bring their class another win.

Homecoming Game Ends In 6-6 Tie; Senior Float Wins

"I liked the balloons."—senior Kim Cherry

"I liked the Corvettes and the senior balloons."—sophomore Celeste Loflin

"Our float was super!! We won!!"—senior Annette Osterhout

"It was loud, but I thought the band definitely had it together."—senior Ralph Kiehl

"I thought the band was very poor."—senior Chris Jarvis

"The float building was very hard on my car."—junior Leslie Hines

"I had a blast while I was there."—junior Shawn Rhodes

"It was pretty all right!! Yea Chugiak!!"—senior Joe Lochner

"At least we didn't lose."—junior Koral Hargan

The 1979 Homecoming game was played September 22 against Bartlett on the new field. It ended in a 6-6 tie.

Each float depicted the "Ain't No Stoppin' Us Now" theme in their own way. The class of '80 won for the third time with balloons spelling out BEAT BARTLETT and CHS #1.

The Princesses were driven around the field in Corvettes from the Corvette Club of Anchorage. Senior Princess Kim Davis was crowned Homecoming Queen; her escort was Terry Kruger.

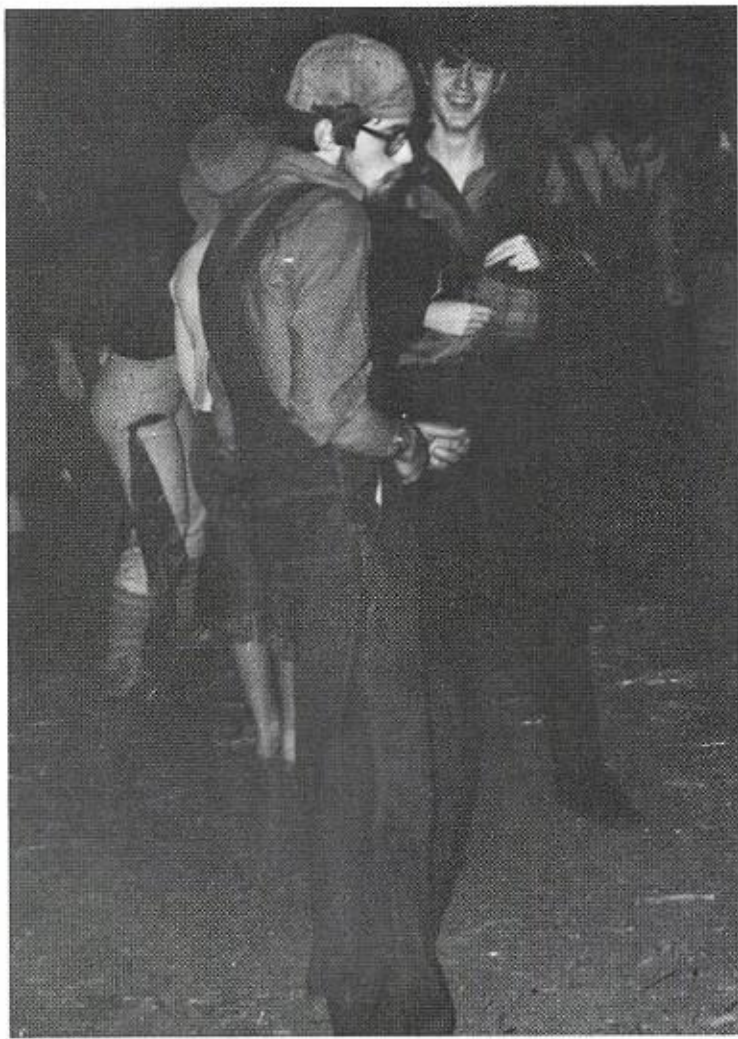

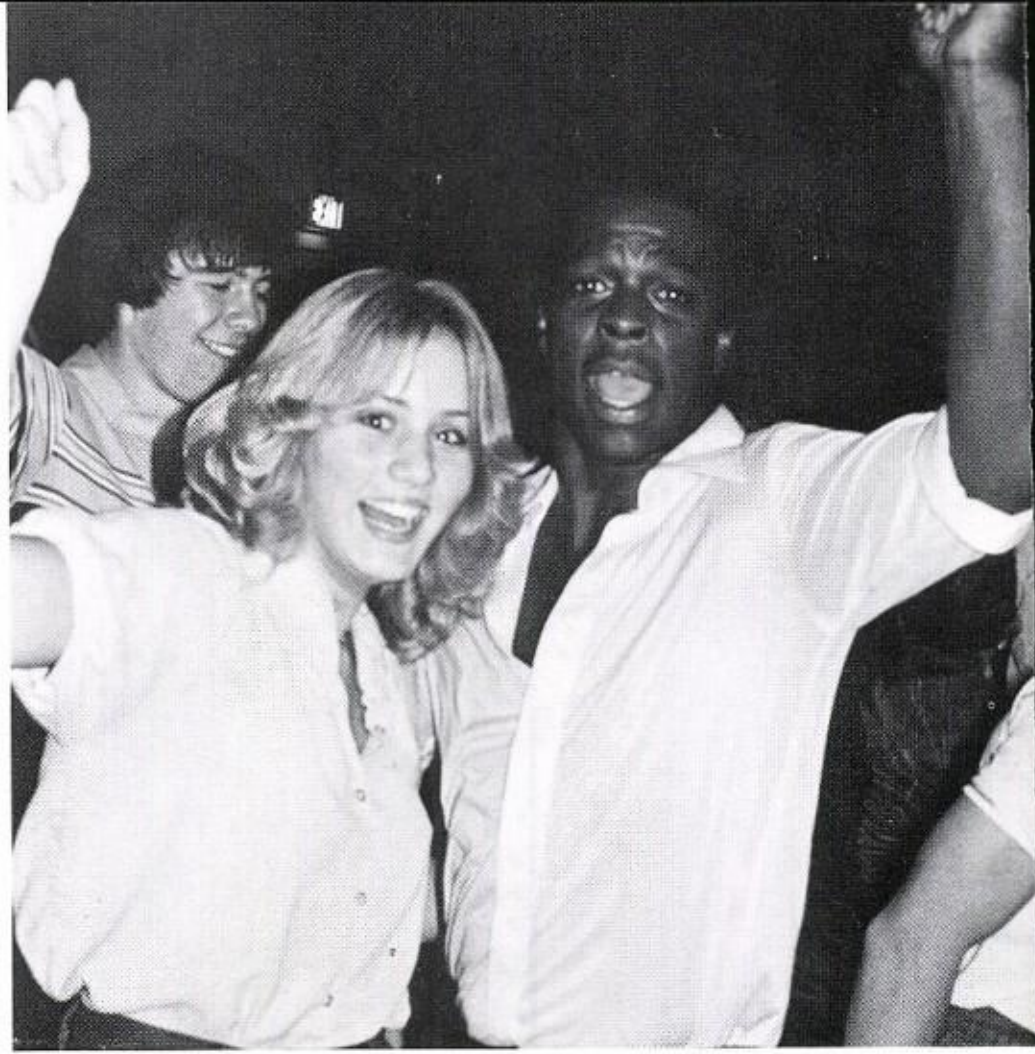

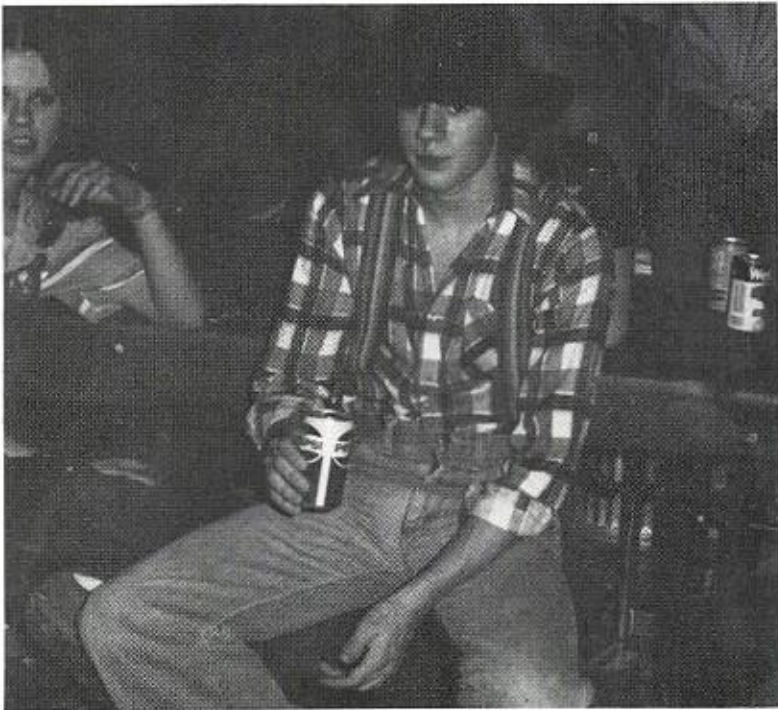

The dance was held later that evening with music provided by Forrest. The Royalty had a special spotlight dance to Billy Joel's "Just the Way You Are." Chairman of Homecoming, Christina Clayton, was presented with flowers from the Royalty.

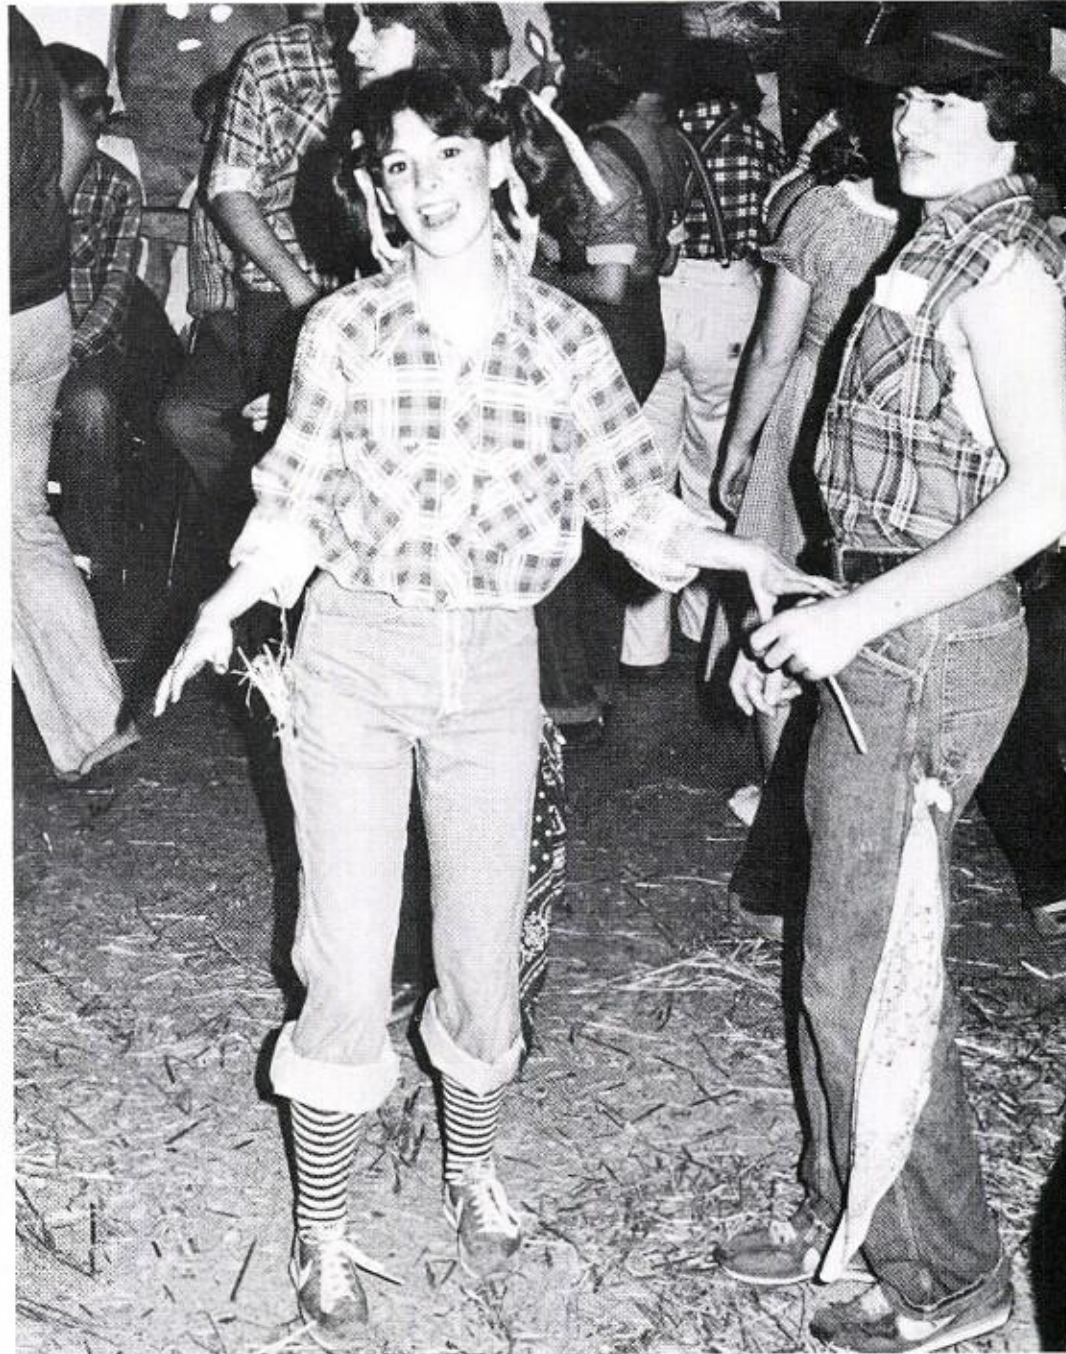

"Born to be Alive" are Jed Henning and Mandy Senseney.

"Good-bye Mr. Rourke, good-bye Tatroo, the fantasy you promised has come true."

Pepsi-holic Gary Monica pours that popular coolant down his dry, dry, throat.

Mellowing out to the "disco groove," Ralph Kiehl jams to the bass beat.

High fashion is obviously not the suit of these two freshman, Zane Henning and Cheryl Tatum.

"I'm dumbfounded... again!"

Choir, Mat Maids Host Fall Dances; DJ's Replace Band

OCTOBER OUTRAGE

"As one of the executives in the organization of October Outrage, I would like to say it was a complete success. Perhaps next time we can go as far as getting Mick Jagger, but right now we'll have to do with Mobile Mother Lode."—senior Jed Henning

"I had a blast—no disco next time. Let us go outside next time."—junior Deb Johnson.

"As chairman I think we did an excellent job, and we plan to do it again."—senior Neil Bjornstad

"It's about time they got rid of the bands that couldn't play and got some DJ's that could."—senior Chris Jarvis

"It turned out better than I expected."—junior June Pittman

"I thought it was bad!"—sophomore Kelly Bryan

SADIE HAWKINS

"It was a good dance; it's usually the best one of the year."—junior Bob Simpson

"It was a lot more fun this year than last year—a lot more people came."—sophomore Julie Flercher.

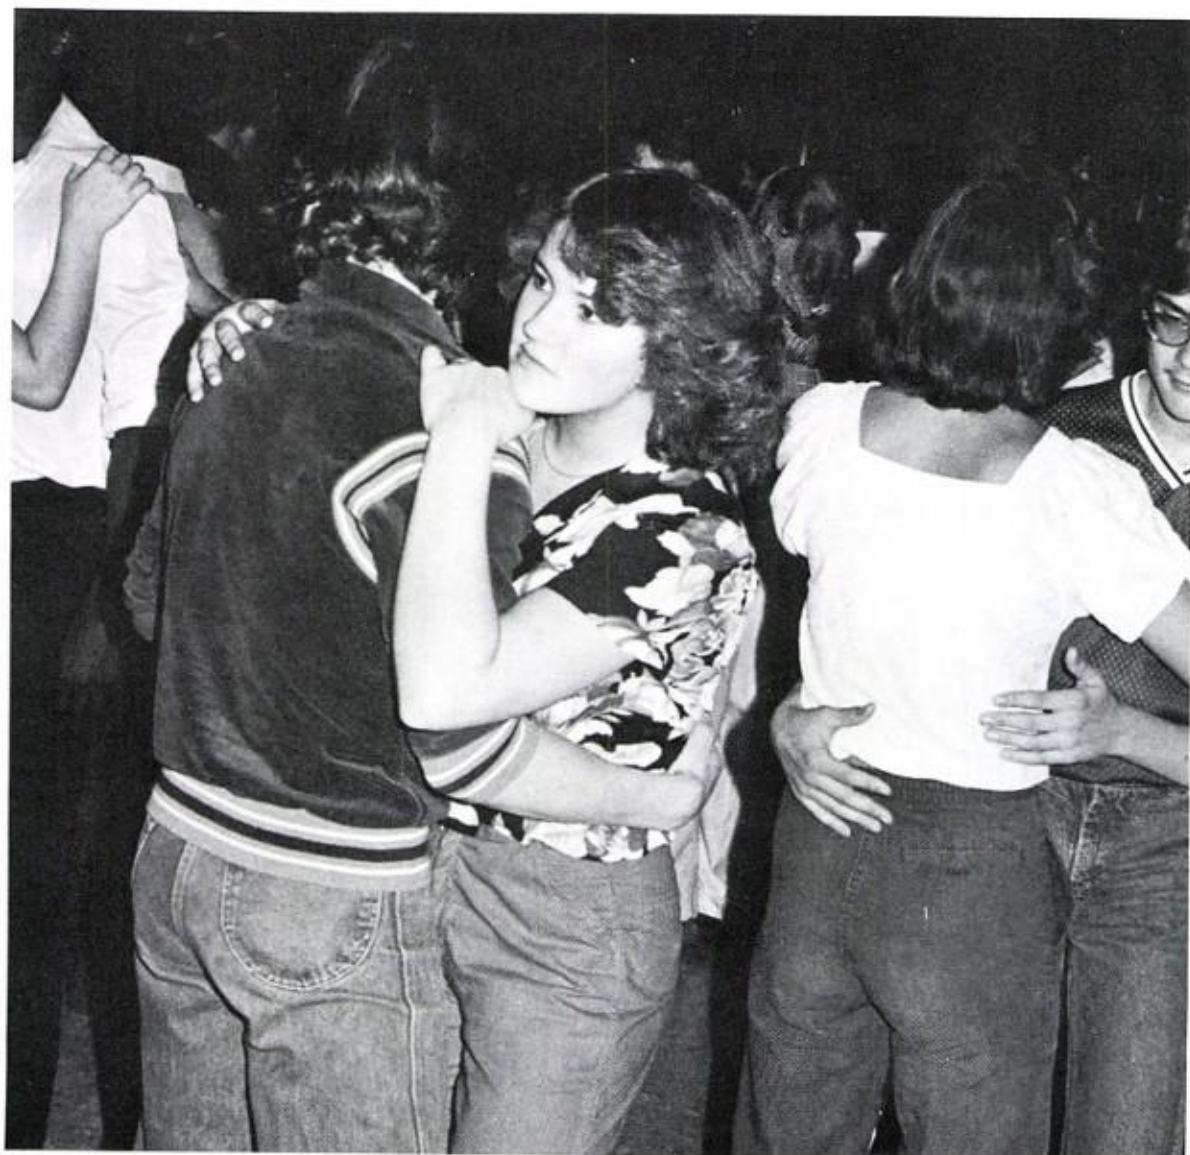

"I've been to better. There was too much hay."—sophomore Celeste Loflin

"It was pretty good. I was too chicken to ask anyone, otherwise it was neat."—junior Linda Kinney

"A lot of people dressed neat—I had a lot of fun."—sophomore Renee Mackey

The October Outrage was a disco with music by the Mobile Mother Lode. The cafeteria was prepared for the occasion with disco decorations. The Swing Choir sponsored the dance. They used the money they raised to buy microphones.

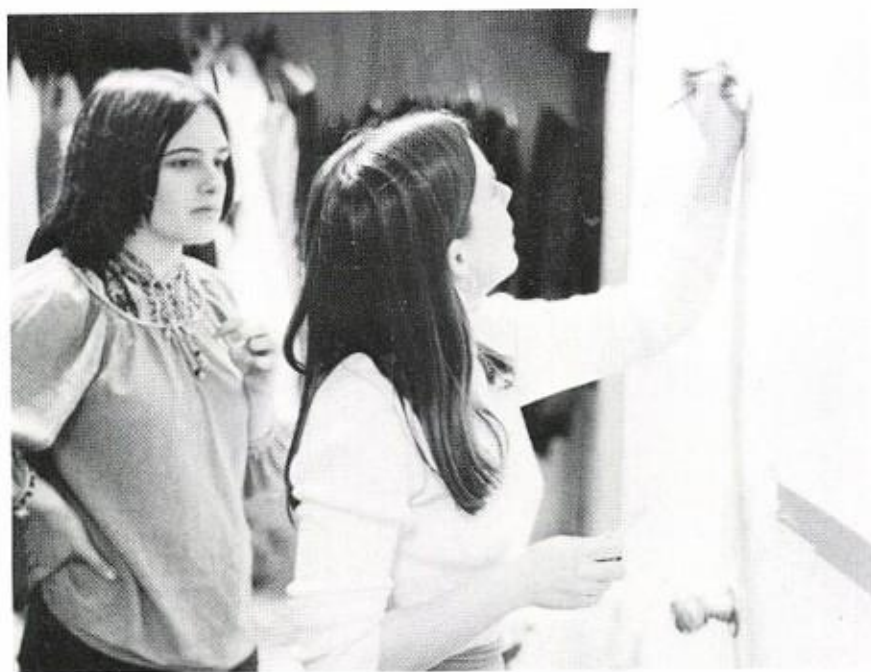

The Sadie Hawkins dance was held Nov. 21. "It was the most successful dance the Mar Maids have ever had," stated President Jennifer Wilson. The setting was Li'l Abner's Dogpatch, USA. To add to the atmosphere the Mar Maids sold daisies prior to the dance. The music was provided by Disco-ro-Go.

Relaxing dreamily in the arms of a beau is Mandy Senseney.

"Did you have an affair with him?" demands Charles, as the truth finally dawns on him.

Director Ms. Monteverde plans the schedule with help from sophomore Eve Fieldhouse.

To convince Madame Arcati she's really there, the ghost, Elvira, blows in her ear.

Trying to hypnotize a terrified Edith is Madame Arcati, as Charles watches skeptically.

"Blithe Spirit" Cast. standing: Edith, Colleen Kellay, Dr. Bradman, George Finnelly; Mrs. Bradman, Celeste Loflin; Charles Condomine, Chris Jarvis; Elvira, Lauren Wenzel. seated: Madame Arcati, Kim Cherry; Ruth Condomine, Pam Ash.

Fall Production Of "Blithe Spirit" Features Sly Ghost

"It was great! We had so much fun. I think we all really worked together well." -senior Pam Ash

"The actors did a wonderful job." -sophomore Kim Henry

"The first act put me to sleep, but I thought the second act was good." -junior Steve Grohal

"Blithe Spirit was extraordinary, a great way to start the season." -senior Chris Jarvis

"I felt as foolish as I looked, but it was fun." -senior Kim Cherry

"It was fun and worth the work." -sophomore Celeste Loflin

"The acting was generally good quality but the play itself wasn't any good." -junior Curtis Plunk

"Noel Coward had too many double brandies when he wrote it." -senior Lauren Wenzel

"I taught my sister everything she knows." -freshman Mark Wenzel

"The play was a blast!" -sophomore George Finnelly

"It was a very difficult play and I thought they put on a very professional performance." -Director Gay Monteverde

"Blithe Spirit" is the story of a British author, Charles Condomine, who invites a medium over to get material for a book. The ghost of his dead wife, Elvira, is called back. The rest of the play tells of his problems trying to get rid of Elvira and convince his present wife, Ruth, of his sanity. Elvira's plan to kill Charles and bring him to the spirit world with her is foiled when Ruth is killed by mistake. Charles is happy because he is finally free of domineering women.

"Blithe Spirit" was directed by Ms. Gay Monteverde with Rene Hunter as student director. Angie Daniels was stage manager and Eve Fieldhouse was in charge of costumes.

"My dear Ruth, I am sure I saw a ghost!" says Charles.

World Premiere Nov. 2; "Wheels" Entertains Chugiak

"Wheels was well put together. I really enjoyed it."—junior Kenny Pugh

"The whole show was very well organized—it had to be, or it wouldn't have gone as smoothly as it did."—sophomore Jimmy Wheeler

"I think they could have used a better lead male singer."—sophomore Kenny MacAlpine

"The singing was good, the acting was good, the whole show was a good musical number."—sophomore Laura Morris

"I liked all the singing and dancing, and all the different types of lighting."—seventh grader Dale Donadio

"I'm with Dale."—seventh grader Larry Fifer

"Excellent! That's what I thought of it!"—senior Joe Lochner

"Wheels" was created and written by John Carter and Mary Kay Deal, who have been writing together for thirteen years. The show's World Premiere was November 2 at Chugiak. Members of the CHS Swing Choir formed the cast and crew. The group paid for the entire production. This included the set, their costumes, and the props. The director of the show was Mrs. Kathleen Jaynes. "The whole theme centered around the discovery and evolution of the wheel," Mrs. Jaynes explained.

Mrs. Jaynes, director, gives last minute instructions.

Dreaming about his "Ten-Speed Wheels" is Swing Choir member Jack Asbury.

Silhouetted against the dancing portion of the scene, bass guitarist Drew Brosh booms out the deep rhythms.

Couple Craig Johnson and Tammy McKinley, along with Jack Asbury and Pam Ash, dance the night away together.

Senior Karen Barndt cheerfully charges admission to the International Dinner, December 22.

Showing off her latest fashion designs, Frau Florence Pearson just "clowns around a bit."

After an entertaining skit, "les jouers de France" return for an encore.

Freshman Jeff Moench succeeds in his portrayal of the class dunce.

Language Classes Entertain Diners; Enter Competition

"There were a lot of people there. It was fun to put on and organize the show."—sophomore Jim Wheeler

"I really liked the French stuff."—sophomore Jennifer Ginsburg

"The food was excellent, so I really munched down!"—freshman Jeff Moench

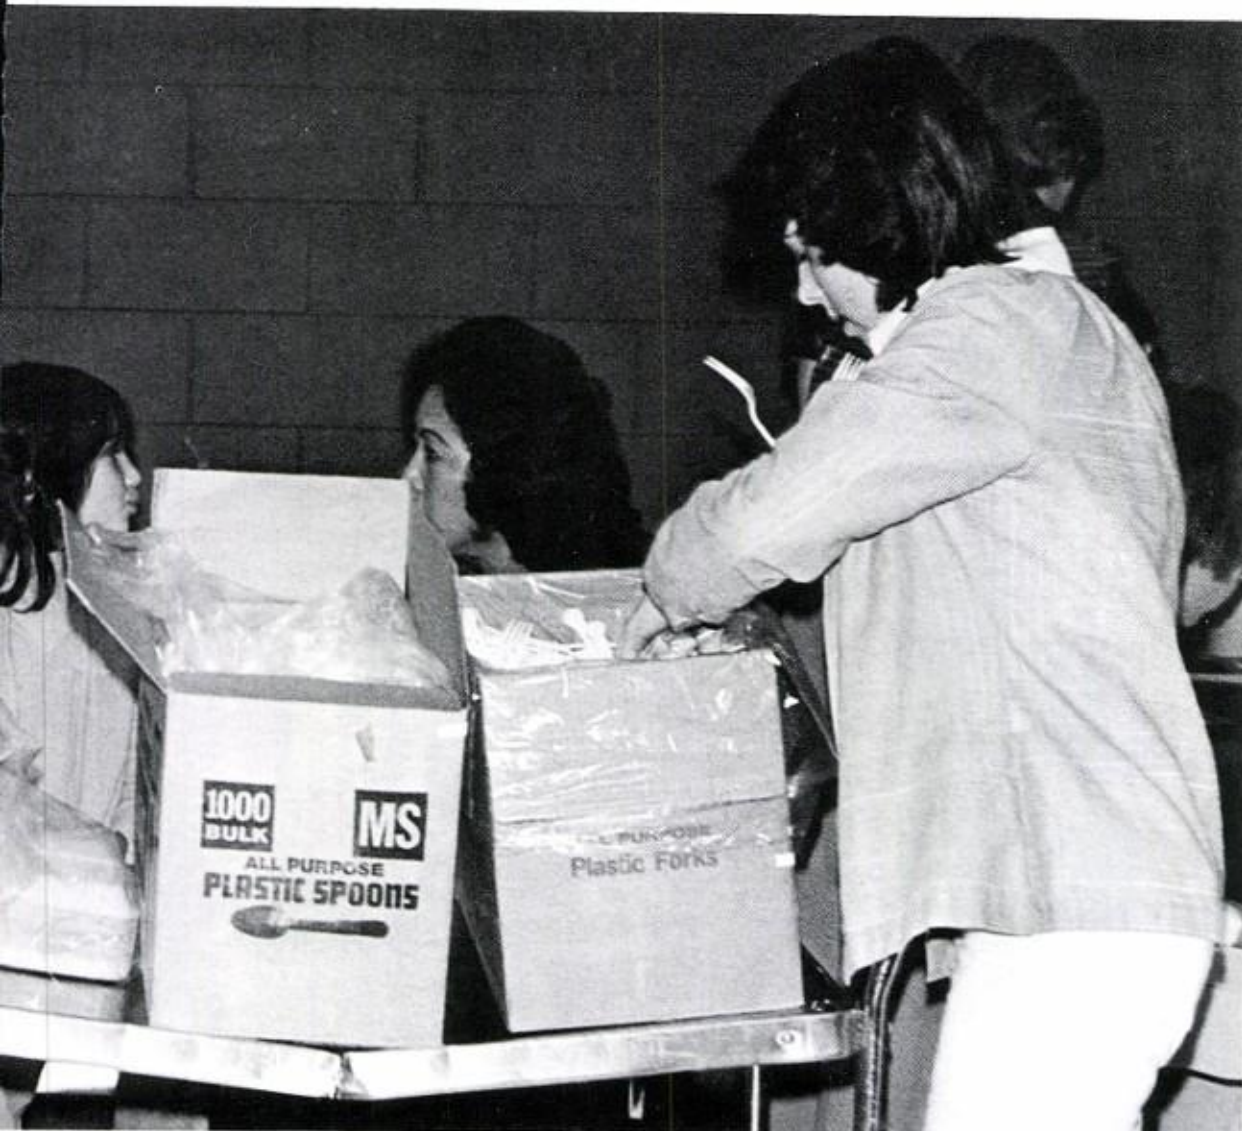

"The acting in the skits was pretty sad, if you know what I mean."—junior Shorty Arwood

"It was just so inspirational. I think I will become a movie star!"—junior Gordon Kinder

"We did a terrific job!"—sophomore Chuck Conover

The International Dinner took place on December 22. Entertainment for the dinner was provided by the foreign language classes. This included carols sung in various languages and skits performed using a Christmas theme. Diners were served food from different countries, so as to get a taste of international cuisine. According to Mrs. Florence Pearson, teacher and sponsor, "The kids put a lot of hard work and effort into the dinner to make it successful. The baked food, rehearsed lines, and made the sets for the skits. I'm proud of them."

Another activity which the French, German, and Spanish students undertook was the Declamation, held March 22. All Anchorage area schools took part in the contest, which involved the speaking of poetry in a foreign language. Contestants were judged on their content, manner of speaking, and use of gestures.

"I'll get your soup in a minute," states the waiter.

Christmas Time At CHS Brings Feasts, Festivities

"I think people really got into the spirit of things."—sophomore Susan Dunn

"We had a blast at the senior feast!"
—senior Deak Kadel

"The door decorating should have been more organized."—freshman Jenni Johnson

"I thought the doors were really cute."
—sophomore Melody Hillborn

"I thought all the Christmas time activities were nice."—sophomore Jackie Bennis

"Considering the seniors won the canned food drive, it was great!"
—senior Jeanne Wetherington

"The teachers should have helped more with the doors."—freshman Jennifer Osowski

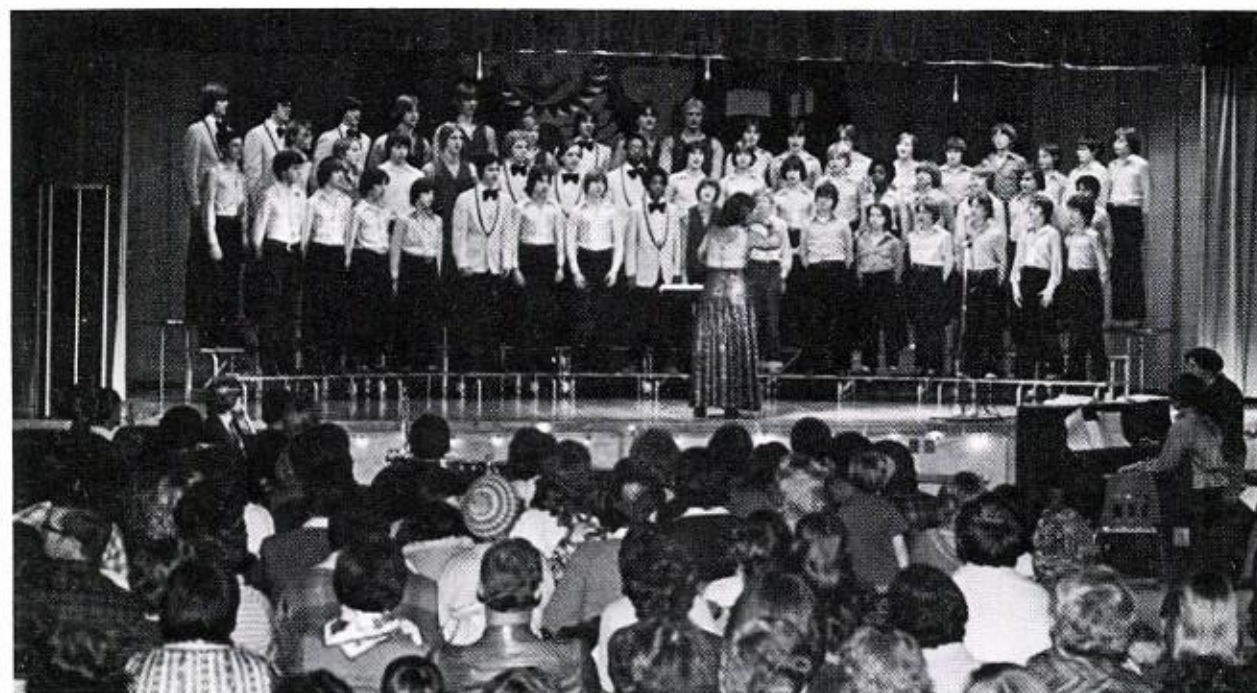

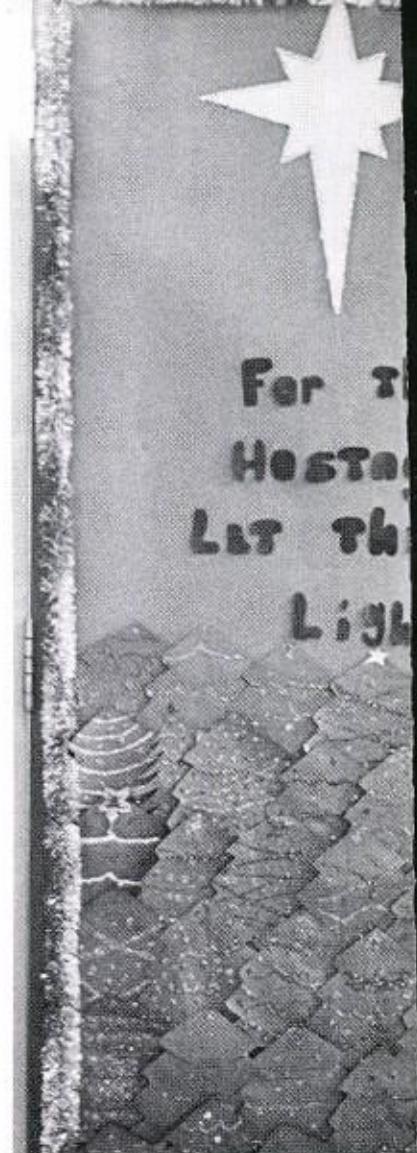

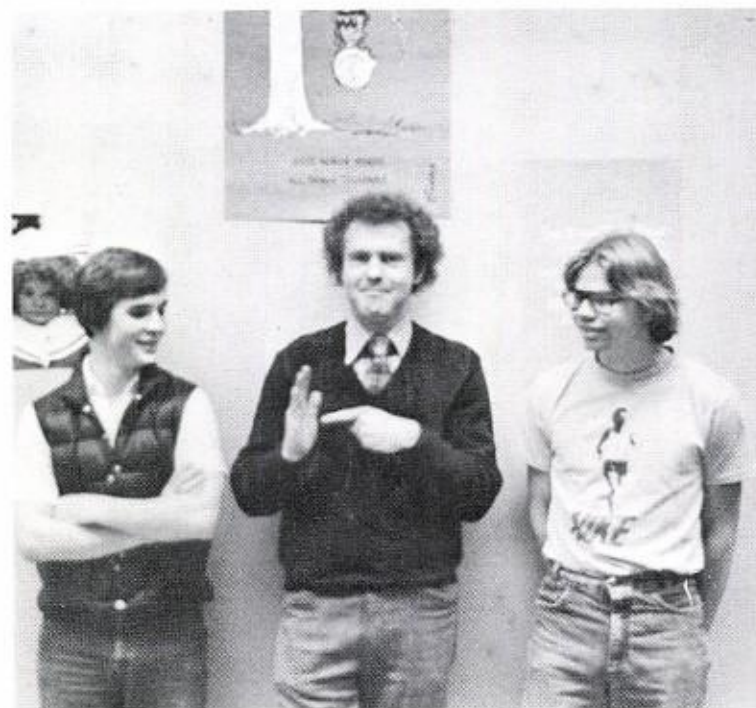

The Christmas time activities at CHS included a canned food drive, musical concerts, a door decorating contest, and the Senior feast.

The canned food drive was held Dec. 8-21, with the seniors coming in first with 425 cans. On Dec. 17, during their concert, the band and orchestra played traditional Christmas music. Junior High, Senior High, and Swing Choirs held their annual concert on Dec. 18.

The winners of the door decorating contest were announced on Friday, Dec. 21. Mrs. Dianne Parnow's seventh grade history class door came in first, Mrs. "Mac" Owen's A.P. English class door was voted most original and Mr. Leonard Oakley's Biology II class door was most scientific. The week was concluded with the seniors gorging themselves at their feast and choir members caroling throughout the halls.

Reflecting many people's thoughts about the fifty hostages held captive in the Iranian embassy during Christmas is Mrs. Dianne Parnow's prize winning door.

Honor Society sponsor Jim Taylor joins forces with chairman John Wana-maker and co-chairman Curtis Plunk to make the canned food drive successful.

The combined men's choir performs in concert.

Quarrier Rodney Jackson, Eddie Fagan, Joe Henning, and Tom Wilson sing "Nuttin' for Christmas."

Seniors Chuck Bryant, Mark Johnson, and Polly Tritt very willingly munch down at the Senior Feast.

Toasting health and good will to everybody are Jeanette Aarnink and Denise Planch.

"Merry Christmas" is the translation of the message on the junior high office door.

"I wonder if that balloon could help me reach all that honey?" ponders Pooh Bear.

"Hard work and headache."—sophomore Tori Plank

"It was not really great but it wasn't really boring."—sophomore Danny Legg

"It was a nice break from the kind of drama we've been doing."—senior Pam Ash

"We've had a lot of parents call and tell us their kids loved it. I'm glad because that was the idea."—director Gay Monteverde

Winnie-the-Pooh was the second drama production of the year. It was presented the weekend just before Christmas vacation to sell-out audiences.

The idea was to have a play for children. "Parents are still telling us how excited their kids were about meeting the animals," Ms. Monteverde stated.

There were 11 members in the musical—which ended with the cast members giving candy to the children in the audience.

Ms. Monteverde was the director of the play with Chris Jarvis as student director. Tori Plank was stage manager, Kathy Wienhold, pianist, and Gwen Baker, Linda Hammond, and Mrs. Barbara Kellay did costumes.

"It was fun but I don't see how you could dance to that kind of music."—senior Polly Trirr

"I didn't like the music very much but otherwise it was okay."—junior Jeanine Holthaus

"It was great except for the music."—junior Koral Hargan

The 1980 Winter Ball was held January 25, in the senior high cafeteria. It was sponsored by the junior class to raise money for Prom. Class President Bob Simpson said,

"It was good for the class of '81 because it raised lots of money." The cafeteria was decorated for the occasion with snowflakes and streamers. Music was provided by Charisma Enterprises.

Senior Joe Miner examines Debbie Ribelin's dance form.

"It's great to be the two best bass clarinet players in the district!"—junior Jen Harjehausen and sophomore Celeste Loflin

The instrumental program at Chugiak has expanded both in courses offered and in student participation. The department also obtained a new orchestra director, Mr. Nate Wilson.

By combining the junior and senior high orchestras and a few people from the symphonic band, the group balanced out for performances. These included a Christmas concert, spring concert, and the massed festival held in Anchorage. Formerly teaching at Dimond, East, and Service, Mr. Wilson claims the CHS orchestra to be the easiest and best student group to work with. "The kids are sincere, hard-working, and equally talented."

After a two and one-half year break, the Jazz Ensemble was restored to the curriculum. The group held concerts, performed at the jazz festival, and sent several musicians to the Solo/Ensemble festival.

As the smallest in the district, Chugiak's Symphonic Band is going strong with forty-two members. Hoping to go on tour next year, the band raised money through concerts, including an all-new "pop concert"; sold hats, banners, and T-shirts; had a pie sale; and delivered packets for an advertising company. A number of the musicians also took part in Solo/Ensemble Festival, State Honor Band, and Anchorage Youth Symphony.

Playing the bass clarinet are Kim Henry, Celeste Loflin, and Jen Harjehausen.

This year the junior high Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Darrel Daley, had a total of 20 members, the majority of them eighth graders. They performed at three concerts: the Christmas Concert, December 17; the Spring Concert, held April 17; and the Chugiak Area Band Festival in April where they were one of six bands to perform. They traveled to the Pioneers' Home at Christmastime. Many of the younger band members played at Graduation along with the two senior high bands.

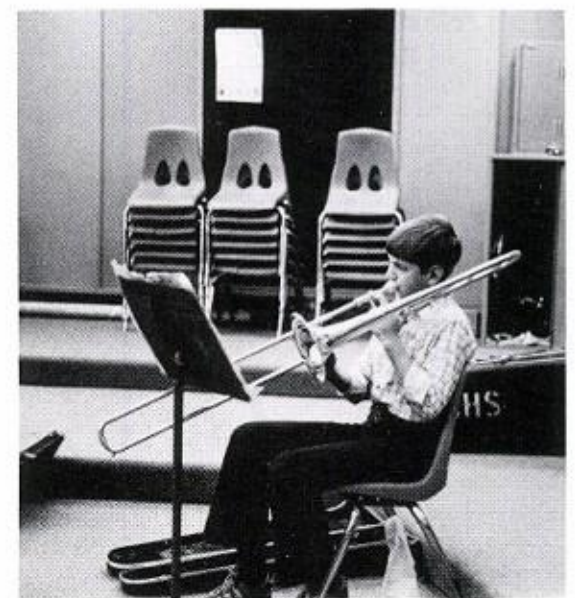

The officers, who were elected at the beginning of the school year, were Monique Berry, president and Ann McDonald, vice-president/secretary/treasurer. Keith Harjehausen and Bryan Brown acted as librarians. Voted the most outstanding musician was Berin Stephens, and Keith Harjehausen was chosen as the most improved.

Chamber Choir Holds Concerts, Goes To Festival

"Mrs. Jaynes is a fantastic teacher. I have enjoyed myself."—junior Sandy Coelho

"Choir was sane until Tom Lochner got into it."—senior Richard Sanders

"Mrs. Jaynes really knows her stuff and the class is great, so great that I'm taking it next year."—junior Stephanie Tarum

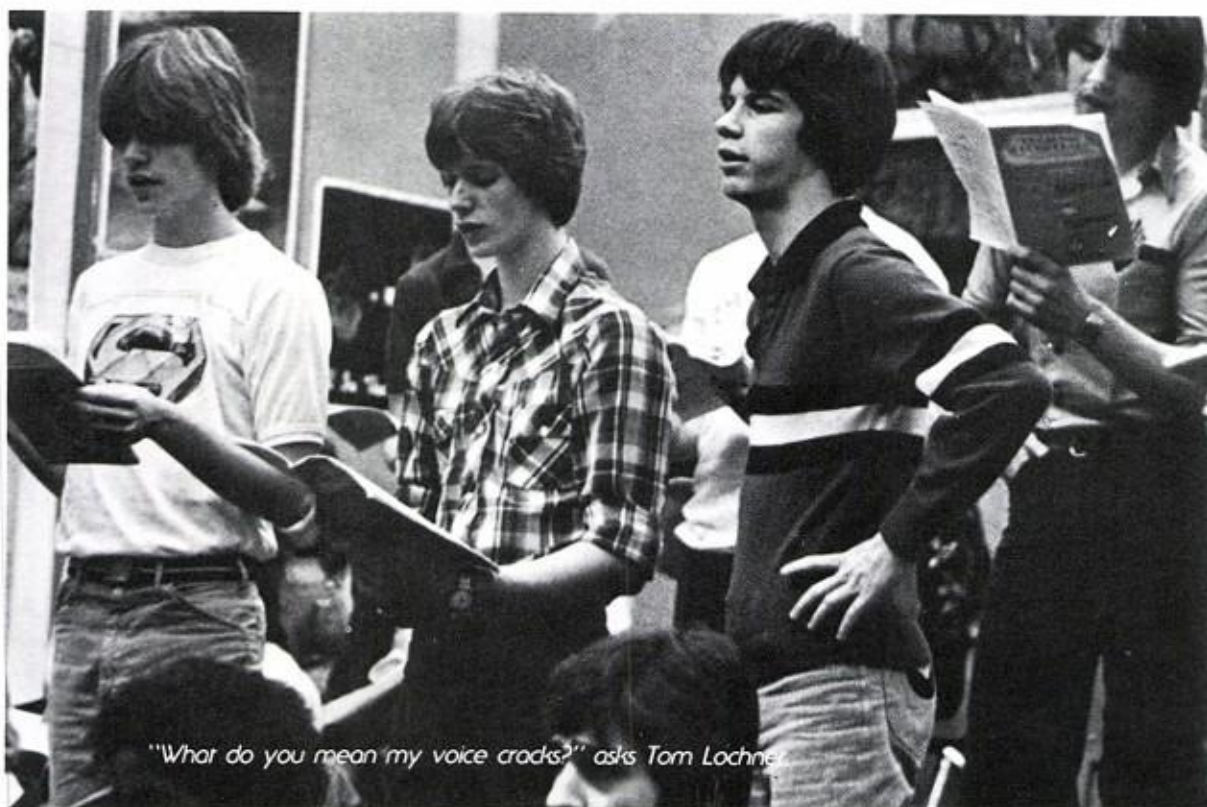

"The only good part about the class was the rowdy times me, Richie, Tim, Keith, Keith, Earle, John, Zane, Rusty, and Craig gave Mrs. Jaynes. Also the time we just wasted for the 'ell of it."—freshman Tom Lochner

This year the Chugiak Chamber Choir consisted of approximately 54 members. They practiced long hours, trying to perfect their routines.

Director Mrs. Kathleen Jaynes produced many concerts during the year, including the Fall Fling in October, the Winter Holiday Concert in December, the District Large Group Festival in April, and the Spring Concert in May. Members also entered the Solo/Ensemble Festival and the entire choir participated in the Mass Choir Festival in May.

To provide needed funds, the choir held numerous money-making projects, including the selling of candy bars throughout the year, and carnations for special occasions.

Choir officers were as follows: Merryhelen Cromwell, president; Shelley Draeger, vice-president; and Kim Davis, treasurer. Also a great help to the choir were costume chairpersons Jan Hartzler, Lisa Smith, and Liz Putnam.

"What do you mean my voice cracks?" asks Tom Lochner.

'Wheels' Program Is A Success For Swing Choir

"This year Swing Choir was a time of learning, living, and laughing. The friends I made and the memories I have will never be forgotten. It was great; it was an experience! Wheels all the way!!—junior Shawn Rhodes

"The one off the wall is Deak, the one for the poses is Henning, and the bearded one is me!"—senior Neil Bjornstad

"There's a lot of responsibility involved. I think a lot of us have grown from it."—senior Merryhelen Cromwell.

"It's fun but a lot of hard work. We were like one big family; that's why it was so much fun."—senior Shelley Draeger

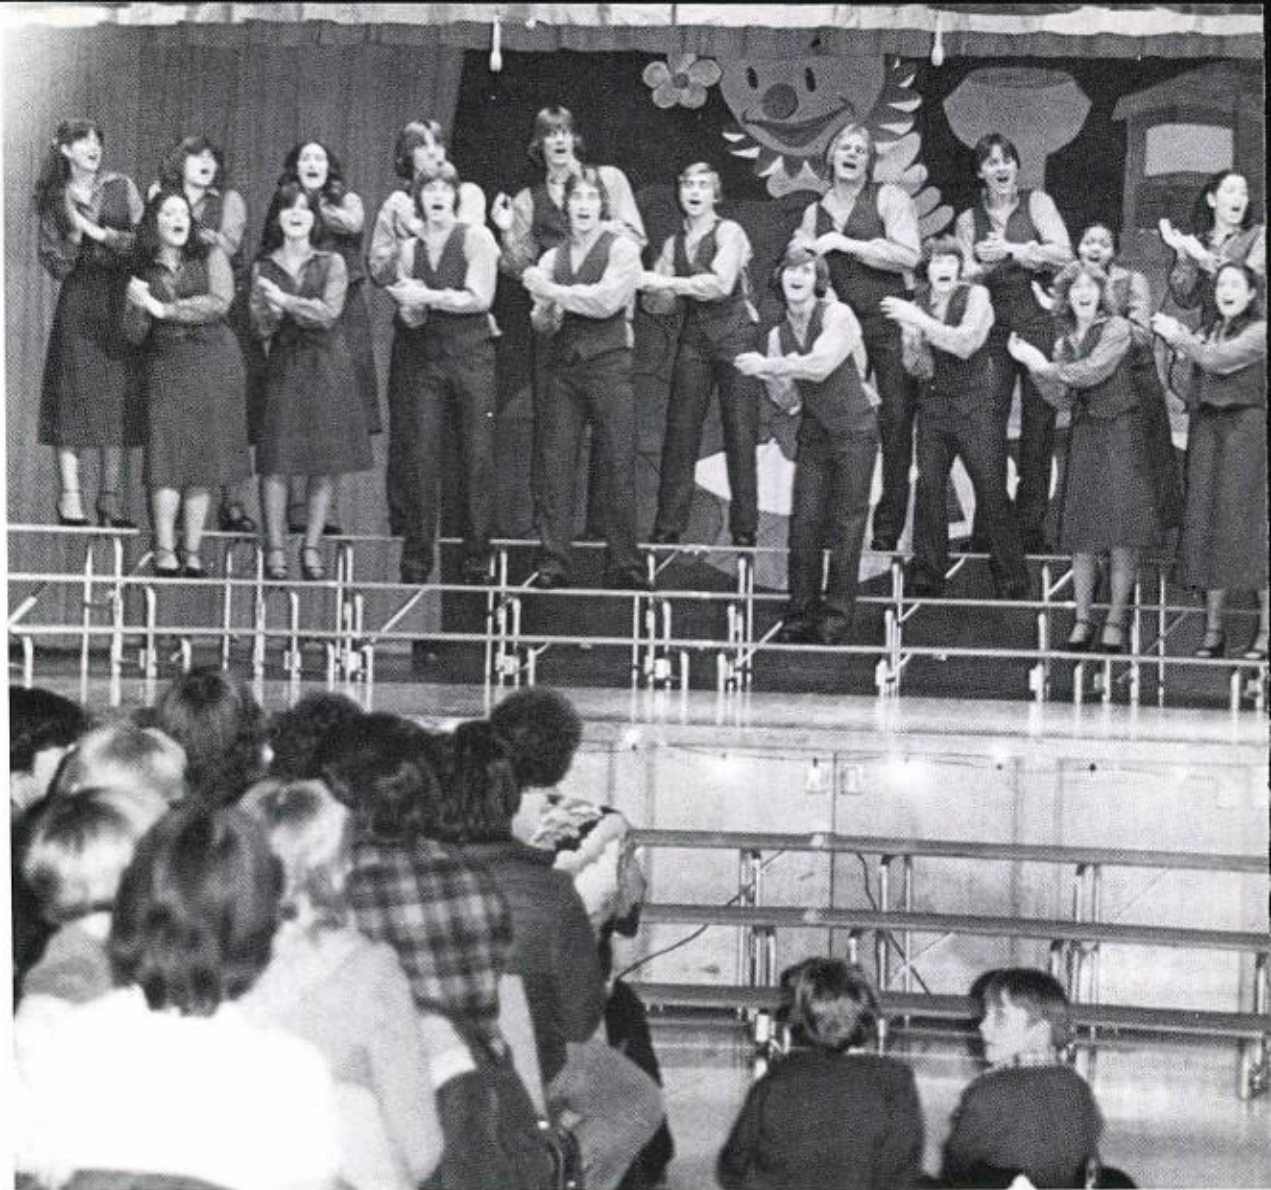

"It's been a great experience to be involved with such a close group."—senior Colleen Holland

"I really enjoyed being a part of it. It was free lance and we could kind of do what we wanted but we still worked to put on good successful programs. I think Mrs. Jaynes was an inspiration to the group; I want to thank her for all her help."—senior Jed Henning

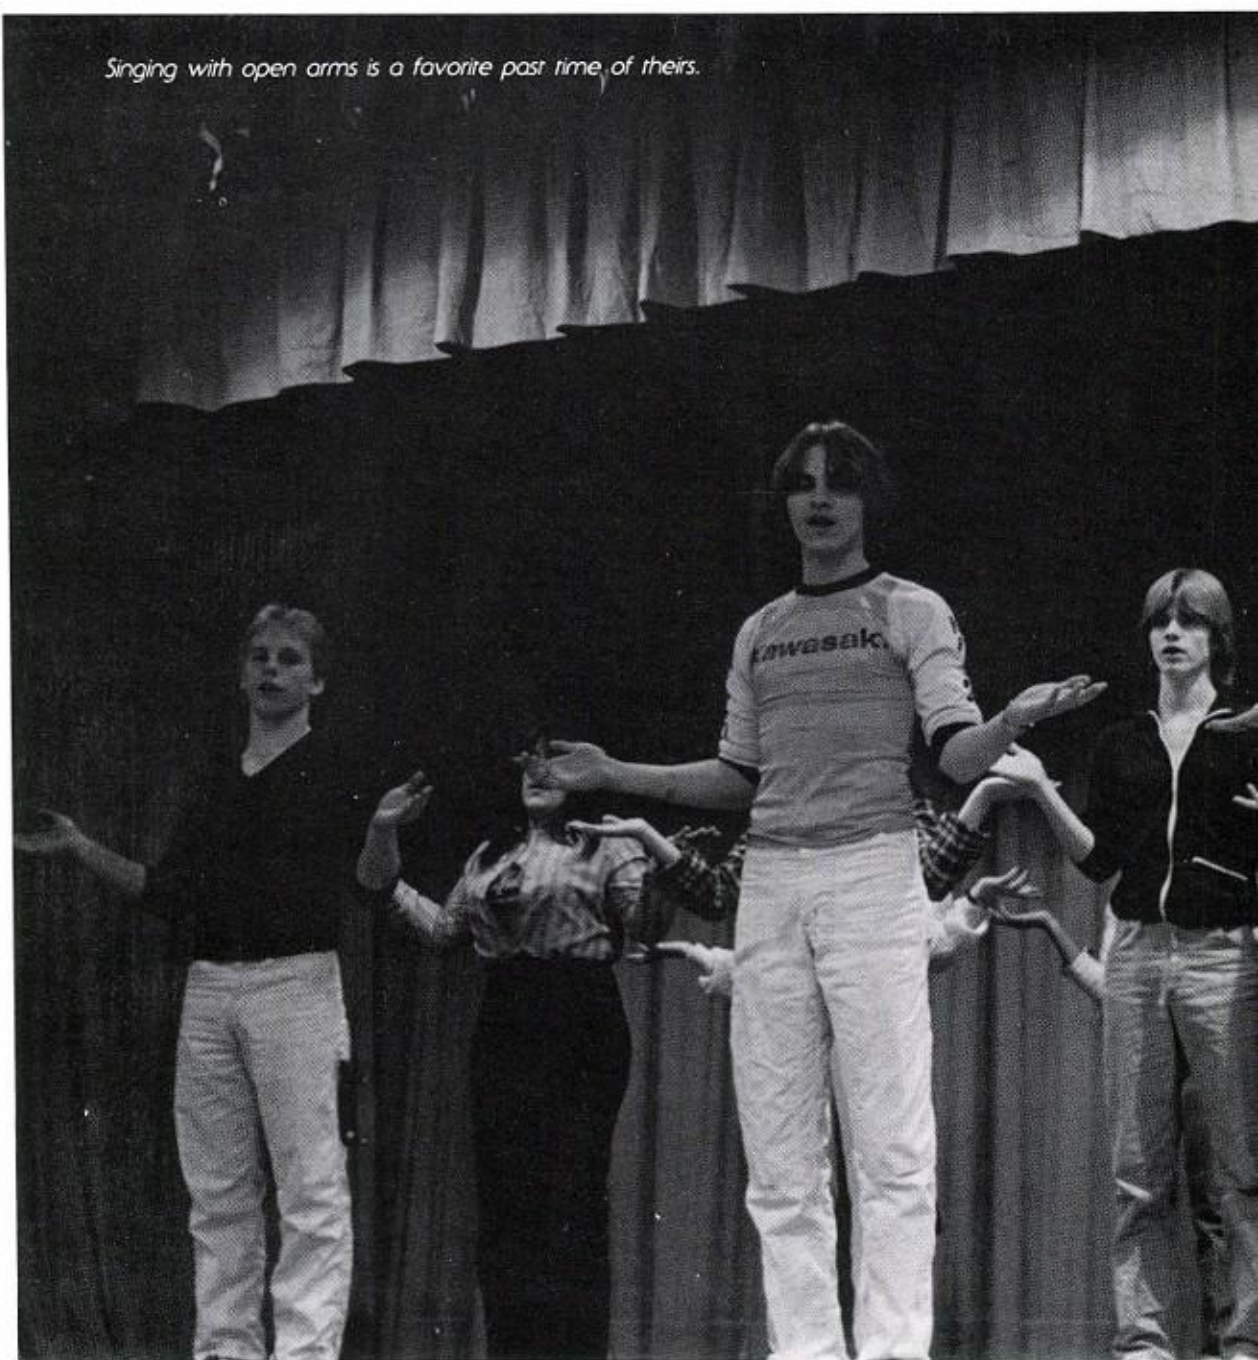

"We learned to make sacrifices and we learned to compromise and we learned 150 different ways to make Mrs. Jaynes hyper!"—junior Keith Davis

This year was a busy year for Swing Choir. Their first performance was "Wheels" on November 2. The show ran three nights and became so popular that it was shown during school hours, on November 5 and 6, for all the seventh through twelfth graders. They also performed for all the elementary schools. Throughout the year the group sold flowers for every holiday and had three car washes. The money was needed so the group could take "Wheels" on tour all over the state. The tour ran from May 7 through the 10.

"Wheels" was Swing Choir's biggest project but they also participated in the Christmas Concert on December 18. Swing Choir competed in the District Solo Ensemble on February 1 and received a superior. April 9 was the Swing Choir Festival which was held at Dimond. On May 15 they presented their Spring Concert. Also in May they sang at the Senior Citizens' Center in Chugiak.

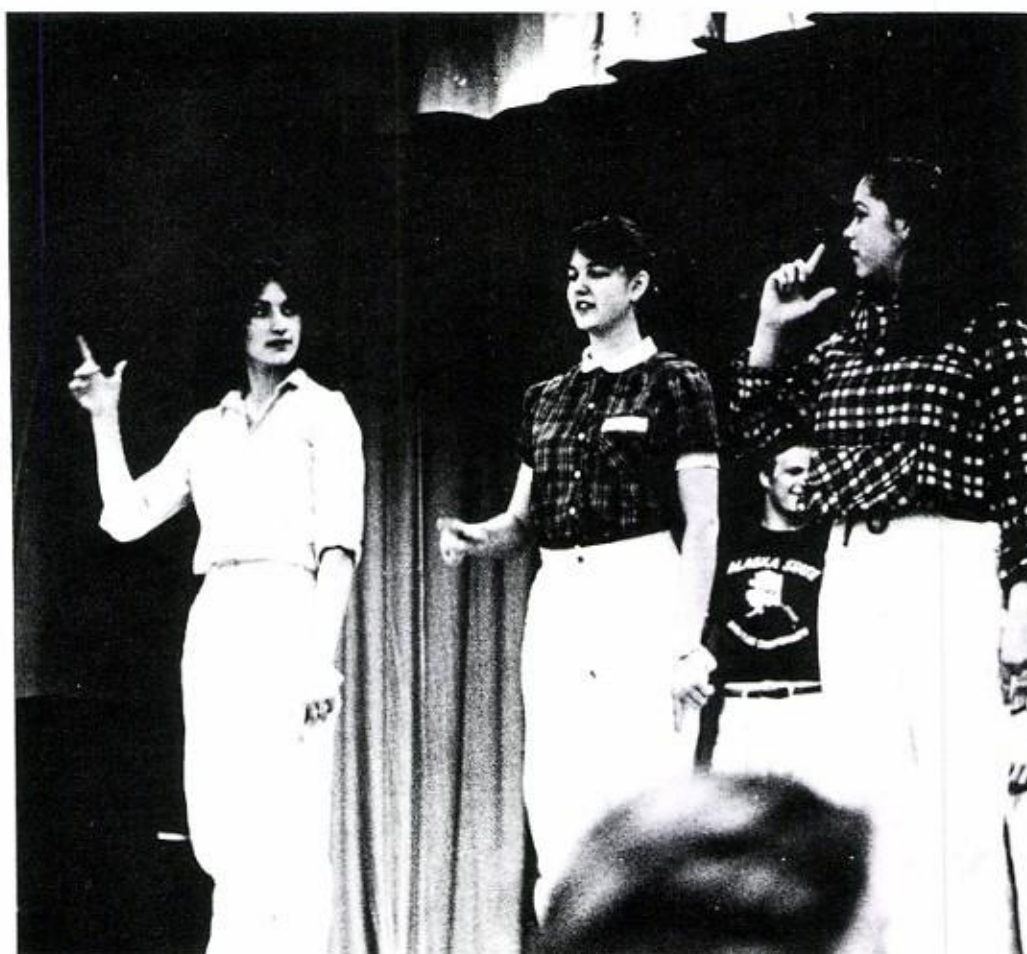

Singing with open arms is a favorite past time of theirs.

"Choir is ok, I guess. At least it's better than band."—seventh grader Eleanor Lochner

Both the seventh and eighth grade choirs had large turnouts this year. There were many returning choir members. Elected officers of the seventh grade chorus were Chris Canterbury, president; Tuck Bettin, secretary; and Lucinda Church, treasurer. The eighth grade officers were Karin Rasmussen, president; Todd Robinson, vice-president; and Kyla Kent, secretary. Shonda Harris and Mary Souve were the junior high choir's activity officers. Their year was filled with activities, including bake sales, and the selling of a variety of garden seeds to raise money. At the Junior High Choir Festival they were rated very highly among all the choirs participating. Towards the end of their active year, Mrs. Kathy Jaynes, director, and her young vocalists toured the elementary schools accompanied by the Senior High Swing Choir.

J.A. Members Complete Year With Fulfillment

"I feel JA is the best organization for students who want to learn about business. It gives members the chance to see and run a small business. They are responsible for the entire company, including its losses, gains, and sometimes bankruptcy if it's not managed wisely."—Steve Child

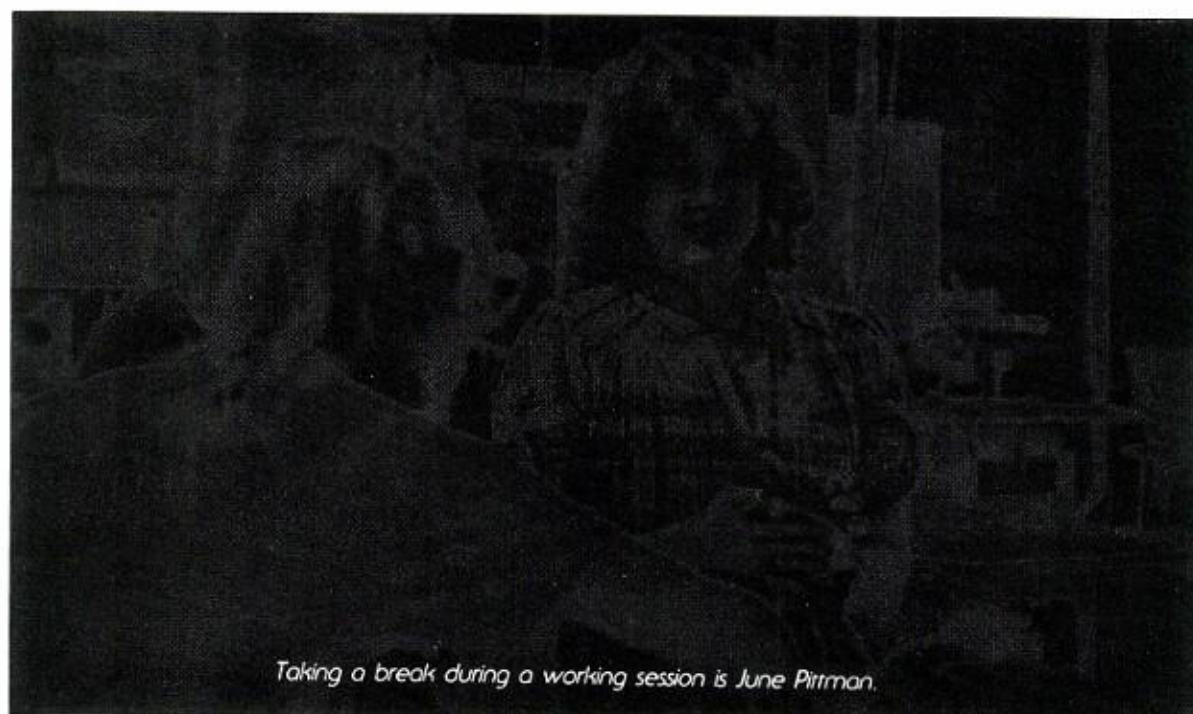

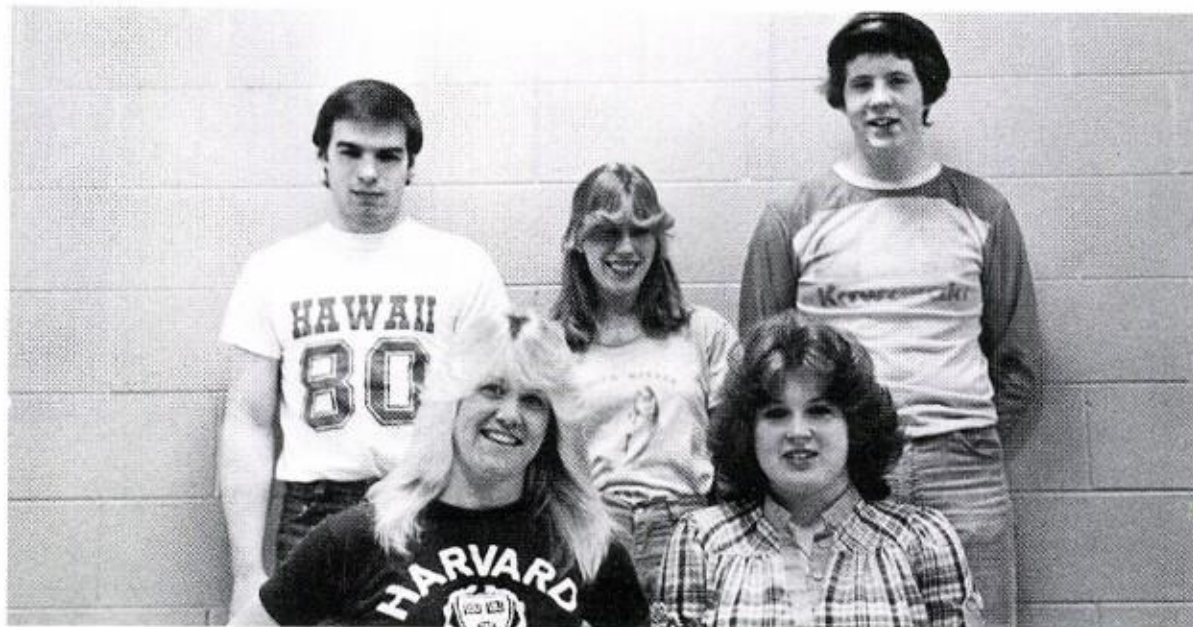

"I like it, you get an extra half credit! It's a lot of fun!"—Brian Cain

"This is good experience in how to be responsible and have fun. We're kind of unorganized, but we're still growing. Employers look favorably upon members, so . . . join up!"—June Pittman

"Learning the business by doing the business . . . that's what it's all about."—Scott Maslowski.

This was Chugiak High School's second year for National Junior Achievement. The club was sponsored again this year by the Kiwanis Club of Eagle River. "The purpose of the club is to make young people realize the factors involved in running a business," states second-year President Susie Sprague. The club sold Alaska Walnut Plaques and desk sets. They made good profits, but six dozen products were stolen from the woodshop area and the business slowed down.

The club's name is CHIC, which stands for Chugiak High Industrial Company. It consisted of twenty-one members including seven officers: President Susie Sprague, with the help of Adviser Jake Crisafulli, Vice President of Personnel- June Pittman, Vice President of Marketing- Scott Maslowski, Vice President of Manufacturing- Kent McNall, Corporate Secretary- Nancy Oseau, and Treasurer- Pam Scott.

The members of the Naval ROTC unit took part in many activities throughout the year, one of which was a four-day trip to Seattle with 15 of the ROTC members attending. While in Seattle the group visited the U.S.S. Missouri, U.S.S. Abraham Lincoln, and other attractions. Two weeks after returning, the unit took part in an inspection and district-wide drill competition. In the competition the ROTC Drill team took second behind the West team. "Better than I expected," commented drill team commander Alyson Headle.

The annual Dining-Out was held at the Officers' Club on Fort Richardson. After dinner, awards were presented to Cadets from all JROTC units in the school district. The guest speaker was State Senator W.E. "Brad" Bradley. The CHS unit received a total of 22 awards varying from Meritous Achievement awarded to Alyson Headle to the National Guard Sergeant Majors' Award given to Vernetta Green. The advisers for this year's group were Lieutenant Errol Hamann and Sergeant Ed Bradley.

"You meet a lot of new people and go on a lot of field trips."—junior Melissa Elliott, Health Occupations

Fulfilling the student's need to explore his or her aspirations and future career desires are a few goals of the Career Center. The quality of education at the center offers an opportunity to obtain good background experience and depth.

In past years Tourism has been the most sought-after class and found by students to be interesting and beneficial. Next year the center hopes to offer courses related to electronics in response to the popularity of that field.

Last year two CHS students who attended the Wildlife Management class were chosen to help clean up after forest fires. Coordinator Ken Rouse would like to see this opportunity given to more students in the future.

"I'm learning a lot and it's fun."—senior Jeanne Wetherington

"It's hard work, but I love it."—junior Andrea Morris

"It's a good way to gain experience, money, and school credit."—junior Francis Estrallilla

"There is a relationship between educational success and job success . . . work experience programs make it so,"—program director Mr. Ken Rouse.

Chugiak High students are employed in a wide variety of jobs. They are boxboys, secretaries, waitresses, and many others. Most students work in Eagle River or Anchorage. Over 75 students are enrolled in OJT (On the Job Training) and earn one credit for every semester they work. State law requires that their earnings must be recorded on a regular basis, or no credit is given. In order to be eligible for OJT, you must be a sophomore, junior, or senior. CHS has the largest number of students enrolled for the size of the school. According to Mr. Rouse, it "helps prepare the student for the working world."

The Hub Club began its 1979-80 year with the election of officers. Curtis Plunk was voted in as president, Kelly Kirk as vice-president, treasurer was Tony Debnar, and Cheryl Asher was secretary. Mr. Andy Kirk sponsored the club, as he has in years past.

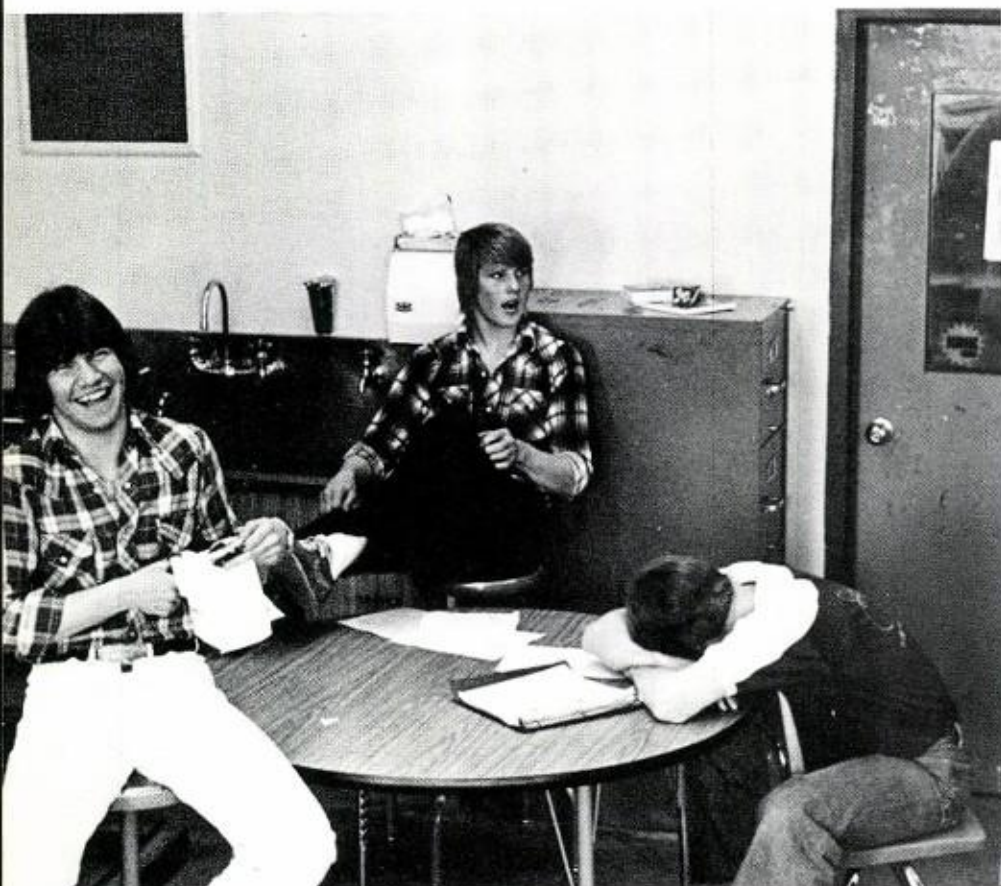

The club was involved in many activities, ranging from organization of the annual Tug-Of-War and Wacko Decathlon to sponsoring children in Africa. Other activities included designing the construction of the courtyard, and the third annual Current Affairs Quiz in the spring.

"It's my life—next to Bill, Mike, the boys, and Rufus."—adviser Judy McNall

Under the direction of editor Joe Miner and assistance of adviser Judy McNall, the 1980 Babiche staff completed the Chugiak High School yearbook "one piece at a time."

At a tedious, but enjoyable, weekend retreat at Eliassen's lake cabin in Knik, the staff decided to continue the tradition of a full-year book. Promotion of book sales was accomplished during a one-day campaign, with four assemblies featuring a slide show depicting school activities. To compliment the book, a signing supplement was passed out in May, during the Gruening Awards Assembly.

The long hours, the hard work, and lots of fun left the staff totally "puzzled."

"I think they are a good trying group and I hope they keep working and trying cause they are our future yearbook staff."—co-editor Christina Foster

"They did great work."—adviser Judy McNall

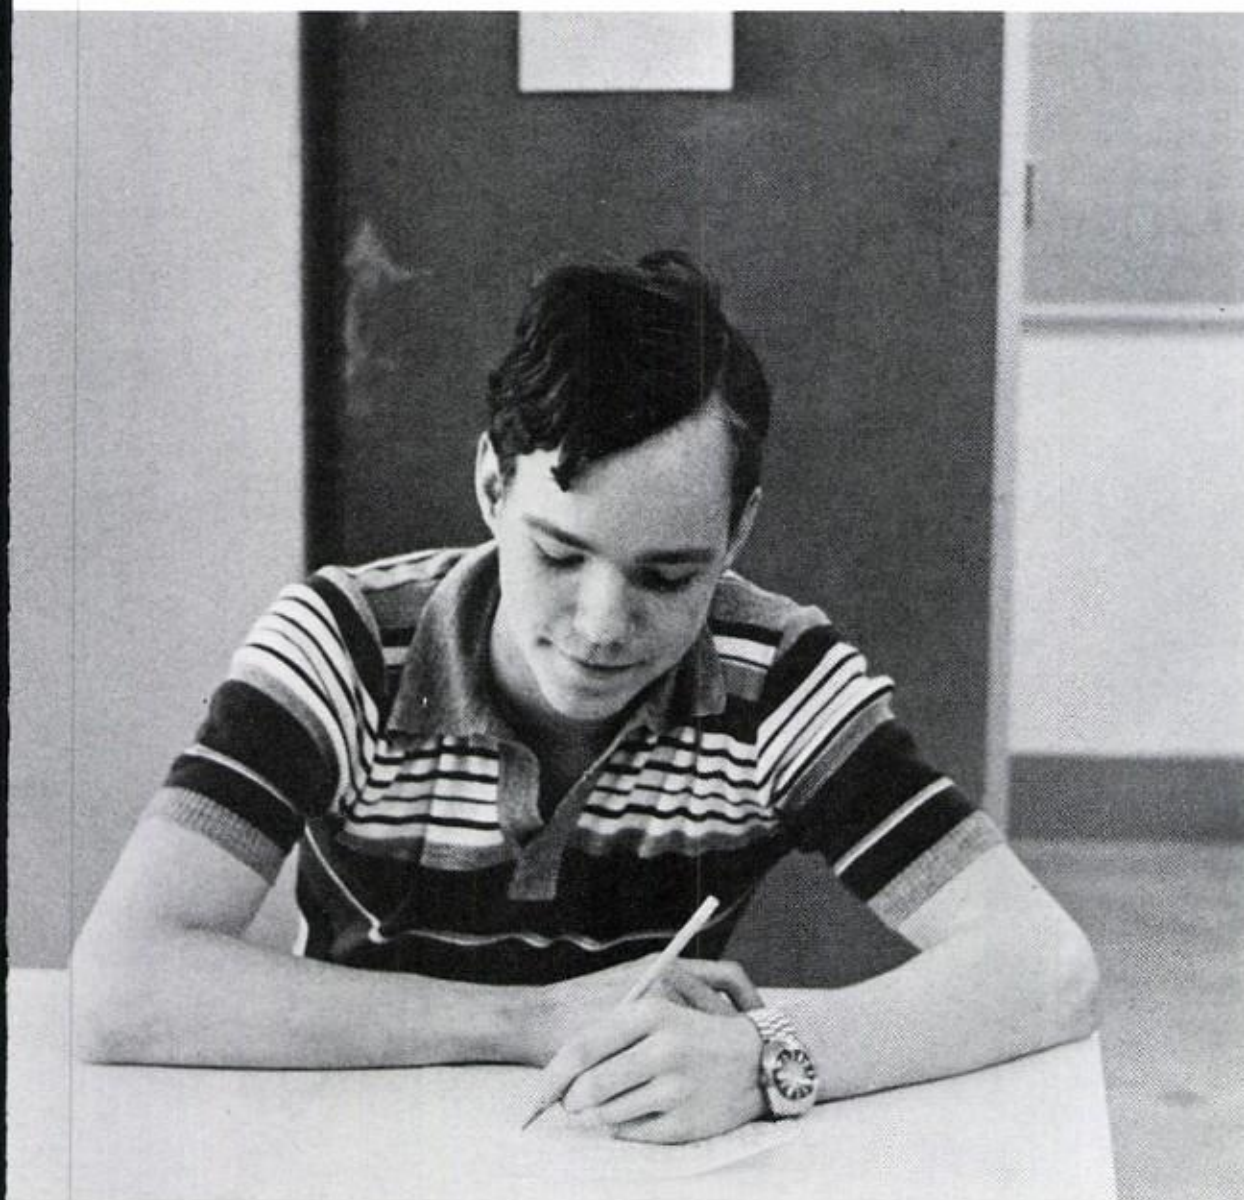

The Junior High Yearbook Staff was composed of three eighth graders, who at the beginning of the year learned the skills of writing captions, copies, headlines, cutting pictures, and yelling at photographers, and became accustomed to how yearbook works. Chosen were Lee Barber, Chuck Bruner and Stephanie Wilson. To become a yearbook member, the three had to write an essay on why they wanted to be in yearbook, and have an interview with the adviser Judy McNall and co-editors Mark Wenzel and Christina Foster. The staff was responsible for covering all junior high activities, sports, and academics.

The Chugiak Literary Club is an organization of students under the direction of Mrs. Susan Thrasher. The group who had problems getting off the ground last year organized themselves to reach their goal of having their book published. The book consists of student poems, stories, photographs, drawings, and a play. The editor of the book, entitled "Beyond the Carrousel," was junior Rob Sauve. The staff varied throughout the year, but the two members who stuck it through to the end were senior Lauri King and freshman Larry Sudder.

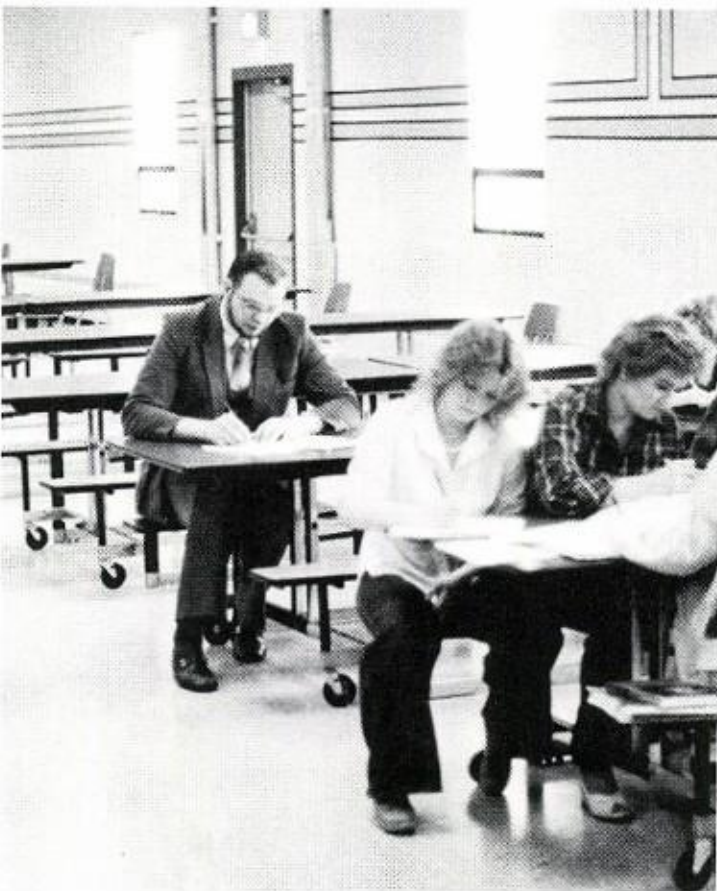

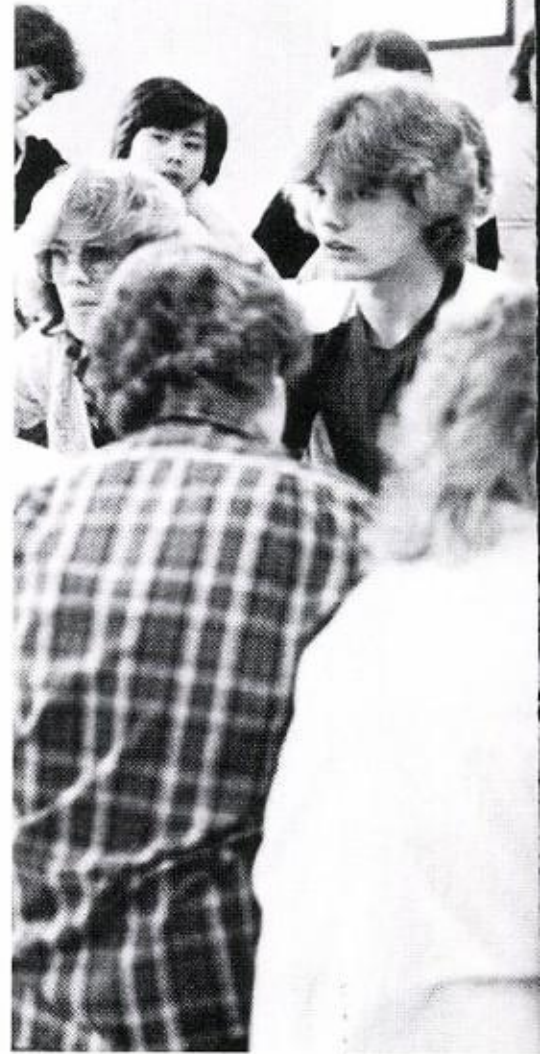

Adviser for two years in a row was Mrs. Thrasher.

"Student Government is one of the most powerful learning devices in the educational system."—teacher Rob Boyer

The year of 1979-'80 began with Student Faculty Congress helping out during the district-wide teachers' strike. As the year progressed, it became apparent that this student body government was out to make things happen. SFC organized and ran the Fall Carnival, making a new profit of $700. They attended a leadership conference at East High and did a lot of work in order for football games to happen on our newly-opened home field. Two jobs that were finish-ups from last year were the mirrors in the boys' locker room and the fight song on the gym wall. On Valentines Day each teacher was given their very own Valentine, and beginning in January a "Teacher of the Month" program was inaugurated, with a deserving teacher awarded recognition each month.

"Honor Society is an organization that helps to encourage good grade point averages and community and school involvement. It's a good opportunity to receive recognition for service." —president Diana Dial

Getting involved in the community and school is one of the objectives of the National Honor Society. One of the main activities included the Annual Canned Food Drive. Over 800 cans were brought in with a large number of those coming from a band concert where admission was a can. The group also sold pens and pencils, ushered at band and choir concerts, timed debates, had a booth at the SFC carnival, and sold pins and tickets for the Miss Chugiak-Eagle River Pageant.

Induction was held April 11 in the library with 16 new members being inducted. Prospective members were judged in the areas of scholarship, service, citizenship, character, leadership, and academics. This year freshmen who qualified were allowed admittance, changing an old policy.

Honor Society was sponsored by Mr.
Jim Taylor. When asked about the club
Mr. Taylor said, "Everything they've done has gone smoothly. Those in it are displaying leadership as they should; they are performing as I expected."

Junior Maren Loflin provides the light for the induction.

This year the Junior High Honor Society inducted 35 seventh graders and 11 eighth graders. To be in the Honor Society a student must hold a 3.5 grade point average for a semester and be evaluated by their class members and faculty. They must show leadership, citizenship, character, responsibility, and service. The Honor Society sponsor was Mrs. Susan Thrasher. Said to be most active in the group was eighth grader Todd Robinson. The purpose of the Honor Society is to recognize outstanding students.

This year's Junior High Student Council adviser was Mrs. Susan Hietkamp. She led the 20 students through an active year. Organizing a carnival last fall and setting up junior high dances were some of their main accomplishments. The president was Jon Dietrich, secretary was Tina Kostlin, and treasurer was Detra Scott. In order to get into Student Council, junior high students had to be elected in their homeroom classes. According to Mrs. Hietkamp, the purpose of Student Council is to keep the students informed about what is happening in the school; also it is a place for students to express their opinions.

Cheerleading tryouts were held in November and those twenty six chosen girls supported CHS athletes throughout the year.

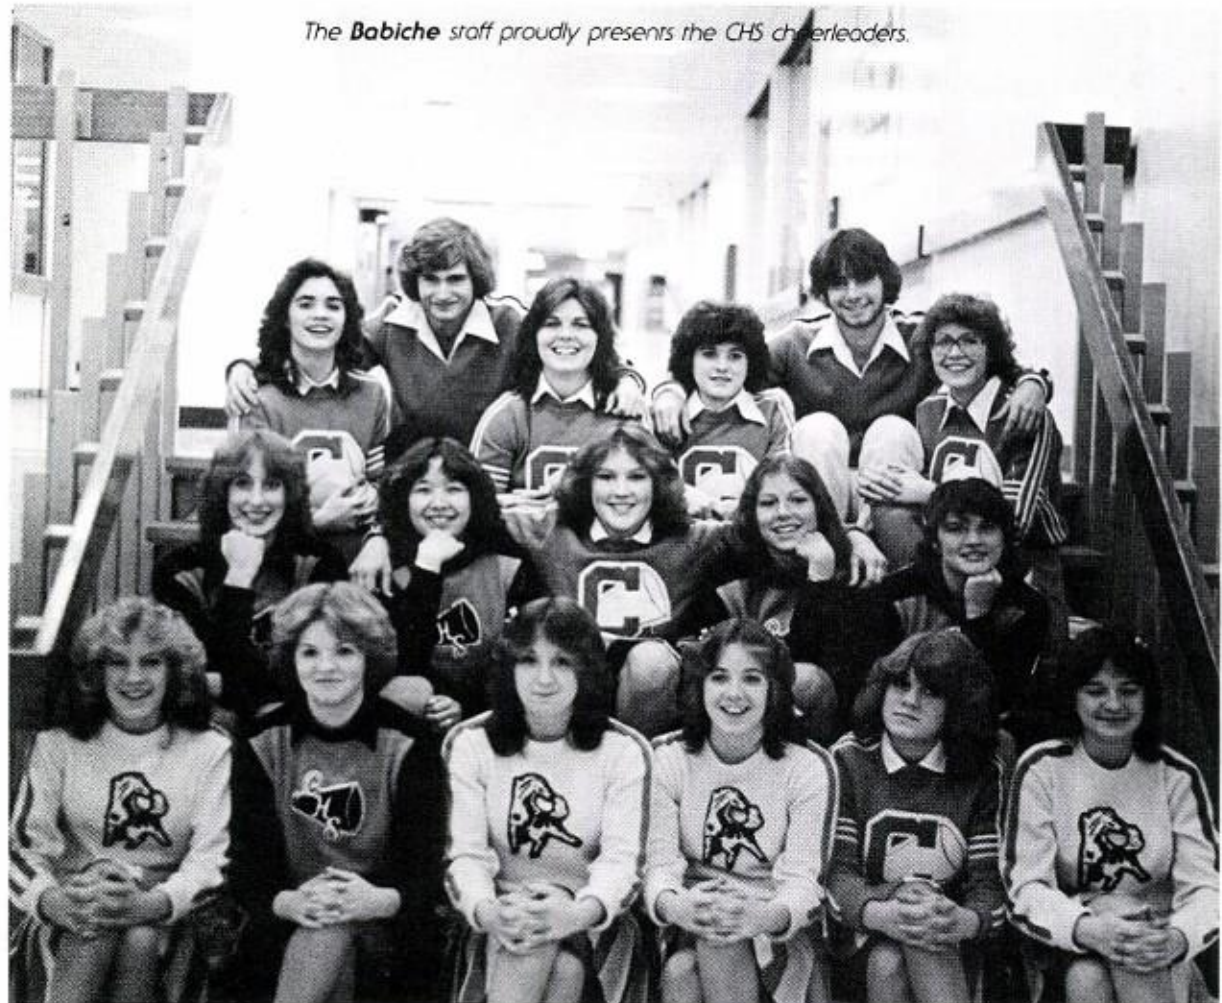

Mrs. "Mac" Owen sponsored the football squad during their season which ran from August to September; and the boys' basketball squad, who cheered the boys on to the state tournament in Sitka.

The hockey girls were a great group to work with, according to their adviser, Mrs. Anne Willis. They helped the team to three wins during their November to March season.

Most of the girls were new to wrestling cheerleading, and their adviser, Mrs. Carolyn Williams, felt they did a very good job in supporting the wrestlers from January to the state competition in April.

"Girls, quit fighting and get out there and start practicing! No, we cannot have popcorn today!"—Mrs. Una Kernodle, sponsor

"We weren't the best, but we weren't the worst."—eighth grader Mary Sauve

Tryouts for the junior high cheerleading squads were held October 29, with 25 girls competing for the 12 positions. Nine eighth graders and three seventh graders were chosen after being judged on their jumps, cheers, and personality. Three cheerleaders dropped out for various reasons during the season.

The girls brought out the spirit in the crowds at wrestling matches, pep assemblies, and hockey and basketball games. They traveled to Fairbanks with the junior high wrestling team, cheering them on in the invitational tournament.

Showing how friendly they really are, Mrs. Kernodle poses with a few of her favorite cheerleaders.

"I think they should give everyone in the school a cake!"—senior Keith Reed

"Where in the heck were you when the swimmers were winning?"—senior Joe Lochner

"Pep Club is the heart of the school spirit where excitement and enthusiasm is born."—senior Pam Scott

"It was a busy year," commented Mrs. Mae Owen, adviser. An energetic group of Pep Club members worked to make this a fun and active year. They were busy selling tickers at the games, organizing pep assemblies and other activities. Again members were secret pals for hockey, football and basketball team members. The pals would fill unsuspected athletes' lockers with goodies. They also kept busy by decorating for the football banquet in October and the basketball banquet in March.

C-Club Members Regain Purpose; Drive for Success

"It took quite a bit to get out of last year's slump, but... we made it successful!" —senior Jeanne Wertherington

"Where was everybody at 5:30?" —junior Jennifer Wilson

"Where are Sharon, Polly, and Jeanne? I always sell!" —senior Joe Lochner.

"It's a nice place to munch down at!" —junior Bob Simpson

"You can't always get what you want." —junior Gordon Kinder

"I am privileged to be with such a group of people." —senior Steve Haynes

"You left me ALONE in there!" —senior Sharon Lee

"We have the potential to really grow as a club, promote all forms of athletics, and have fun with the great students we have working for us." —sponsor Larry Henry

Through the hard work of the present members, C-Club is slowly regaining its strength and lost purpose. The club, knowing that coming out of last year's slump was going to be difficult, pulled together to achieve this goal.

With the help of sponsor Larry Henry, C-Club initiated new members, rewrote the constitution, bought club T-shirts, sponsored a dance, and "made the bucks."

"The small club is still in its first phase—still trying to get off the ground," stated Mr. Henry. He described the members as "a great group of kids heading the club in a good direction."

"The club ain't what it used to be."—junior Don Homan

"It's a lot of fun! I'm never going to be vice president again!"—junior Meg Penisten

"We are encouraged by the number of people who worked out last summer and hope to continue and add even more events to the year-round training program."—sponsor Mrs. Renee Henry

Emphasizing year-round fitness, Chugiak's Cross Country Club lead its members through to that goal. The club set up a training program during the summer to help members keep in shape. Those who complete an overall total of 200 miles by the end of the summer are awarded with a special T-shirt.

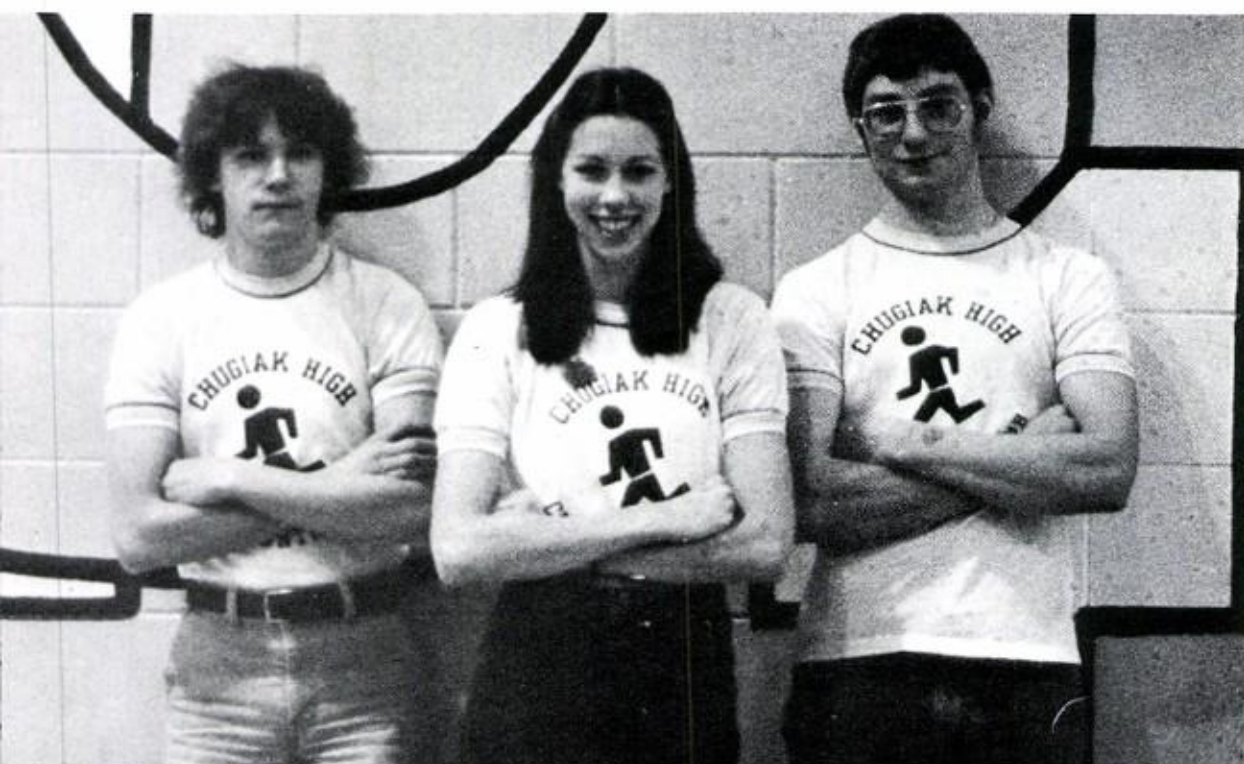

Mrs. Renee Henry took over as sponsor of the club when Mr. Andy Kirk left after first semester.

Last summer several members formed a team and competed in the 24-hour marathon held at Bartlett. "Hang Ten" took first place in their age group and second place overall.

In addition to summer training, the Cross Country Club helps run the interclass steeple-chase, one hour run, two mile walk, and the triathlon. Once a month the club gets together for an out of school activity like a picnic, party, ski trip, or soccer game.

Racing, camping, and day-time trips were only a part of Century Club this year. It was a club with a mixture of recreation and sport. There were 46 members in school and eight of those were in the "Double Century Club," a club for people who have cycled 200 miles in twenty-four hours. Some of the club's activities included a one-hour bicycle race, the triathlon, a pony express, and the 100 and 64 milers every fall and spring. At the end of every school year, the club has a week-long trip. This year they planned on going to Mr. McKinley. The club sponsors were Mr. Andy Kirk and Mr. Jon Shaw, who took over at the half-year point. Mr. Wendell Lane and Mr. Ron Smith also helped out with the club. Charlie Reynolds was the president. Terry Drake, a member of the club who graduated in 1979, was the first person in Alaska to enter the "Triple Century Club," cycling 300 miles in 24 hours.

"It was really far out, and I'd like to do it again in senior high."—eighth grader DeAnna Schaefer

"I did it 'cause of the wrestlers."—eighth grader Julie Quam

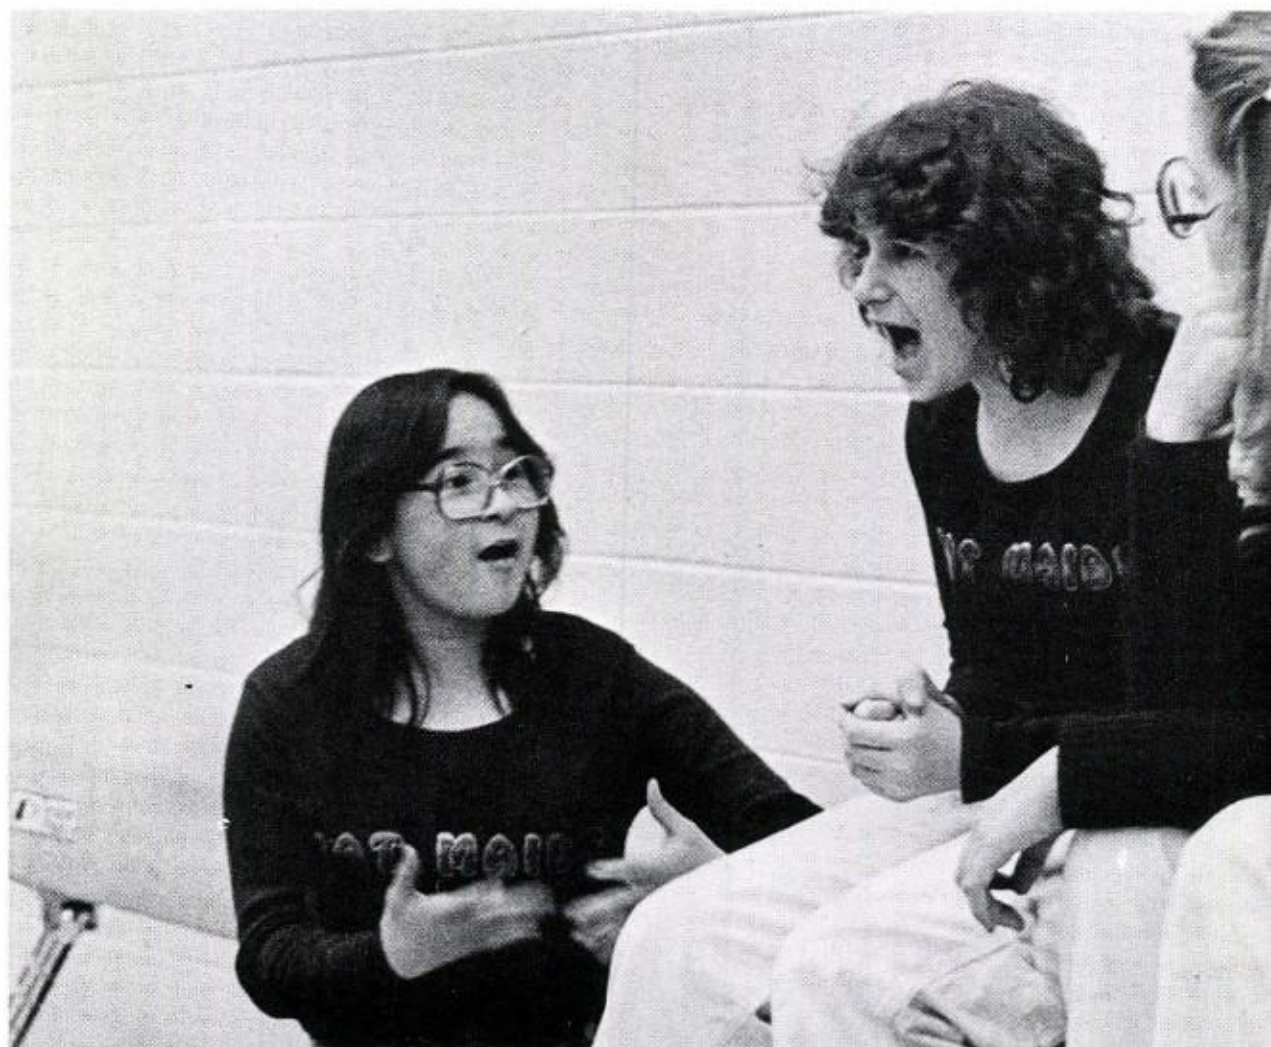

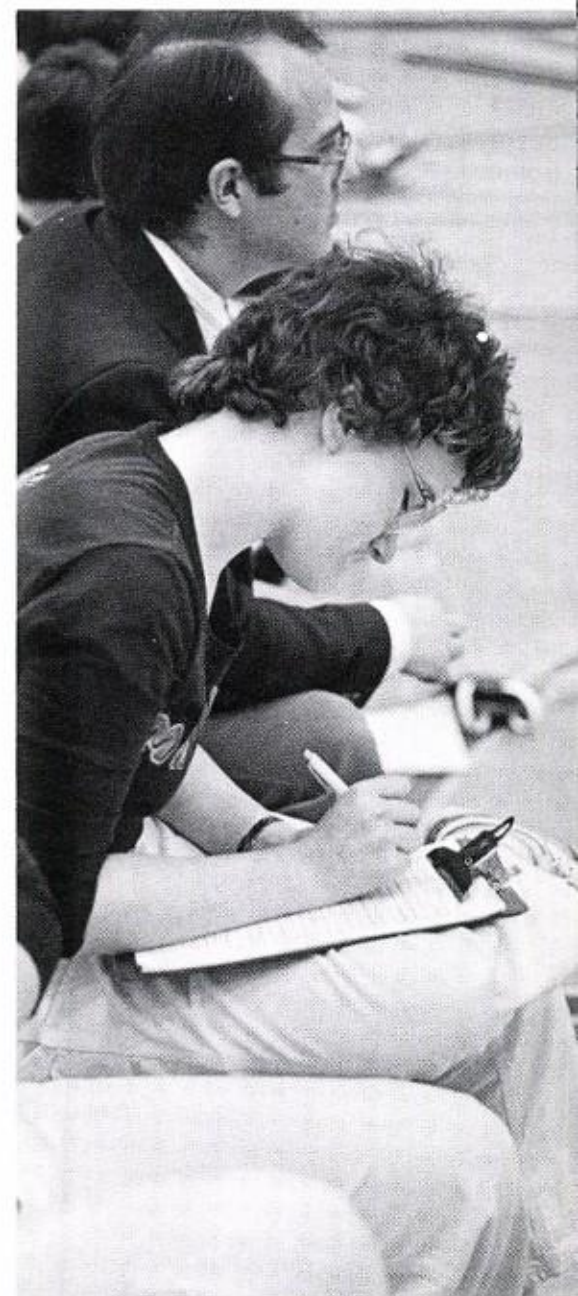

"It was O.K. but it lacked organization."—eighth grader Stephanie Wilson

The junior high Mat Maids numbered 13 participants this year. They were sponsored by Mr. Hal Phillips. They started off the year by electing officers. Elected president was eighth grader Jennifer Kisse. Other officers included, Marcie Colley, vice-president; Carol Jones, secretary; and Audra Day, treasurer. Included in their money-making activities were sponsoring the junior high Halloween Dance and selling doughnuts and raffle tickets. Their main objective was to support the wrestlers. They did this by giving them oranges during meets, keeping score, and most of all, cheering for them. According to Mr. Phillips, the hardest worker was DeAnna Schaefer and the group was more organized than last year.

"I don't think who won should have won."—senior Cathy Coelho

"It was outrageously deadly, definitely great, jammin', fun, excellent, all right, and look for us next year, 'cause WE'LL BE THERE!!"—freshmen Tom Lochner and Keith McNall

The Second Annual Talent Show, sponsored by the choir, was February 7. Choir director Kathleen Jaynes said, "It gives people other than those in the vocal music department a chance to display their talent." She also said it was held again this year because of its success last year.

First place went to freshmen Tom Lochner and Keith McNall. There was a special guest appearance by Terry Shawn.

Hub Club Helps Make A Success Of '80 Decathlon

"I though the student body showed a lot of spirit. Next year the Faculty will win." —Mr. Terry Jorgenson

"I would have liked to do the three legged race with Polly!"—senior Terry Kruger

"It was a blast!"—freshman Bill Abril

"This year's Waco-Decathlon was the best that ever went off!"—junior Curtis Plunk

"Since so many people want to participate, there should have been more events. But I think it was great anyhow!"—freshman Christina Foster

The Hub Club sponsored the Waco-Decathlon this year. According to organizer Mr. Terry Jorgenson, it was a big success. He felt that it was mainly because of the student support. Mr. Jorgenson hopes we can continue this tradition, one unique at CHS.

Curtis Plunk was the student organizer and Hub Club members helped out by judging, scoring, and providing equipment.

The athletic event took place on March 14. The events included the class pyramid; rug-of-war; three-legged piggy back and wheelbarrel races; the pie-eating contest; and the grave yard relay.

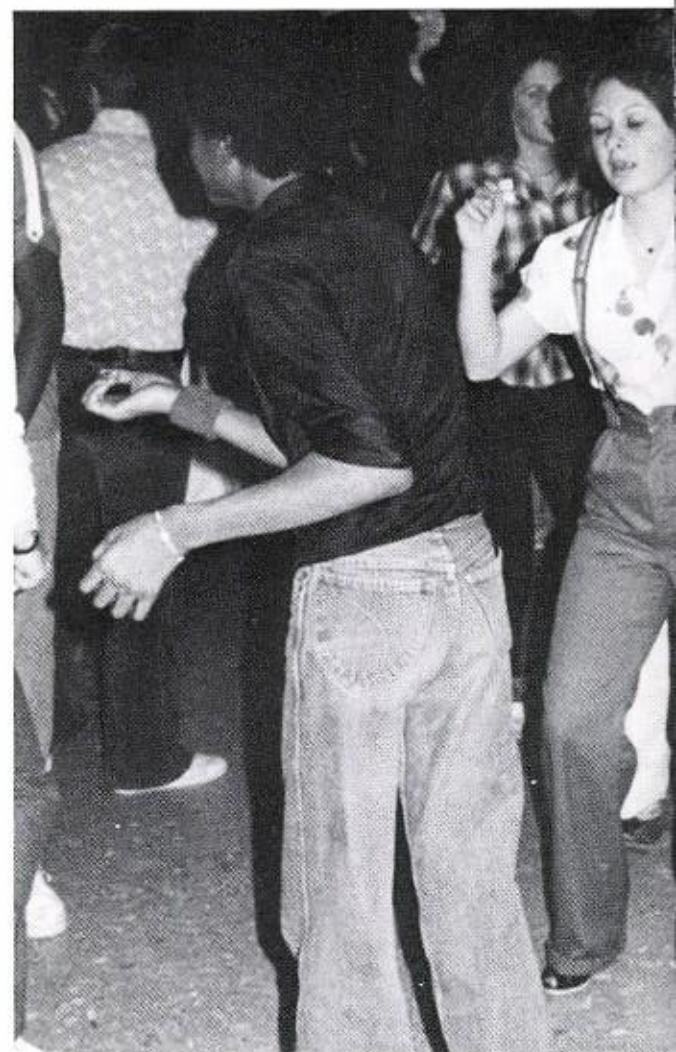

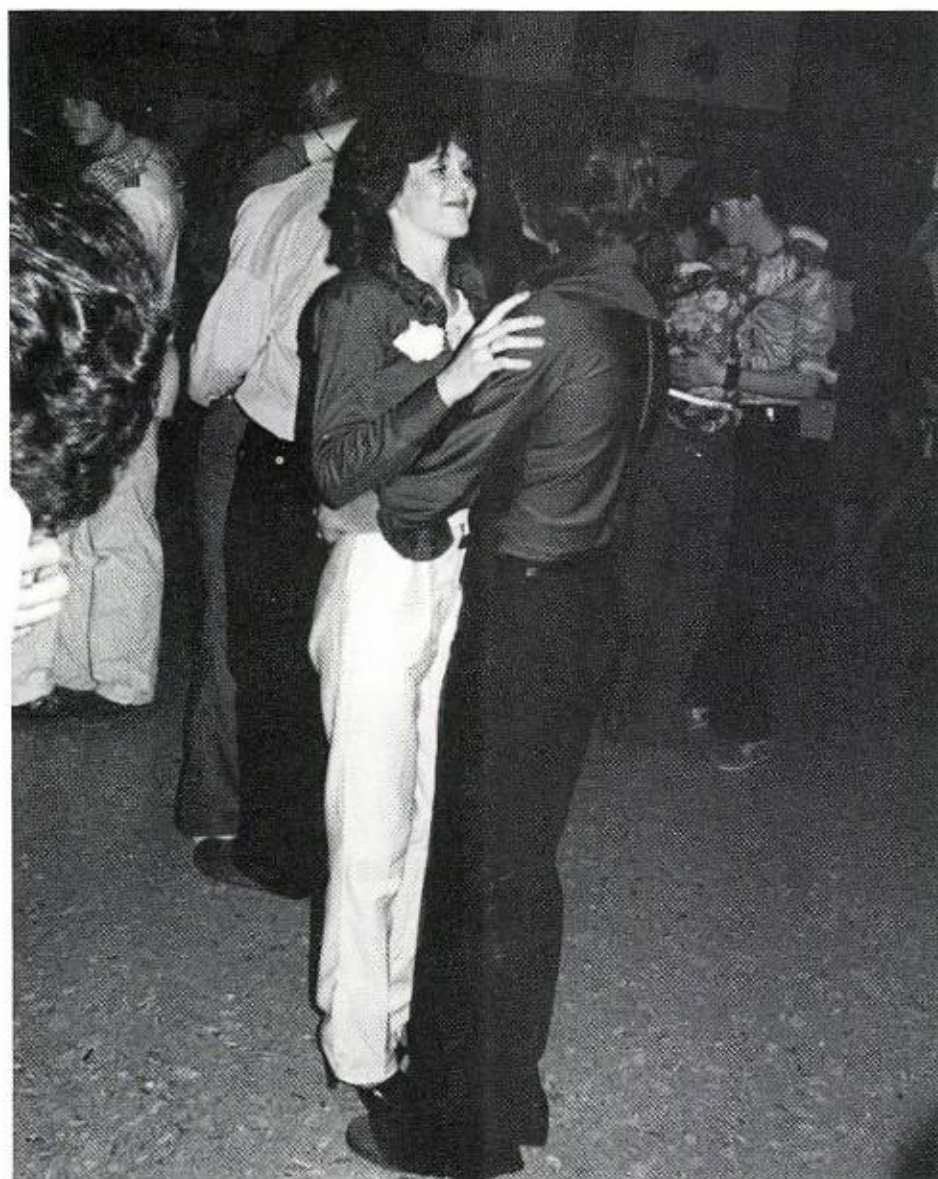

The sophomores came out on top with 64 points, followed by the juniors with 57 points, the faculty, 47 points; seniors, 46 points; freshman, 45 points; seventh graders, 39 points; and the eighth graders with 28 points.

March Madness Provides Disco, Funds For Touring

"I thoroughly enjoyed it. I really had a good time."—sophomore Earl Pierce

"I hate disco. Why don't they get a band next time?"—sophomore Jim Smith

"It was so-so. They should have played a little more fast stuff."—junior Kenneth Pugh

"It's too bad that a wrestling march was scheduled for the same night."—sophomore Jennifer Ginsberg

"It was excellent, 'cuz I helped put it on, and anything I help with has gotta be good!"—sophomore Brian Lester

"The songs were all too long. So much disco made me very nauseous."

—freshman Tom Lochner

The March 14 "March Madness" Disco was a follow-up of the October Outrage dance held last fall. Both dances were sponsored and organized by members of Swing Choir. Money from the dances was used to help pay expenses during the Swing Choir's spring tour. They toured May 7-10 around the state, concentrating on the Fairbanks area. Among the material they presented was the popular musical, "Wheels."

Diamond lead guitarist Todd Houston and his lead vocalist Alan Johnson jam to the rock-n-roll beat of "No Time."

Actors Present 'Wicked Stage' As Spring Plays

"People, young or old, have a compelling desire to express themselves more completely, in drama, choir, sports, and etc. This is what builds the character of the youth!"—Jac Asbury

"Stage creatures are totally immoral and more concerned with money than art."—Pamela Ash

"It's been . . . More than life"—Chris Jarvis

"Was that straight jacket really necessary?"—Byron Bruckner

"Actors are fine on the stage, but put them out in the real world and they screw everybody up!"—Kim Cherry

"Some of my best friends are Thespians."—John Lenz

This year's spring production included two one act plays based on one central theme, the "disreputable reputation of actors and their scandalous careers."

The first of the two, "The Flattering Word", dealt with one man's attempt to change a congregation's negative outlook of actors to one of more appreciation. This was done through his constant flattery of the individuals. In the end, he wins his much sought-after appreciation.

"Atlantic City" was a story of two parents and their attempt to sway their children from acting. They rely on their own acting talents to portray grief, and therefore persuade their devoted children to go back to school.

Both plays were directed by Ms. Gay Monteverde. "Atlantic City" was written by George Arnold of Anchorage. He contributed greatly to the play in staging; he also allowed the Chugiak Thespians to put on the play at the State Tournament.

"We are the champions!!"—senior Chris Jarvis

"Debate brings the light of reason into an otherwise dark world."—junior Curtis Plunk

"We went out with a bang!!"—senior Pam Ash

"Since we wound up on top it should make people stand up and take notice!!"—sophomore Colleen Kellay

"I think the most important thing we got out of it was that we were able to take state and pay Mr. Hagman back for all the work he put in for us."—senior Diana Dial

"They all worked hard and it paid off. I'm proud of them all."—Ms. Gay Monteverde

The Drama/Debate/Forensics Team started off the season with a second place finish in their first tournament. They ended with four seconds, two firsts, and first in the state competition.

Included in Drama/Debate/Forensics are solo and duet acting, one-act plays, radio announcing, pantomime, extemporaneous speaking, humorous and dramatic interpretation of literature, original oration, improvisation, and debate.

About forty students participated throughout the year. Debate Coach Warren Hagman said, "I couldn't name one outstanding team member; all of them were outstanding."

Firsts in state went to Colleen Kelley, pantomime; Chris Jarvis, Jack Asbury, Kim Cherry, and Koral Hargan, improvisation; Byron Bruckner, George Finnely, Eve Fieldhouse, reader's theatre; "Atlantic City" for one-act plays; Diana Dial, extemporaneous speaking; and Kent McNall, original oration. The teams were under the direction of Ms. Gay Monteverde and Mr. Hagman.

"It was a very delightful and memorable experience."—senior Steve Child

"I appreciate the people who helped make it as good as it was, and I'm happy that everybody had a good time."—junior Sherry Bryant, prom chairperson.

The evening of April 19 was partied away by CHS prom-goers at the International Banquet House. Amidst blue and silver streamers, couples danced through the night to the music of "Virtu." Backup entertainment was provided by "Disco-To-Go." Along with a new decade, a new tradition may have been started with both a theme, "Good Times," and a theme song, "Babe."

Coronation was held at ten with King Niel Bjornstad and Queen Parri Mahoney reigning over the seniors. Gary Fielder and Suzanne Kisse were crowned junior royalty.

"I enjoy practicing my new routines for cheerleading tryouts."—junior Kelley Shelley.

"I enjoy watching Kelley Shelley practice her new routines."—senior Joe Miner

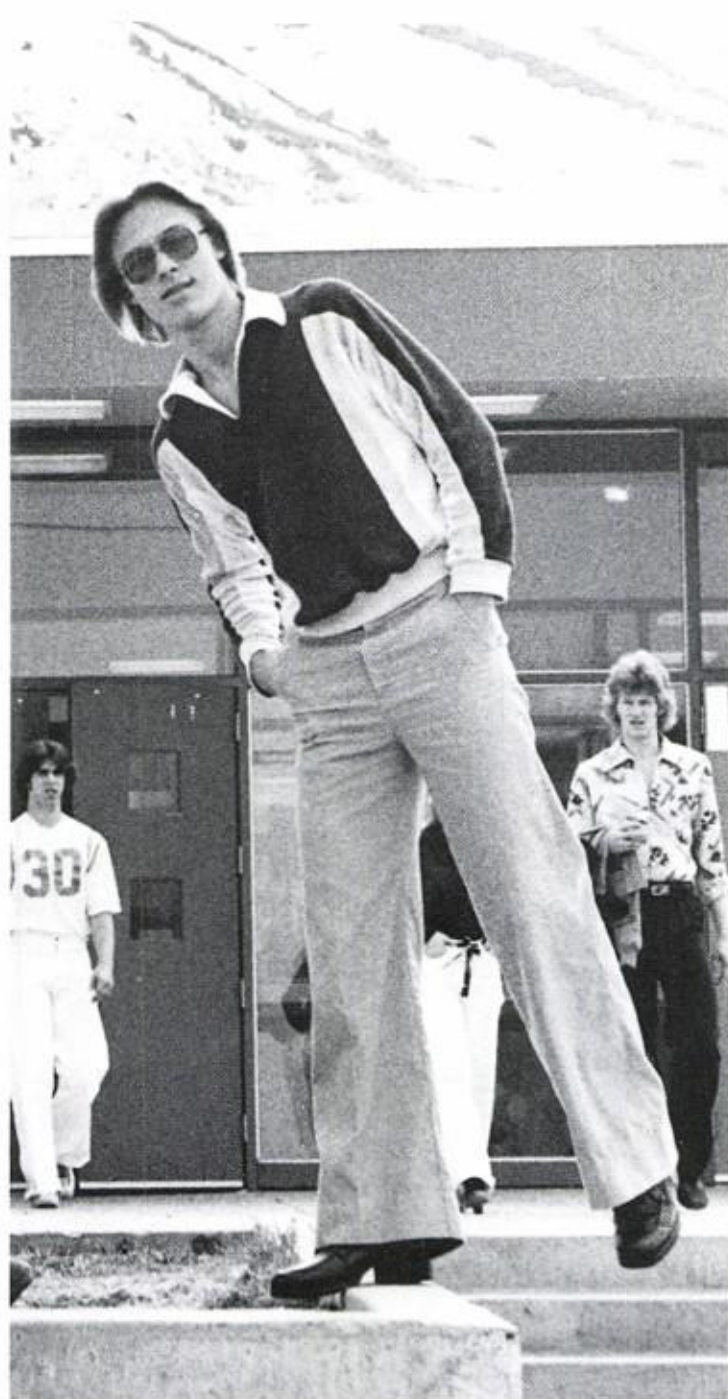

"Frisbee, baseball, running. I really like laying on the green grass and doing my favorite sport: watching girls!"—freshman Tim Roberts

"I play tennis in the spring, what else? Also, in spring, guys' thoughts turn to love."—junior Burch Moore

"Spring is an ideal time to take good, clear, sunny pictures."—junior Chas. "the Spaz" Eliassen

"I can jam on throwin' the friz."—sophomore John White

Spring activists got a head start this year with the early departure of the winter snow. There were many different happenings, but there is one name for them all: Spring Activities. Along with the usuals, students came up with an original way to mark the coming of spring, Iran Day. A handful of students costumed themselves in military dress and staged a mock battle, taking over Iran and capturing the Ayatollah.

"I think the supplement is a great idea!"—junior Stephanie Tatum

"Exceptionally fine! The people who won deserve it."—senior Tom Lane

"Phase Me! I'm quite surprised!"—senior Joe Lochner

"I think it's neat that they bring in a well-known political figure each year."—junior Dana Rhyneer

"I thought it was really good. They picked good people."—freshman Jennifer Martin

"They should keep having the supplements."—junior Ginger Swanson

"My super eight seniors did a great job!"—yearbook adviser, Mrs. Judy McNall

This year's Gruening Awards assembly was held on May 14. The annual event, sponsored by Chugiak's yearbook staff, featured speaker Mr. Clark Gruening, grandson of the late Senator Ernest Gruening. Mr. Gruening spoke of his grandfather, the early days in Alaska, and how citizens of Alaska can still influence their country and government. The ceremony was highlighted by the presentation of the Gruening Award to an outstanding senior girl and boy, and a non-student nominee. Recipients were Pam Scott, senior girl; Joe Lochner, senior boy; and coach and teacher Mr. Harry McDonald, non-student.

Yearbook signing supplements were distributed at the end of the assembly. The date of yearbook distribution was announced as August 16. A "Distro Disco" will also be held that night in honor of the event.

Seniors Awarded With Scholarships And Superlatives

"I was really surprised. I wasn't expecting it, but it was neat."—senior Tony Debnar

"That was terrific. I was kinda surprised to be honored, and embarrassed."—senior John Herzog

"Heh, heh, heh . . . Devo to the max!"—senior Joe Lochner

"Lauren Wenzel was very deserving of the Social Studies award. The faculty award was very appropriate, too,"—Social Studies teacher Terry Jorgensen

"I think the awards were perfect, except for the Best Athlete (Ha Ha)"—senior Jed Henning

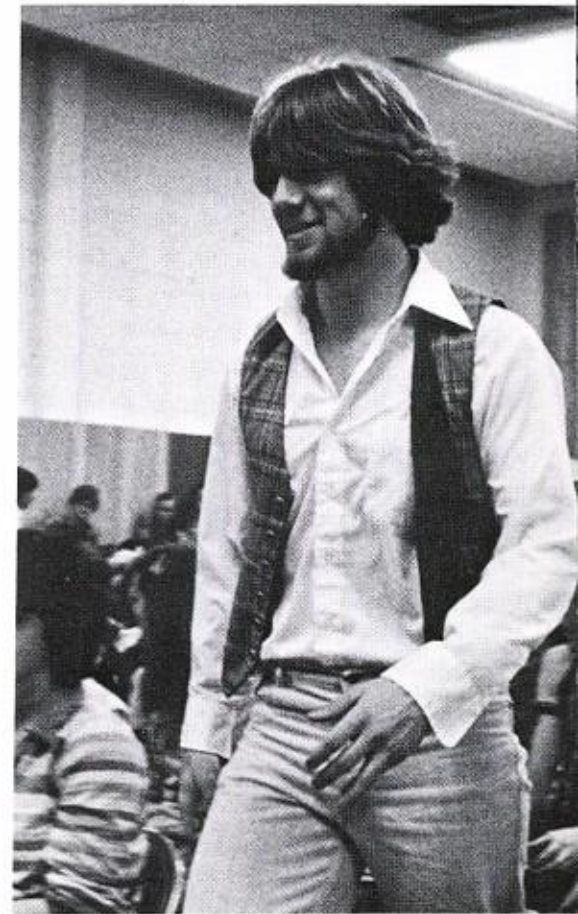

"I honestly can't think of one award that wasn't deserved. We pretty much had it covered."—Coach Harry McDonald

"Each year after senior awards is over, I become one more year older."—English teacher Judy McNail

The 1980 Senior Awards Assembly got under way with the presentation of scholarships, based on scholarship folders compiled by graduating seniors. Most were in monetary form, ranging from $100 to a full-four-year-all-tuition-paid education awarded by NJROTC. Again, as in previous years, Mr. Dick Kerbow coordinated and organized the assembly. Holding to tradition, the assembly closed with "Senior Superlatives", given out by Coach Harry McDonald and Mr. Bill O'Thuse.

Voted Outstanding Senior and Best Athlete is BJ Bjornstad.

Obviously prepared, Steve Haynes is voted Best Dressed.

Gasping with the surprise, the honor-berry receives the Golden Thread Needle.

"The class of '81 has the best-looking girls; what's more important?"—Chris Kellay

"I am glad I am in the class of '81!"
—Jen Harjehausen

The class of 1981 started off the year by taking second place in the Homecoming float competition and second in the canned food drive.

The money-raising activities for the juniors included selling assorted candy and lifesaver lollipops, followed by a very successful Winter Ball in January.

Elected class officers Bob Simpson, Stephanie Tatum, Carla Belmudes, Francis Estrilla, and Gordon Kinder guided their class with aid and supervision of class sponsor, Mr. Terry Jorgensen. The junior class is looking forward to seeing their class continue in success as SENIORS in '81.

Sophomores Join As Class of '82, Add Responsibility

"We're the best class ever!"—Ian Jenkins

"We've got the most spirit."—Dawn Kisse

"I think we're great!"—Sue Deeman

"What can I say, we're the best."—Melissa Dinkins

"'82 is a class with class."—Kevin Reed

"We're still the one."—Jim Wood

"Sophomores are an enthusiastic group of individuals!"—Jennifer Ginsburg

"We're a superb class."—Mike Haynes

"Sophomores are super to work with."—Mrs. LoraNira Parsons

"They're Fanrabulous!"—Kari Witzel

The class of '82 started the year selling candy canes to raise much-needed funds. Another fund-raising project was a carwash in the spring.

This year the class sponsor, Mrs. LoraNira Parsons, provided the sophomores with an endless supply of guidance as they grew in maturity. Elected class officers Jennifer Ginsburg, Dawn Kisse, Marsha Smith, David Jenkins, and Jeff Allen set the pace for leadership.

Once again the Kirk's residence served as an ideal place for the sledding get together, held in December.

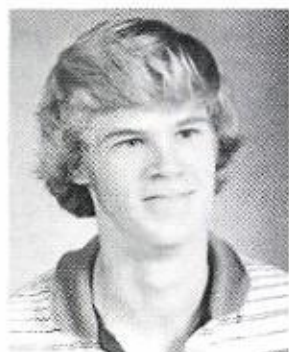

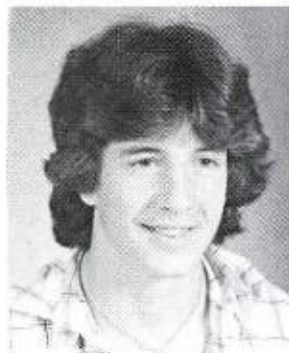

As the year progressed the class became more active, as a growing number of sophomores gained responsibility and involvement in CHS sports and organizations.

Outrageousness Is Typical Trait Of Seniors Of '83

"The class as a whole is the best class in the school."—Par Harrison.

"If you really want to be a stud, join track and the class of '83."—Paul Sraso.

"It can't be beat. It's awesome."—Amy Cronk.

"Definitely the best."—Chrissy Batten.

"It's the greatest!"—Drett Nickens.

"It's weak right now and I hope it gets more spirited as the years go on."—Tom Lochner.

"There's more raw outrageousness in this class than I care to think about. If they would exploit their untapped energy this might be a history-making class."—W. Strodemyer and Jim Taylor.

The class of '83 was very active in athletics and activities. In athletics the freshmen had to form two separate teams in football, basketball, and volleyball. They had stiff competition because they had to play the junior varsities of the other schools. In activities the freshmen were very active in the school plays and debate, swing choir and concert choir, and in the band.

Eighth Graders Prove Spirited, Acquire Identities

"'84 Rules!"—Don Cross
 "We're number one!"—Eddie Uwekoolani
 "Hey, man, we're number one!"—Gloria Holthaus
 "We've got class"—Angie Harris
 "'84 is forever more"—Shane Hyson
 "Jammin' and study and number one." —Joe Henning
 "We're forever number one."—Ashlyn Kuersten
 "'84 is the best!"—Alvin Spencer

The eighth grade class this year had 232 students. The class officers were chosen at the end of their seventh grade year and included: Ruthi Klippel, president; Billy Ray, vice-president; Julie Quam, secretary; Deatra Scott, historian, and Theresa Fletcher, sergeant-at-arms.

The class of '84 sponsored the Valentines Dance, during which Lee VanHorn was crowned king and Chrissy Cresap reigned as queen. Roxanne Shelley, Tom Wilson, Theresa Fletcher, Shane Hyson, Ashlyn Kuersten, and David Rush were the eighth grade royalty.

The eighth grade class placed sixth in the canned food drive held during December.

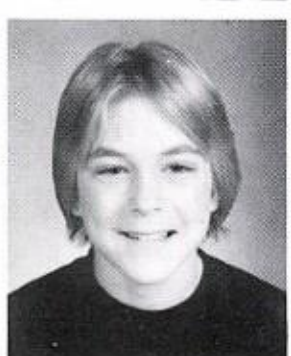

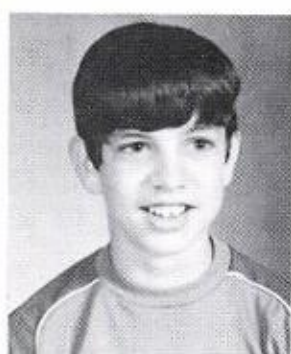

The majority of cheerleaders were eighth graders, who helped provide spirit at many basketball games and wrestling matches. In the SFC carnival, the class of '84 had a balloon shaving booth. They also participated in the Wacko-Decathlon, which was held in March.

The Class of '85 Strives To Be The Utmost Class

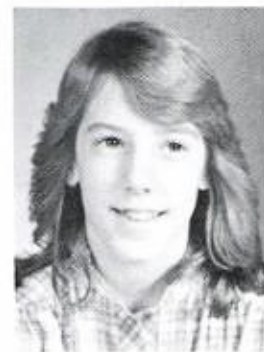

"We're the best!"—Sheryl Craig
"'85 is the roughest class alive!"—David Wilkings
"We're superb!"—Lira Comeaux
"Let us out of here!"—Robert Streed
"We're the ones!"—Darline Thomson
"It's pretty cool!"—Christina Townsend
"It's the best!"—Virginia Ellis

The newcomers, the class of '85, numbered 240. Their sponsor was Mrs. Sue Heitkamp. Their meetings took place every other week, with President Tuck Bertin taking charge. Other officers included Vice-President Anna Esralilla, Secretary Tina Kostlin, and Treasurer, Rodney Bowers.

In the canned food drive, which was sponsored by the Honor Society, the seventh graders placed fifth overall, placing above the eighth graders.

At the Valentine's Dance, which was held February 11, Rodney Smith was crowned king and Chrissy Marson was voted queen. The court that accompanied them included Arnetta Allison, Chris Caster, Sally Leedham, Eric Grant, Keri Baumgardner, and Jeff Wanamaker.

The seventh graders sponsored the cake-walk at the fall carnival in October, and took part in the Wacko-Decathlon.

The Mustang offensive line gets into their attack status.

4-1-1 Record Ends Football Season All-C Claims Seven

"It was good, it was great, keep it going to make it eight straight!"—senior Captain Neil "BJ" Bjornstad

"Football means everything to me. I eat, drink, and sleep football, and if you ever tried to drink a football, you know how rough it is!"—junior Gordon Kinder

"I was exceptionally pleased to see our linemen physically dominate the line of scrimmage."—Line Coach Larry Henry

"I felt a lot for the coaches and team. We laughed and cried and weren't ashamed of either."—Ass't Coach Dean Vogt

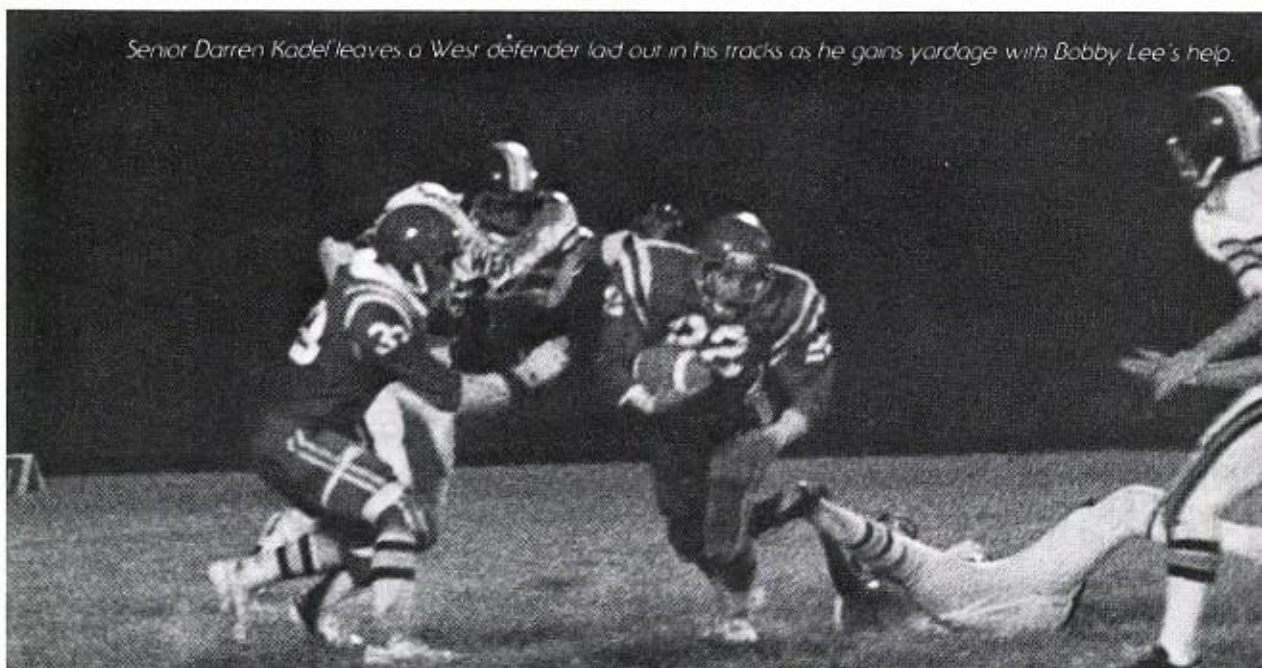

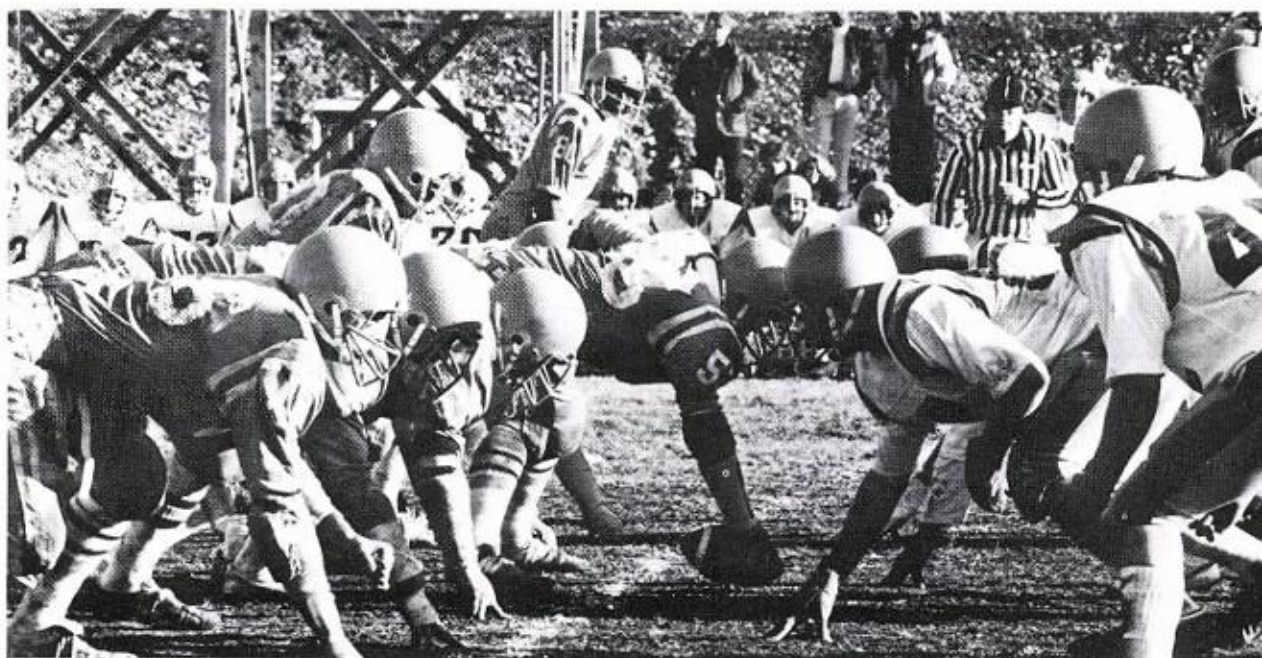

"This was the first of many conquests by the Chugiak Mustangs and the stud class of '80."—senior Co-Captain David Kelley

"It was a great year for me. I helped our first string center (McGowen) make all C. As for Jerry, he had the first string all-C nose-guard, me!"—junior Gary Fielder

"Coaching was the main drive for this year's winning season; I have never played under a better coaching staff in my football career."—senior Darren Kadel

"We came a long way and found out a lot about each other. I am extremely proud of our team, and coaching staff, the pep club and the student body. We couldn't have done it without them."—Varsity Coach Tom Huffer

After the CHS gridders lost the pre-season scrimmage against Dimond and a game against West, they defeated Kena and swallowed a tie against Bartlett. They then charged ahead and took victories over the teams of Wasilla, East, Service, and Dimond. They had earned a season record of four wins, one tie, and one loss in conference standings, tying them for second place overall. Chugiak was honored by having seven players make all-conference. They were Jed Henning, David Kelley, Neil Bjornstad, Jerry McGowen, Gary Fielder, Darren Kadel, and David Hamilton.

Senior Darren Kadel leaves a West defender laid out in his tracks as he gains yardage with Bobby Lee's help.

An unknown running back attempts to push through two defenders in hopes of receiving Mustang first down.

Senior quarterback Neil Bjornstad does the correct thing when a receiver is not open: run!

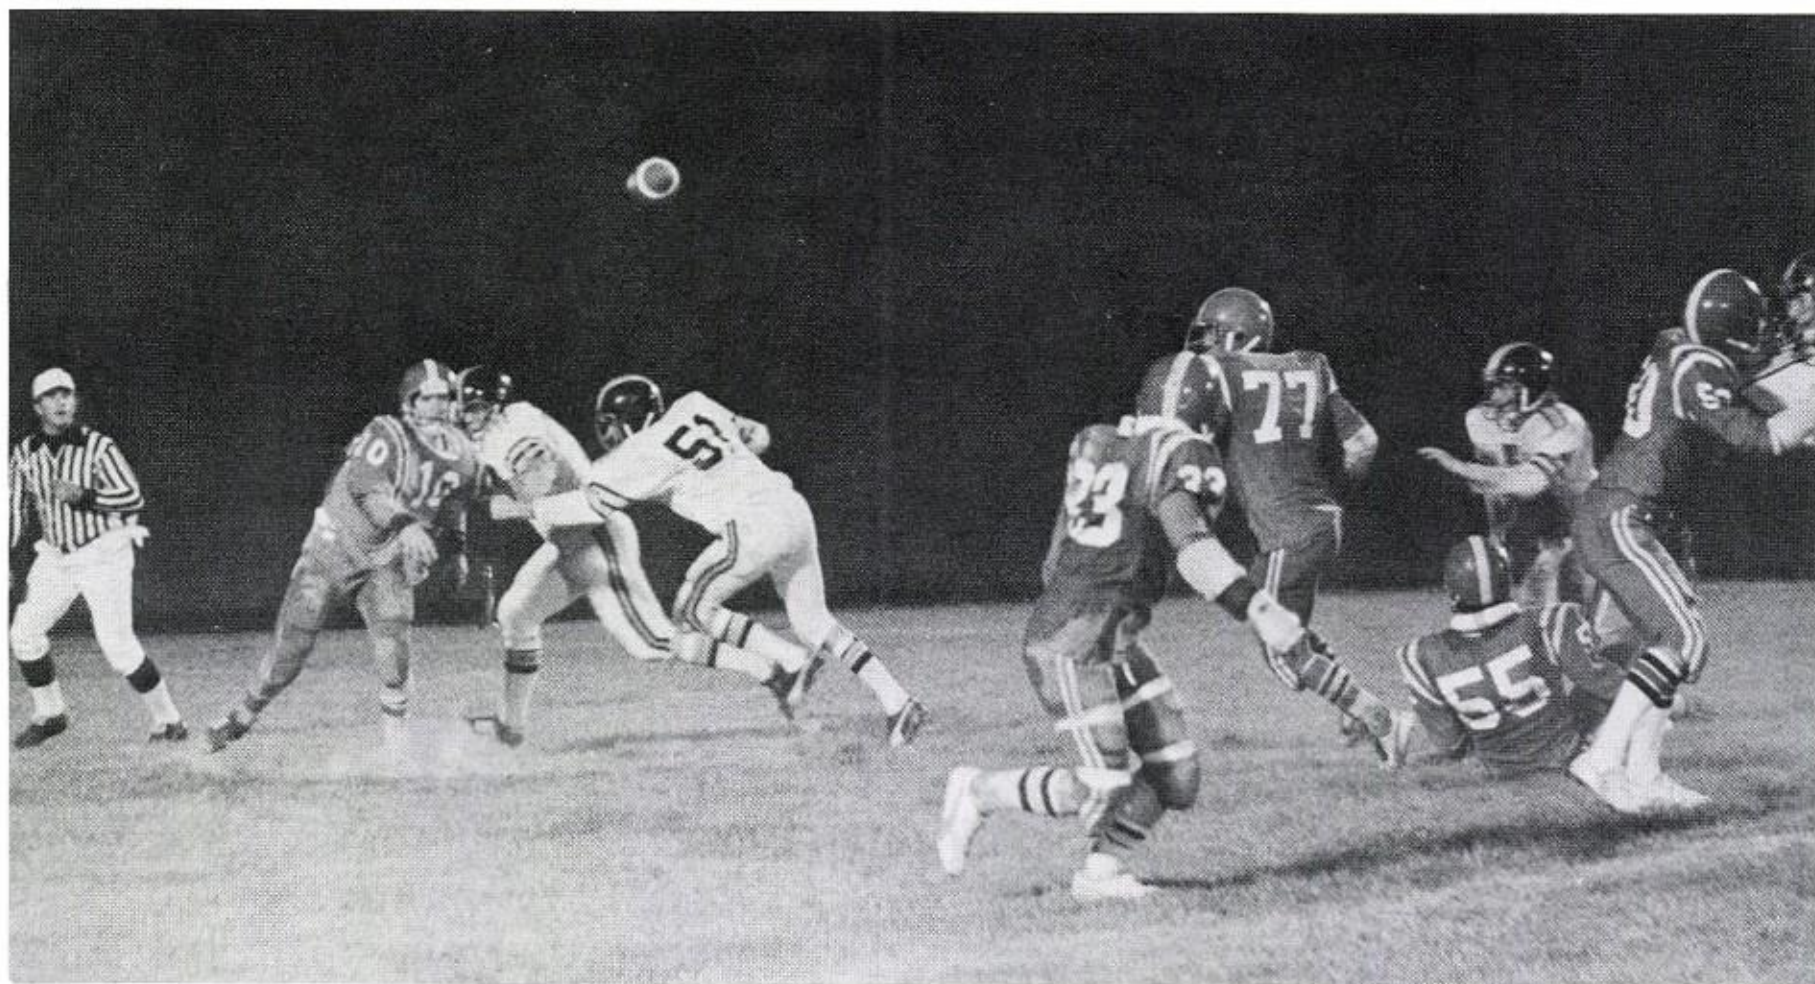

Coaches Jorder, Huffer, and Henry intently watch the action by the Mustang gridgers.

J.V., Freshmen Build Experience Throughout Season

NINTH GRADE FOOTBALL

"This year's team was very young and unexperienced. They faced a lot of adversity and rough times but came out of it with their heads held high."—freshman coach John Jorder

"I feel that our team could have done better if we had had more experience."—freshman Tim Hill

"We had some rough times throughout the season, but we never had a totally defeated attitude."—freshman Randy Vanderwood

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

"It was an enjoyable season. I think that these football players will insure the continued success in football next year."—J.V. coach Darrel White

"It was fun, but it's hard working with a bunch of delberts."—sophomore John Aarnink

"It was my best year in football."—sophomore Jeff Allen

"People said we were small but we played big."—sophomore Shawn Ellis

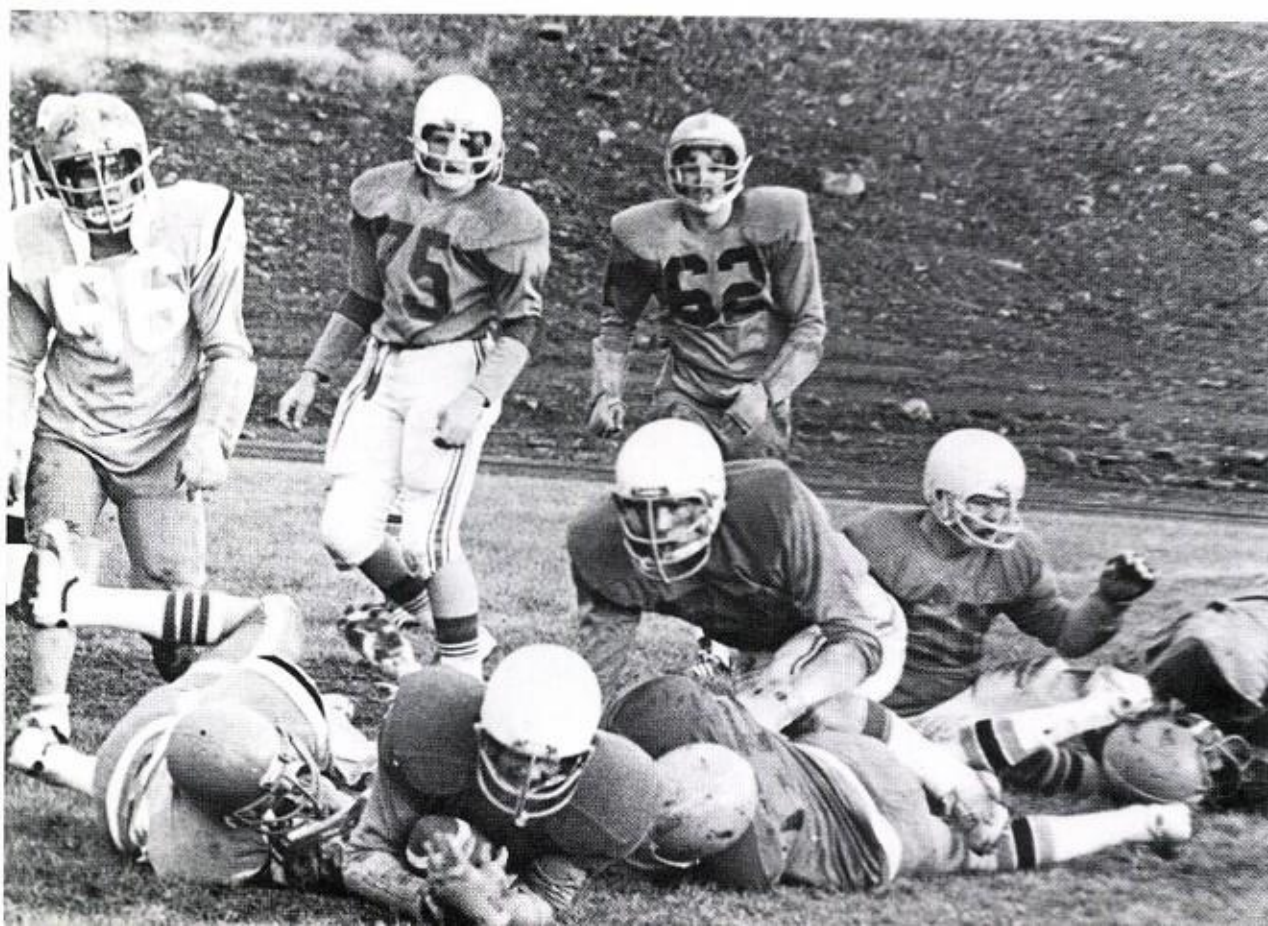

This was the first year of freshman football. Because of lack of experience, the team did not do as well as they had hoped. They held a 0-6 record at the end of their season.

The J.V. team was more fortunate, compiling a 5-1 overall season record. Some of the best performances were brought on by Carl Sullivan and Jim Magnuson on defense, and Jim Smith, Earl Pirece, and Jim Magnuson on offense.

Enthusiasm, Power Prove Helpful For Soccer Teams

"There was a lot of enthusiasm shown in both the boys' and girls' teams."—Coach Ken Rouse

"They were a fine bunch of boys; a great bunch to work with!"—Coach Darrel Daley

"I haven't enjoyed working with a team as much before."—Coach Bill O'Thuse

"We could have been in first place if Central wasn't so lucky!"—seventh grader Hans Anderson

"We're the best even if we didn't win!"—eighth grader Julie Godwin

"Our record didn't show the true ability of the team; we were far better than our record shows."—Coach O'Thuse

"We did our best; we gave it our best shot."—seventh grader Greg Smith

"I liked watching the guys' soccer team!"—eighth grader Ann McDonald

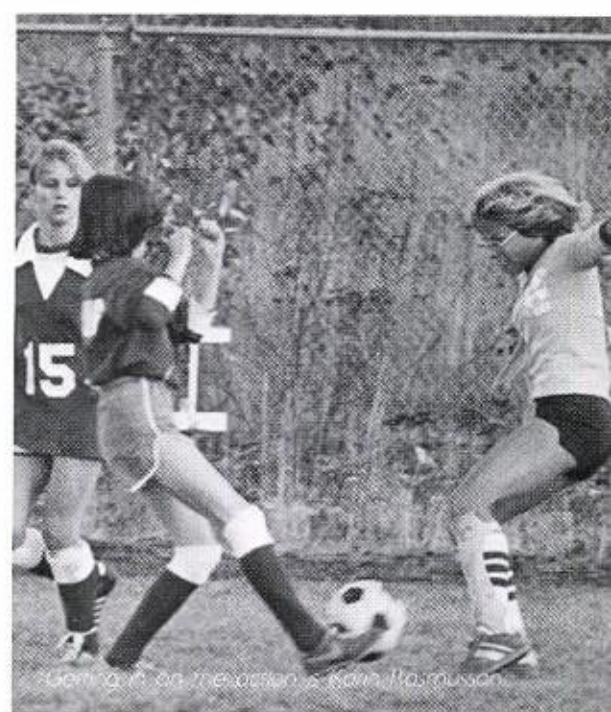

There were 29 boys that came out for soccer this year, along with 14 girls. Through the season the boys' team dropped down to 24 members, but the 14 girls that started out at the first of the season stuck with it until the end.

The boys' team had a 3 win, 1 loss, 2 tie record which placed them second in the district. The captains of the boys' team were eighth graders David Choate and Mike Barnhart. At a pot luck dinner Choate was voted the most inspirational player, Keith Harjehausen, most improved; and Choate, most valuable player.

The girls placed fourth in the district as the result of a 2 win, 3 loss, 1 tie record. The team's captains were eighth graders Theresa Fletcher and Angela Harris. Coach O'Thuse thought Jenny Anderson was the most improved player and that Fletcher and Julie Godwin were the most valuable players.

Eighth grader Julie Godwin, with something else besides soccer occupying her mind, trots onto Chugiak's soccer field.

Harrier Optimism Cites Best Season For Cross Country

"The competition was stiffer than in previous years."—senior Tom Lane

"It was one of our best seasons!"—senior Sharon Lee

"I feel it was worth my time."—junior Kistal Baker

"We needed more school support!"—junior Jody Brion

"This was my best season yet, next year I plan to make it my greatest season ever!"—junior Don Homan

"I liked this season because I lettered this year!"—junior Tim Martin

"It was fine until Regionals!"—junior Meg Penisten

"Yes, well, ah, ah, . . . maybe."—sophomore David Beckley

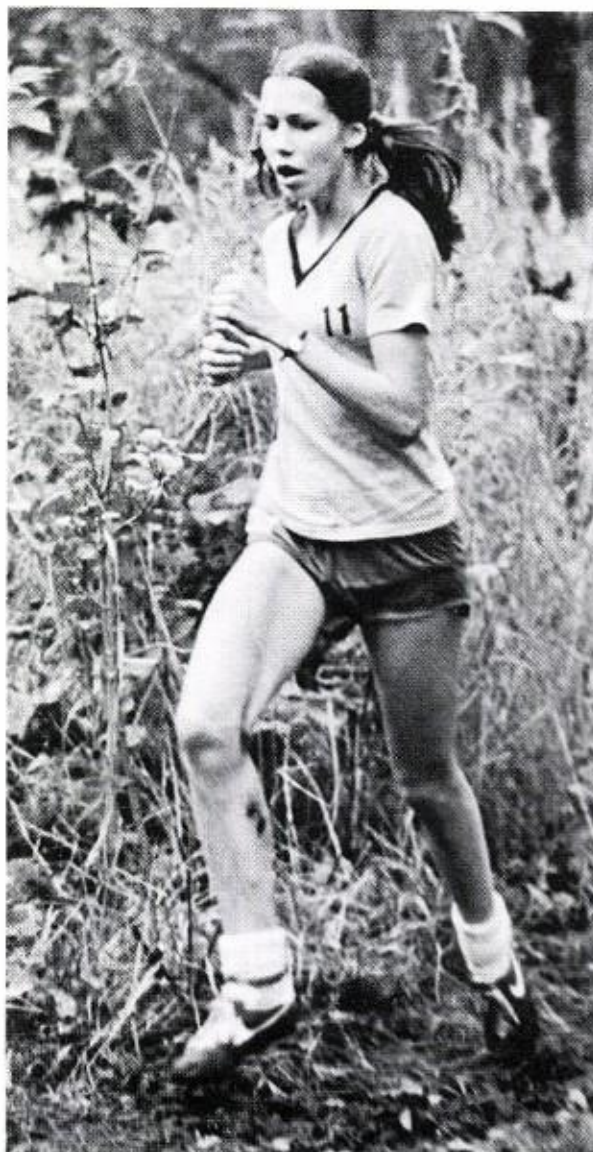

"I'd rather not think about it!"—sophomore Loren Sickles

"Same thing that Loren thinks!"—sophomore Glen Smith

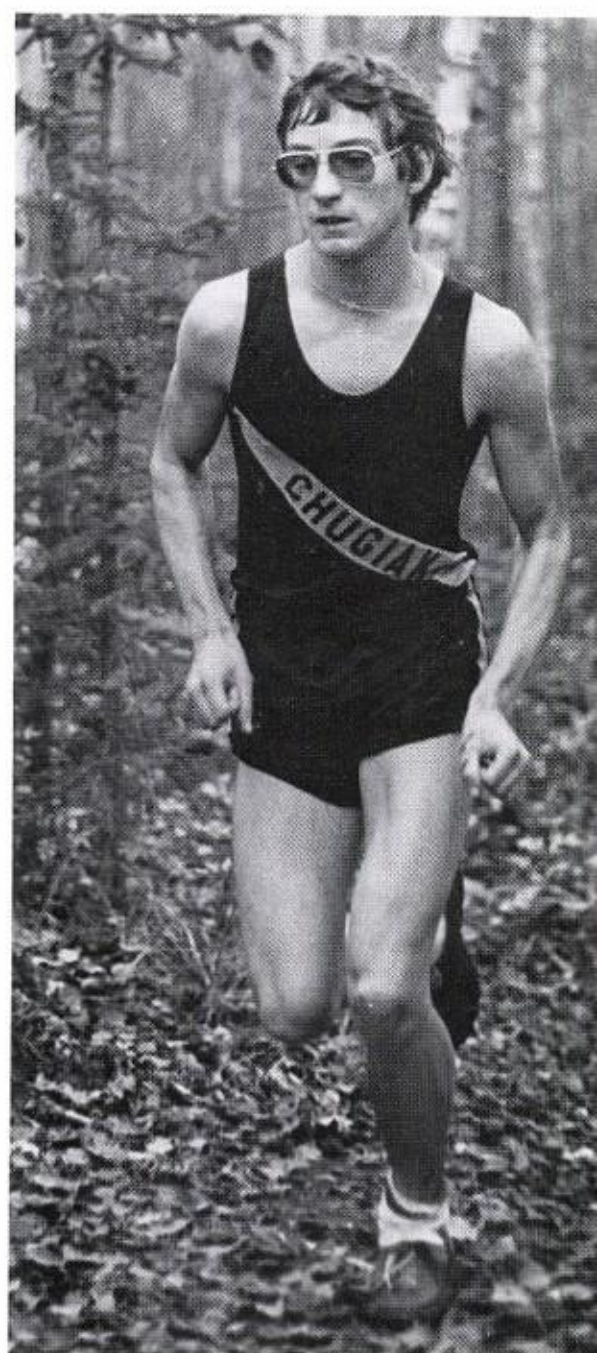

"It was a good season for me."—freshman Jenny Martin

The Mustang Cross Country Running team improved their times this year by constantly breaking many of the school records. The team members and the three coaches, Mr. Andy Kirk, Mrs. Renee Henry, and Mr. Danny Crow all worked toward the team's success. The Boys' Varsity team had a 10-5 win-loss record this year, while the Girls' Varsity had a 3-11 record. Coach Henry's reason for their poor record was due to injuries and lack of depth throughout the season. The girls defeated Service at the regional meet, ending the season on a positive note.

Coaches Kirk and Henry cited Meg Penisten and Tom Lane as the most inspirational team members; the most spirited member was Kistal Baker. The most improved runner was Don Homan. Tom Hickey was named this year's biggest surprise.

"We had a great time, even if we got fifth."—eighth grader Rick Conover

"When we had a team it was fun."—eighth grader Theresa Fletcher

"We needed more training."—eighth grader John Strahl

"Even if we didn't win, we had a lot of spirit!"—eighth grader Greg Ginsburg

"We have a lot of future runners."—eighth grader Keith Harjehausen

"We weren't great but we had fun."—eighth grader David Choate.

Cross country running started on September 5 and ended on October 17. The team was led by Coaches Gene Morgan and Donald Webb. The team was composed of seventeen runners. The highlight of the season was a tri-meet against Romig, Central, and Hanshew in which the seventh grade boys captured first, second, and third places. Said to be most valuable and most inspirational was seventh grader Greg Smith who finished sixth in the championship meet. The highest finisher for the girls was Theresa Fletcher, who made a successful fifth place finish. Overall in the championships, the seventh grade boys placed fourth, the eighth grade boys finished fifth, and the eighth grade girls earned fourth.

"I think we improved a lot this year, but next year we'll have to work harder and really put our minds to it."—sophomore Sue Beeman

"Good luck to the 1980 varsity volleyball team!"—senior Sue Just

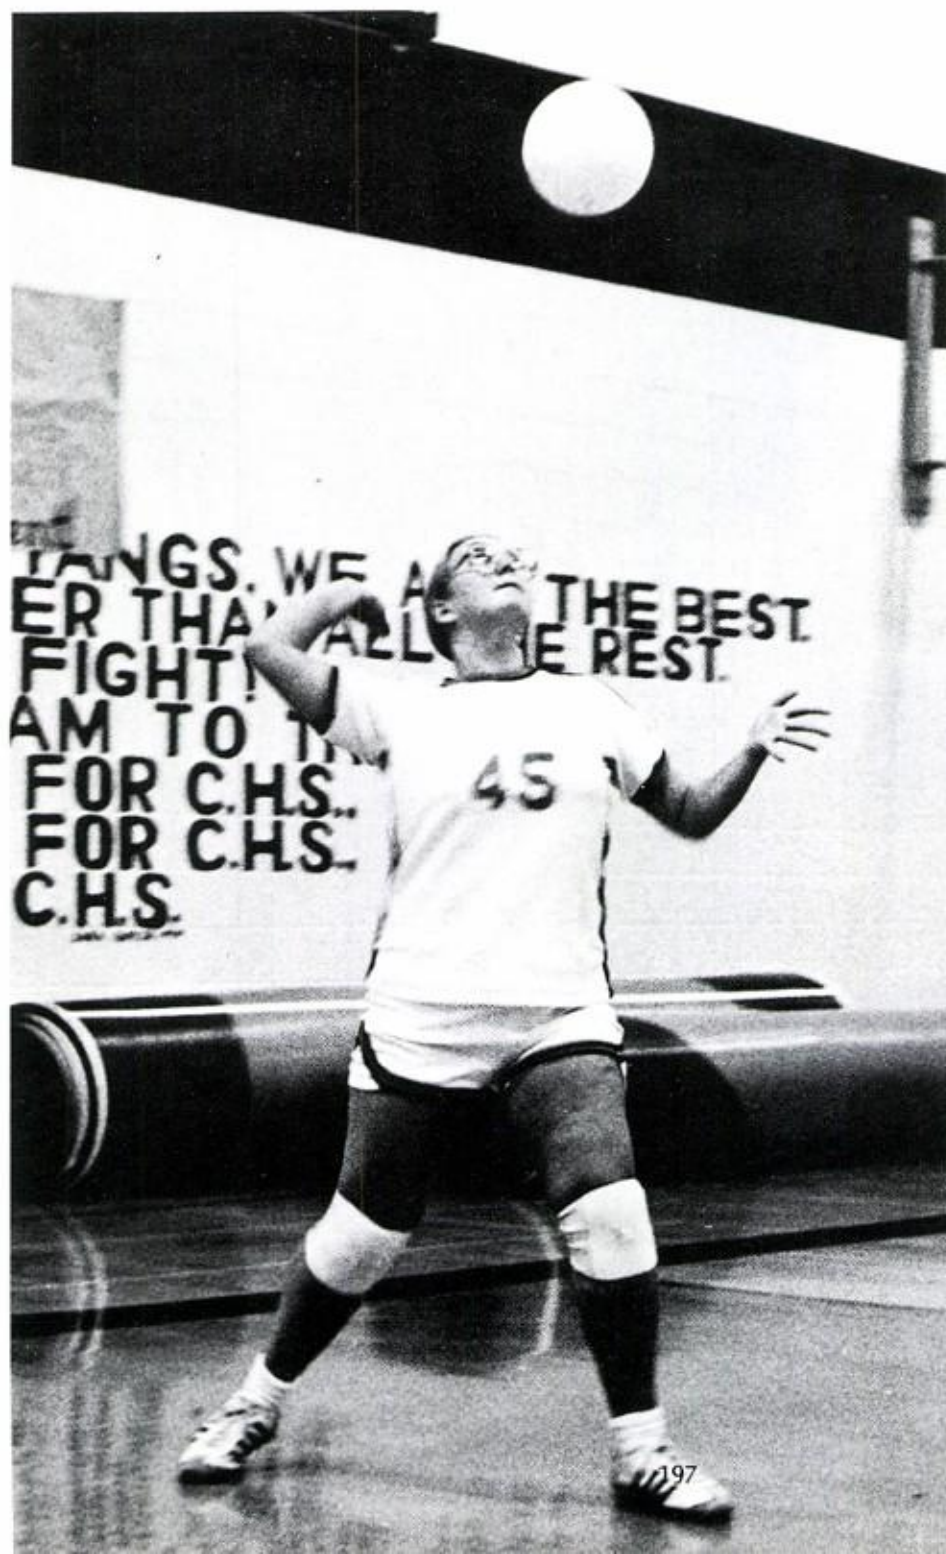

With no returning lettermen, the CHS varsity volleyball team began practice on August 27. They ended the season on November 3 after placing sixth in the regional tournament.

The team lacked experience in playing together, as they came from last year's JV and freshman teams, noted Coach Cilla Robbins.

Along with a strong team feeling, Jen Harjehausen's strong serves and consistent sets were attributes of the team, added Coach Robbins.

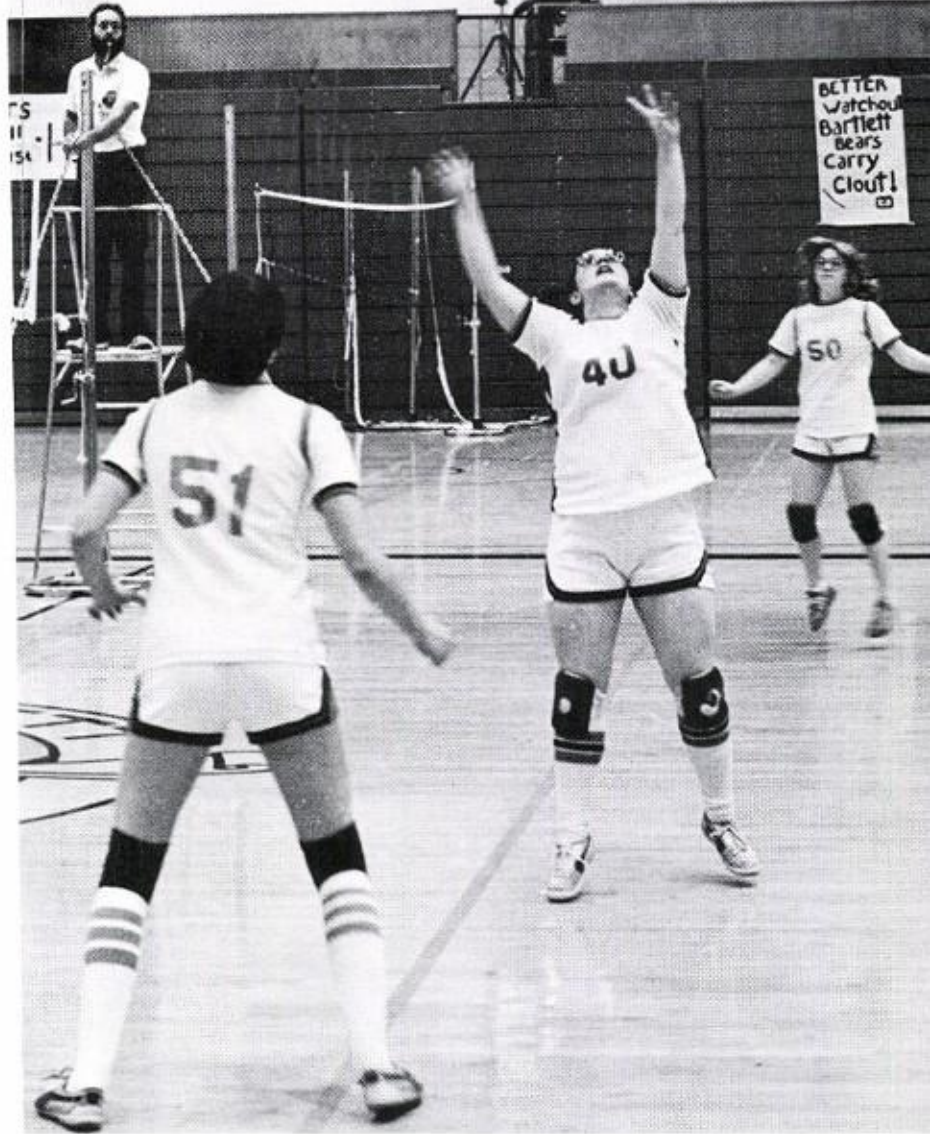

Letters, certificates, and special awards were presented at an informal banquet held November 9 at Sue Beeman's house. Polly Tritt and Kim Childs were chosen by their coach as most improved, and Jen Harjehausen was noted as the most valuable player.

'79 Netter Season Strengthens Spirit Of Younger Teams

"Our season wasn't the greatest, but the fun we had made up for the lack of wins."—freshman Stephanie Allison

"We had a hard time getting it together."—JV co-captain, sophomore Peggy McKinley

"Next year we'll have to work harder on skill, reamplay, and spirit. I was pleased to see the enthusiasm from the student body." JV Coach Kathy Maloney

"Smack!"—freshman Hannah Kirk

"I feel there are eleven freshman that in the coming years will provide CHS with very successful teams."—freshmen Coach Kerry Keefe

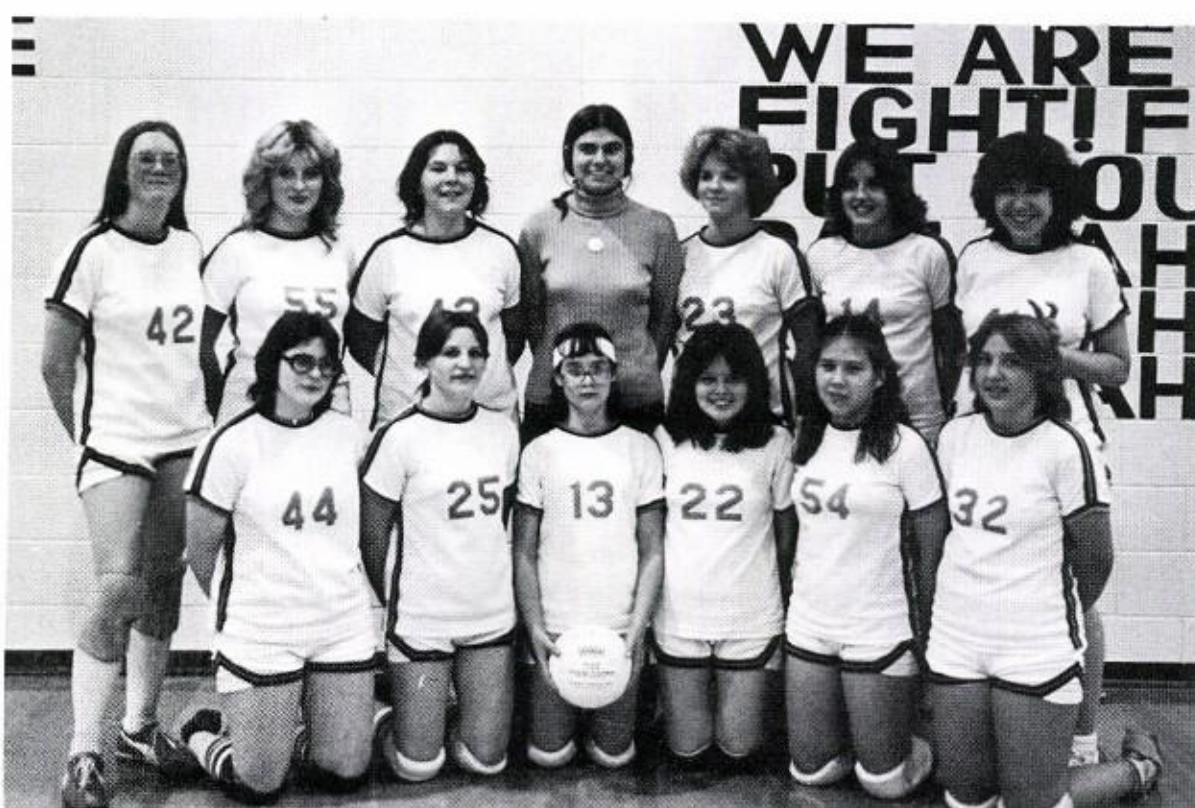

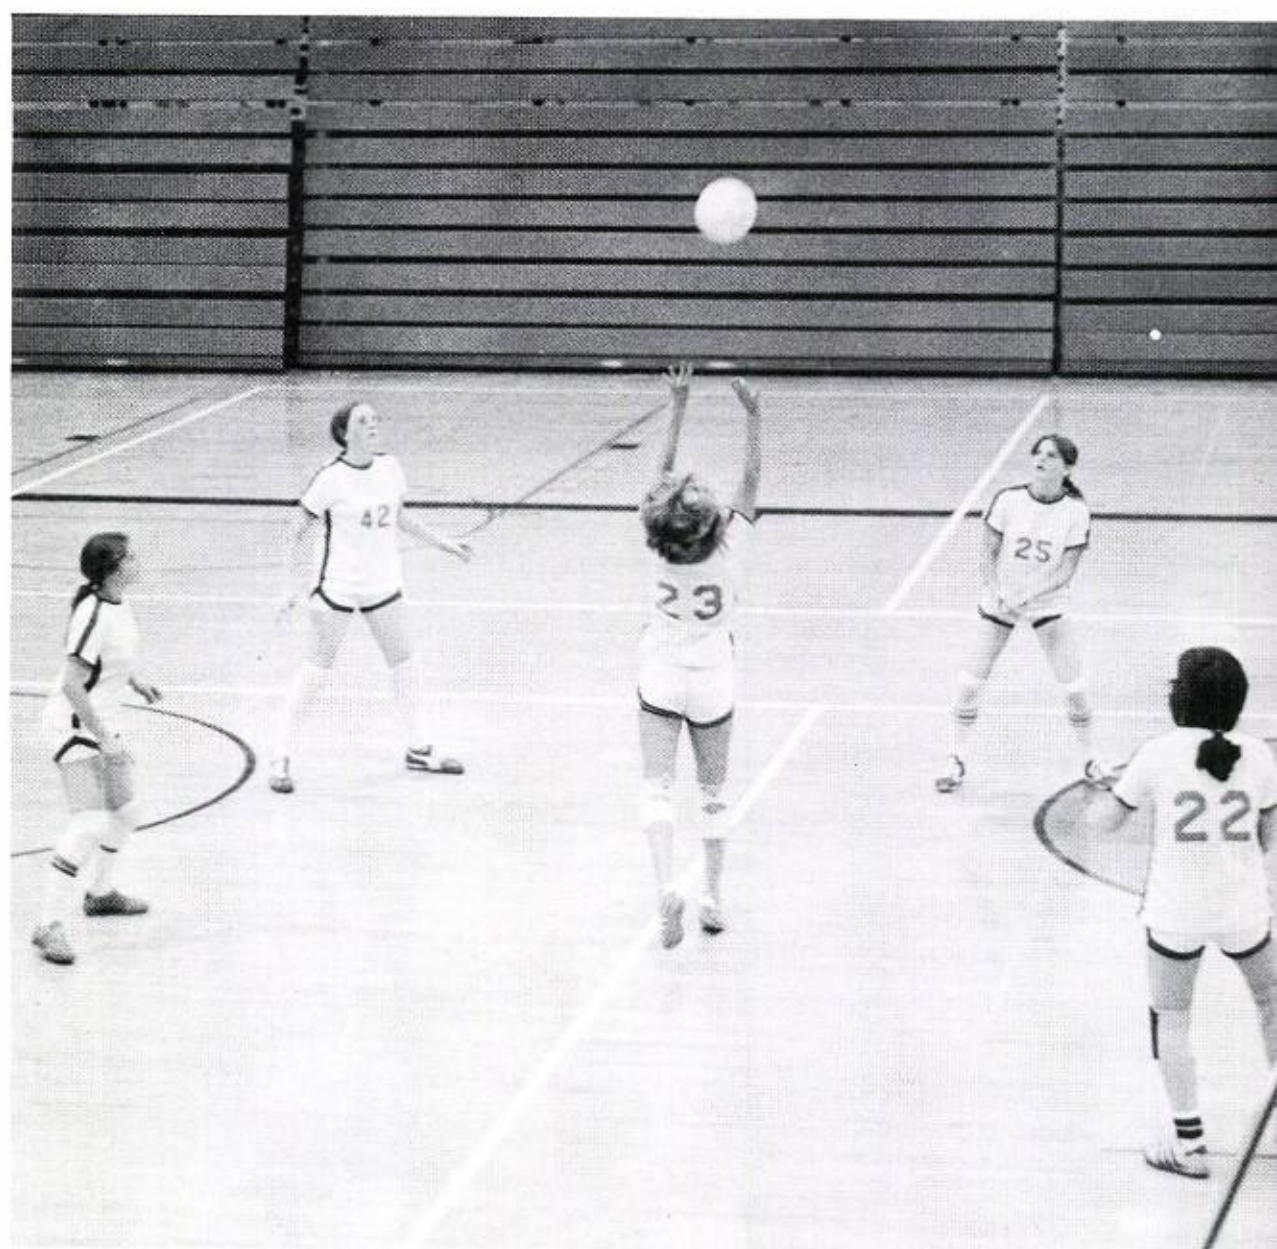

"The moon is yellow!"—freshman Peggy White

A total of twenty-four girls ended the JV and freshman volleyball seasons, marking the largest group that ever tried out at CHS.

Dimond was the roughest opponent for both teams, according to Coaches Kathy Maloney and Kerry Keefe. They were the only team the freshmen didn't defeat at least once in their six win, nine loss season. The JV team's only victory came against Bartlett. "Their skill and knowledge came together," stated Coach Maloney.

There were girls on both teams that had never played volleyball before. Along with the teams' lack of experience, the hardest thing was "learning to become winners," commented the coaches.

Awards were presented at a banquet held at the end of the season. For the freshmen, Juli Benotti and Karen Hodel were chosen as the most improved players, and Angie Daniels, the most inspirational. Dawn Kissee was the most improved JV player, Chris Foster, the most rowdy, and Kim Henry, the most valuable.

Mustang Gymnasts Offer Competition In Building Season

"This year was all right, but next year is going to be a really strong one for Chugiak."—junior Barb Wilson

"This season was a new experience for me!"—freshman Marcia Fay

"They improved this year; the help from the coaches really showed in the end!"—senior John Wrede

"Everybody really improved a lot this year."—sophomore Julie Fletcher

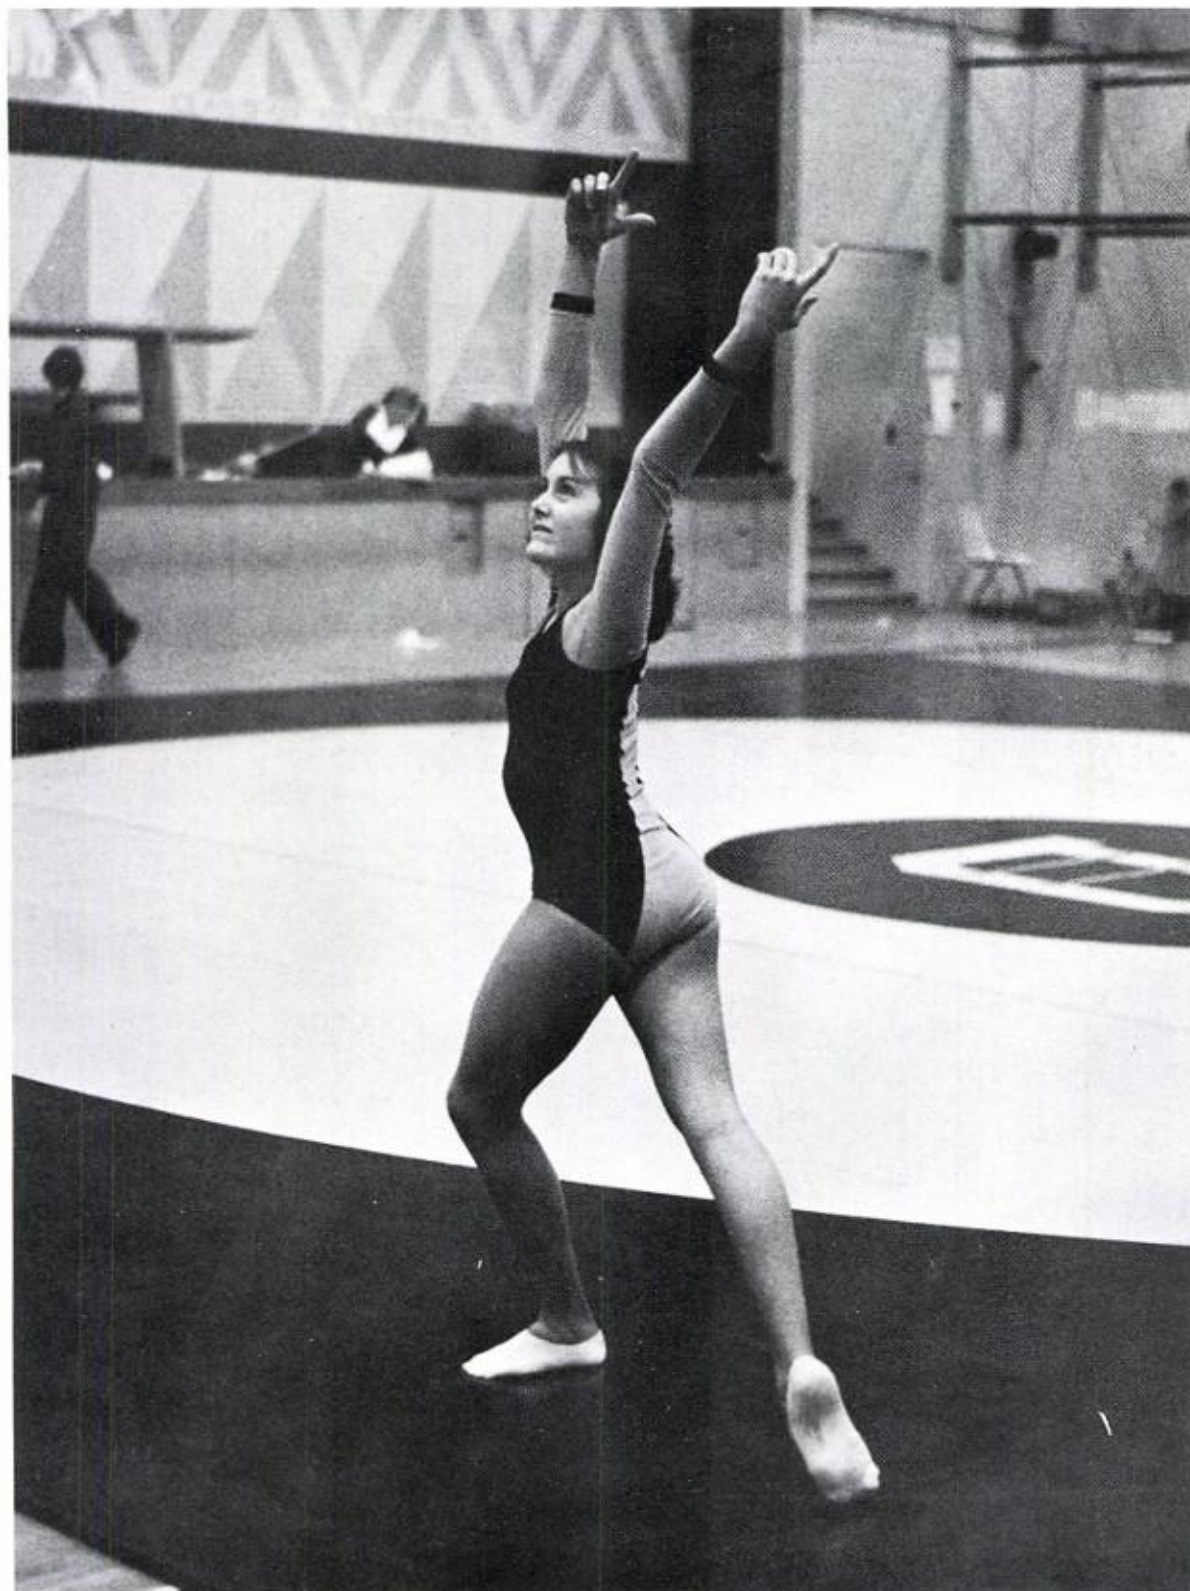

"It was a lot of fun, but the team needed more people."—Manager Susan Brooks

"The girls really came through; they were pulling eight's at the state meet!"—Coach Leslie Albrich

According to Coaches Martha Graybeal and Leslie Albrich, the Mustang gymnastics team really started to come through this year. This season, one of their best in a few years, consistently saw them beating out-of-town schools and coming very close to the Anchorage teams.

Coaches Albrich and Graybeal, with the additional help of spotter John Wrede, worked the relatively small team to the point of no return. The hard work seemed to have paid off as junior Denise Edwards placed fourth in the Intermediate All-Around competition at the State Meet.

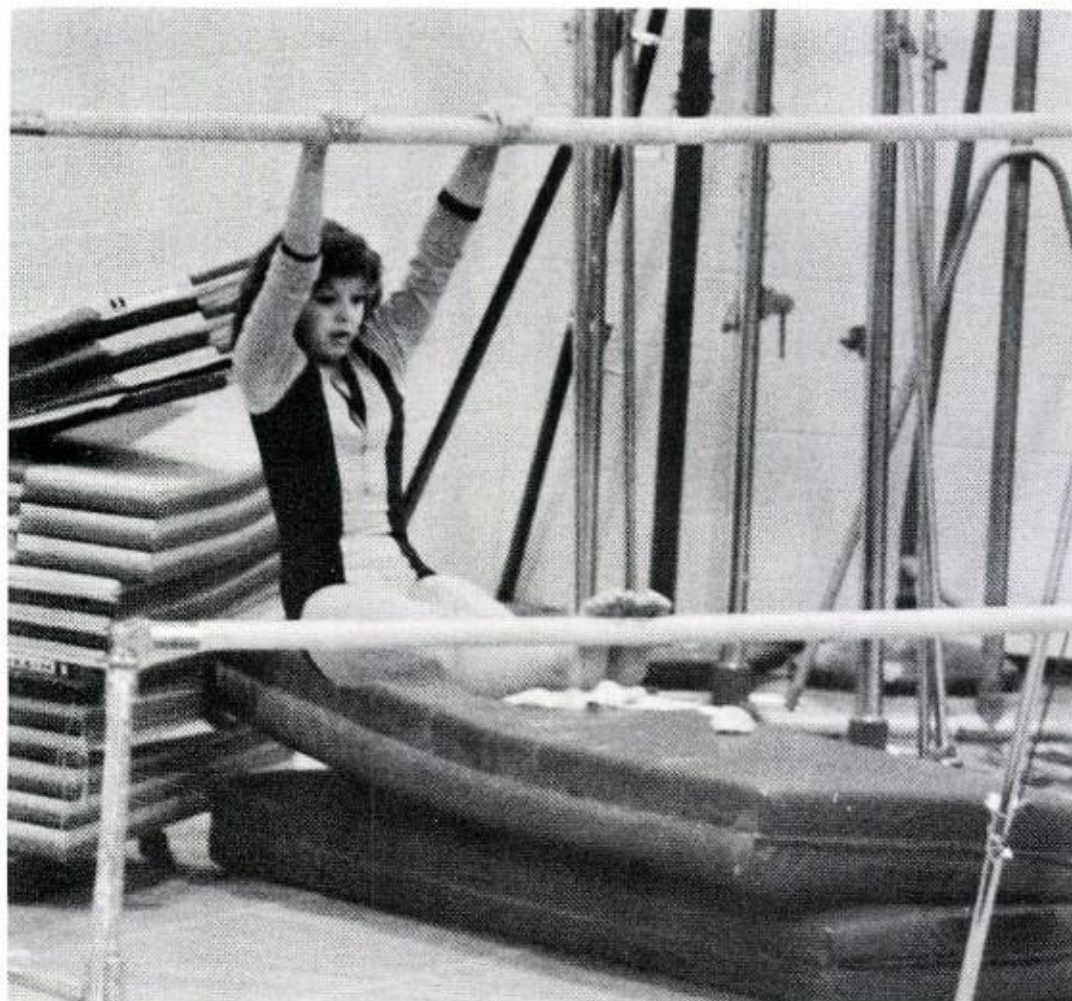

At the end-of-season gymnastic banquet, senior Lori Lochrie received the Most Inspirational and the Most Dedicated awards. Junior Denise Edwards received the Most Valuable award and freshman Marcia Fay was named Most Improved. Co-Captains for the '79 gymnastics team were senior Lori Lochrie and junior Barb Wilson.

The Junior High Gymnastics Team started on January 22 with over 20 participants. The coach for the first three weeks was Mrs. Cindy Martin. Due to a new arrival in the family, she had to leave. Replacing her were Martha Graybill and Michelle Norwood. The team's best meet was at Hanshew, competing with four teams where they placed second. At the end of the season the team voted for awards. Voted most valuable was Kyla Kent; Mari Hamilton and Teresa Fletcher took home most inspirational awards; and Kim Miller claimed the most improved. According to statistics, Mari Hamilton was best on vault, Sonya Welch scored the most on bars, and Kyla Kent stole both the floor exercise and the beam. The gymnasts ended the season with a banquet in March.

The boys' swim team went undefeated in their dual meet season—a first for CHS. The girls were less fortunate, ending their season with a 1 win, 8 loss record.

The Alaska Swimming Coaches Association elected Dick Green as Coach of the Year. Building the swim team from scratch when he came to Chugiak five years ago, one of Coach Green's goals was to develop a program that wouldn't suffer if one person left. This goal will be put to the test next year, as he left CHS second semester to coach swim teams in Hawaii.

More CHS swimmers qualified for Regional finals than ever before. In the state meet Chugiak placed in five events: Joe Lochner, fifth in 200 IM; Ray Marquiss, sixth in 200 free; Mark Collins, fifth in one meter diving; Joe Lochner, John Lindquist, Ray Marquiss, and Kevin Reed, fourth in 400 free relay; Danny Legg, State Diving Champion.

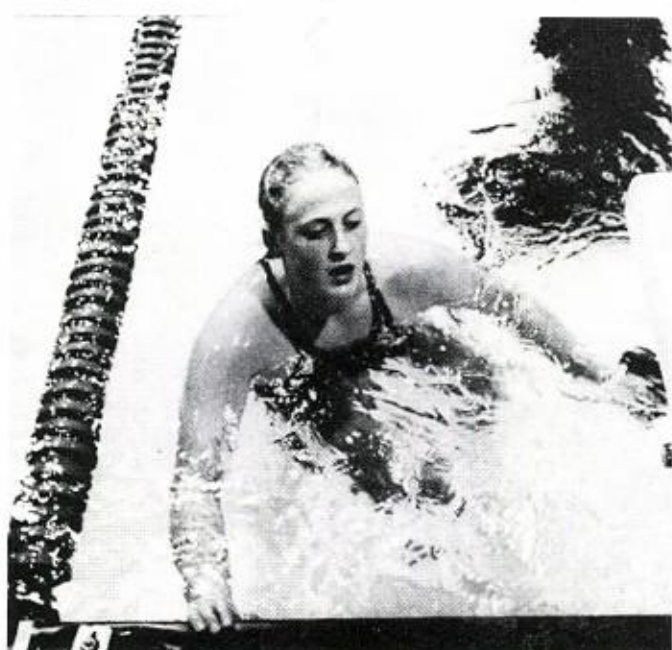

Special awards were presented at the banquet held December 12. Chosen as the Most Inspirational swimmers were Lindquist and Amy Cronk. Cronk and Kevin Reed were the Most Improved, with Cronk and Lindquist as the Most Outstanding.

The Junior High Swim Team started on March 15 with 56 seventh and eighth graders. Forty of them stayed to swim in the 5 meets. The coach was Robb Coady, and the diving coach was Rob Boyer. During a tri-meet with Romig and Hanshew, eighth grader Carl Abrams, in a free relay, pulled up from being 15 yards behind the first place man, and took first place away from him. This was reported by swim team members as the group's most exciting moment of the season. Their best meet was against Clark and Hanshew. Prior to May 5, the guys' record was 3-1, and the girls' record was 2-2. At the end of the season, everyone received a certificate for participating on the swim team. The season ended on May 21.

The Boys' Varsity Hockey Team worked its way through a 21 game season and placed two seniors on the All-Conference Team. A team of 40 players began the season on November 5, and by the time it ended, there were 16 pucksters. They finished with a 4-16-1 win-loss-tie record. The Mustang defeats were over Dimond, Bartlett, and East, twice; Service was their toughest opponent.

Co Captains David Hamilton and Todd Brannon led the team in an attempt to finish in the top four in the Region and season. Although the team placed sixth in the Region, Head Coach Don Bernard and Assistant Coaches Rob Hulse and Kenny Knecht were impressed with the never-ending fighting spirit. The team was also marked to be a very aggressive group, while also executing very clean hockey, as it had the fewest penalties of any one team in the league.

The season ended with a banquet at Coach Don Bernard's house. The Most Improved Player was Chuck Bryant. The Donny Uher Award went to Senior Richie Phillips and there were two Most Valuable Players: Todd Brannon and David Hamilton, who also received the honor of making All Conference Hockey for the 1979-'80 season.

"We need to work on our positive mental attitude."—junior Kenny Pugh

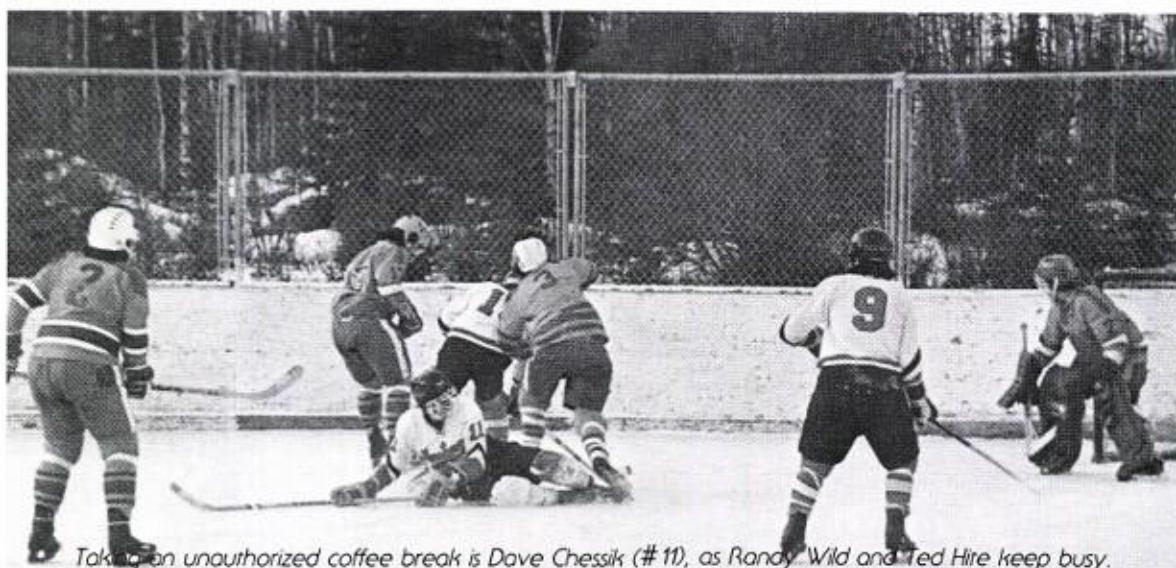

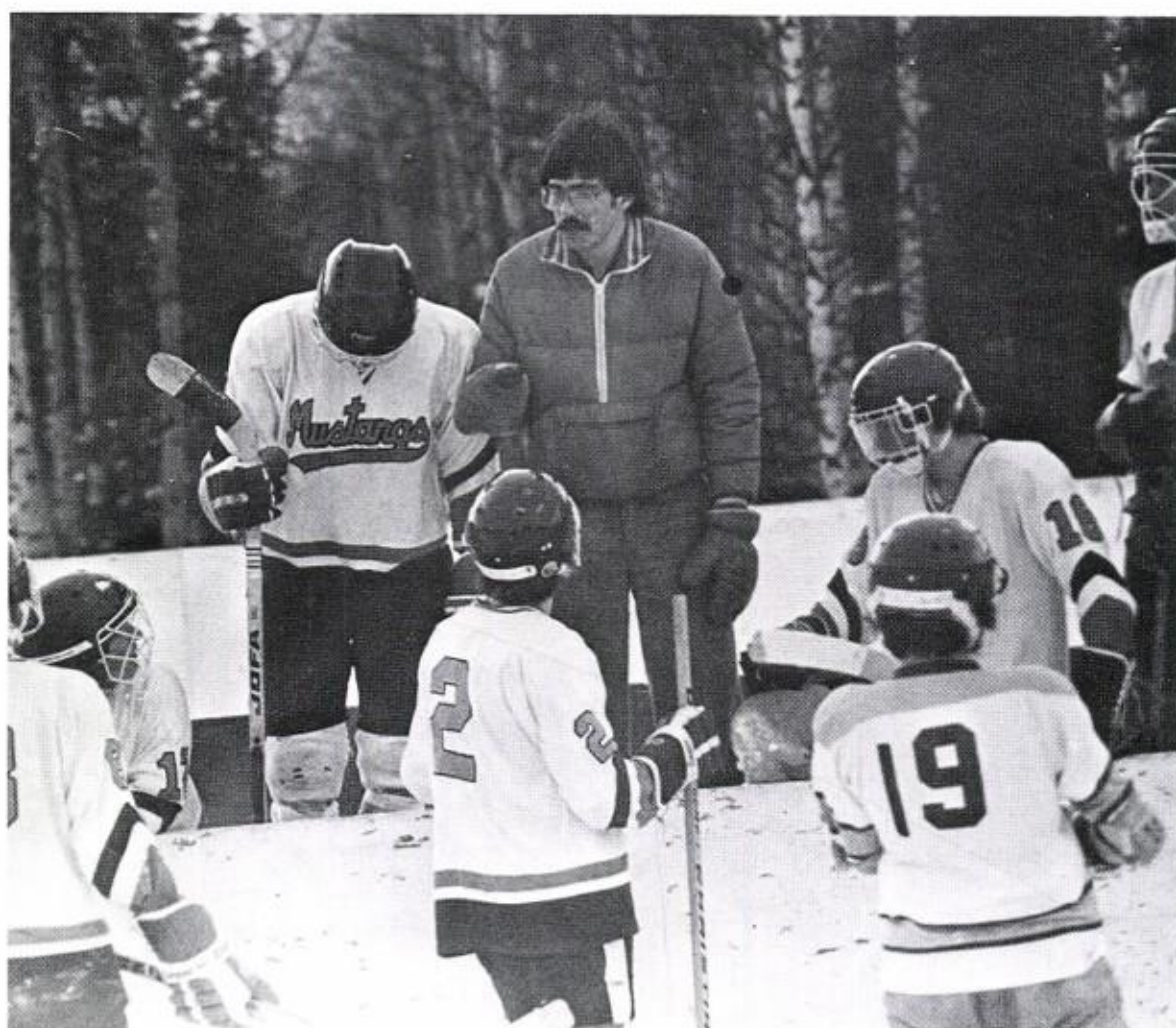

"It was alright."—junior Tyler Hobson

Coached by Rob Hulse, a 1975 graduate of CHS, the junior varsity hockey team took to the rink on December 6 for their first game. They were unable to practice on ice for the month of November due to unfavorable weather conditions, and spent that time getting in shape.

The team started out with twenty-five pucksters, but by the season's end the number was down to fifteen. The remaining one and one-half lines were further hindered by injuries ranging from frost-bitten feet to a broken finger and bad ankles. There was no one to replace the injured. The small number of players reduced the team's competitive level immensely, noted Coach Hulse, making it difficult to keep pressure applied to the team.

The JV hockey team completed the season with four wins, three losses, and two ties. Five games were cancelled due to poor ice conditions.

"Even though we didn't win but one game, I think our coach, Mr. Bill O'Thuse, and Mr. Olson, did a great job." —eighth grader Chuck Bruner

"I think our team is good, and we know what to do when we get out on the ice. Sometimes we don't use our skills together but there are some of us that can skate good." —seventh grader Scott Charles

"I think our team is really good, but when we're in a game we forget everything we learned." —seventh grader Mike Guest

The Junior High Hockey Team ended up with a 1-5-1 record. Their best game was against Mears; it was the fifth game and the Colts won, 5-0. According to Coach O'Thuse, the hardest thing to do all season was to get Rodney Smith, Eric Grant, and Mike Guest to practice on time. The captain of the team was Mike Shapiro, and the assistant captains were Lonnie Wood and Rodney Smith. The season started on January 8 and ended on March 18. Guest and Shapiro tied for the most goals, which was four, and Smith made the most assists; he made five. Twenty-five boys went out for the team and twenty boys stayed throughout the season.

"Not too good," concluded Coach Bill O'Thuse.

The girls' basketball season started on November 5 and lasted until March 8. Ten girls started the season; the same ten ended the season. The captains for the '79-'80 season were Sharon Lee and Renee' Collins. The most valuable player was Kelli Chynoweth. The starting five players were Renee' Collins, Kelli Chynoweth, Sherry Bryant, Lisa Burg, and Sharon Lee. Coach Keffe tried to let everyone play equally.

There were not many returning players this year. According to Coach Kerri Keffe, Kelli Chynoweth was the highest scorer throughout the season. After a rough season the squad went into the region finals in sixth place and after losing the last game to Service by 2 points, they came out sixth. The varsity season ended on March 8.

"It was a good season for the J.V. the players really enjoyed themselves."

—Coach Sampson

The J.V. team played a running game, putting constant pressure on the opposite team while on defense and won many of their games from turnovers. Mr. Jim Sampson felt there was a lot of strength on the team and their quickness made up for their lack of height. Coach Sampson said that there were a number of outstanding players and that they should do well on varsity next year. The J.V. team ended the season with a 9 win, 8 loss record.

"I learned a lot this season, we didn't win many games but we had a lot of fun."—freshman Keith McNall

—Coach Fred Colley

"Compliments would have meant a lot to us. We did the best we could, and tried hard!"—sophomore Melody Hillborn Coached by Mr. Fred Colley, the junior varsity girls' basketball team ended the season with a one-win/fifteen-loss record. Several games were close, lost by only two or three points.

Coach Colley felt that a lack of depth was the reason for the poor record. "We worked hard, though, and the girls learned a lot about themselves."

Colley noted Jackie Dennis as the most improved and inspirational player, and Melody Hillborn as the most valuable.

FRESHMAN GIRLS' BASKETBALL

"It was kind of fun, having only four people. At least we all got to play."

"The season went pretty slow. I liked it, though; it was cool."—Judy Hanks

"We had a rough season this year, but I feel we came out on top."—Jill Wanamaker

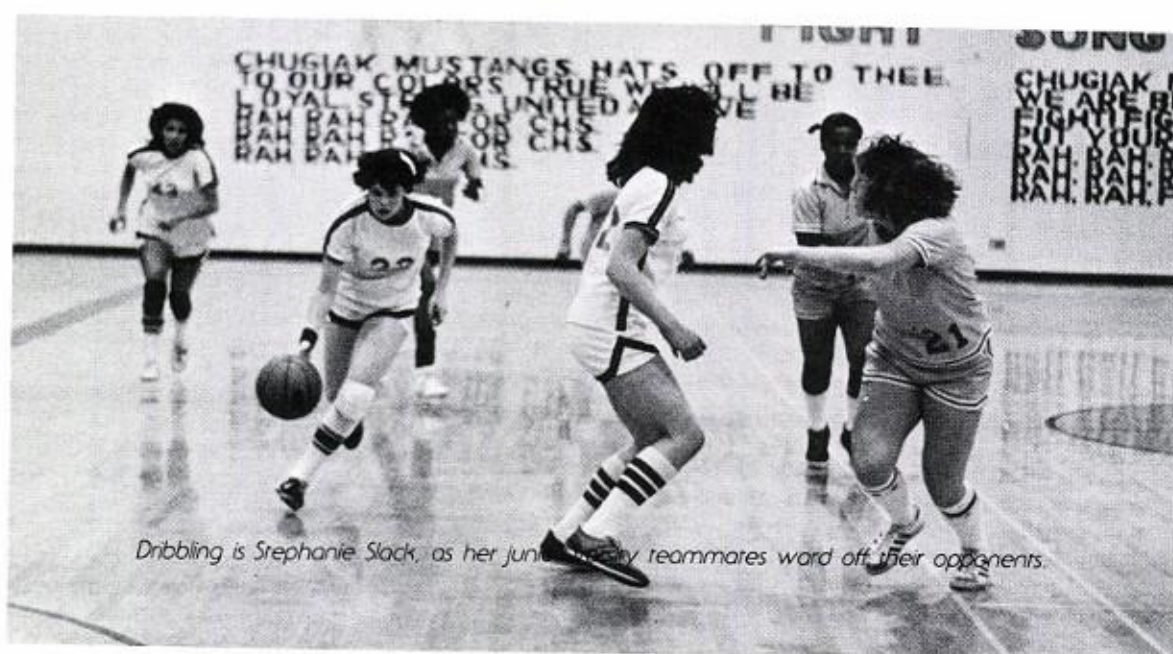

Only four freshmen girls finished this year's basketball season. Coached by Miss Debbie Basham, their final record consisted of three wins and thirteen losses.

With the last seven games wavered, JV players were able to play in the freshmen games. This was necessary in order to avoid forfeiting games.

Awards were presented at a banquet held March 21. Most improved was Judy Hanks, most inspirational and noted as having the most freethrows was Marcie Fay, the most valuable was Jill Wanamaker, and the best offensive player was Michelle Moore.

It takes a lot of team effort to score against the Lynx.

—Coach Cindy Martin

The junior high girls' basketball team ended the season with a 4 win, 3 loss record, putting them in a 3 way tie for third place in the district.

Coach Cindy Martin said that Theresa Fletcher was the most valuable player, Kathy Dennis the most improved, and described Angie Harris as the most inspirational.

The team's captains were Theresa Fletcher and Sally Leedham.

The three games that the girls lost were very close—two by one point, and one by three points. Their toughest opponent was Romig to whom they lost by 3 points.

"It would have gone a lot better without Bill Gould's jokes."—sophomore Karl Stoltze

"Just skip me!"—freshman Jenny Martin

The Mustang Cross Country Ski team was comprised of many talented skiers. Several of these skiers tried out for the Junior National and Arctic Winter team. Senior Tom Lane had a good chance of making the Alaskan Division Team, noted Coach David Christy.

Building a new trail system in the Edmonds Lake area required a lot of the skiers' time during the fall training session. "It is this type of school and community project that makes coaching especially rewarding for me," said Coach Christy.

"This year's team was small, but made up of individuals who have a tremendous amount of spirit and guts; the individuals need this spirit and guts in order to survive these conditions," stated Coach Christy.

This year's outstanding Freshman was Jenny Martin, Most Improved was sophomore Karl Stoltze. Outstanding Boy and Girl Awards went to senior Tom Lane and junior Kistal Baker. The 1979-80 team captains were seniors Tom Lane and Dave Kindred. Awards were given out at the X-C Ski Banquet held in March.

Seventh Graders Support Team; Best Season Ever

"It was a good season for me and the whole seventh grade team."—seventh grader Emil Teague

"All the ski teams did good but we could not have done it without the seventh graders."—eighth grader John Srahl

"I would have won the championship race if both my poles hadn't broke."—seventh grader Greg Smith

"It was a good season and we needed wax maids."—eighth grader Richard Legg

"The seventh grade boys are best in the district."—seventh grader Tom Rollman

"The other skiers were good but we are better."—seventh grader Jerry Sather

"We are the last of the great white athletes."—eighth grader Erik Roulson

"Our skis were too slow."—eighth grader Clint Rogers

"The trails were too icy for skiing."—eighth grader Ben Powell

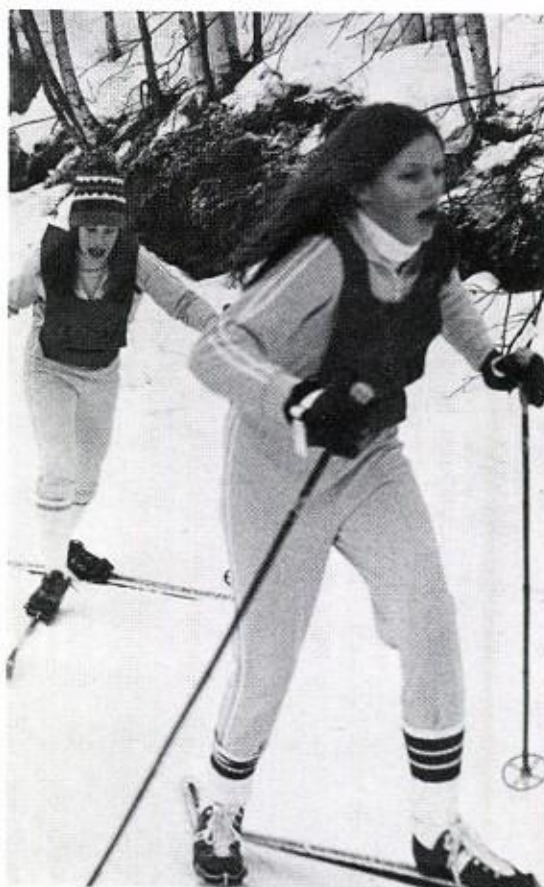

"It was a good season and I had a lot of fun."—eighth grader Teresa Fletcher.

Junior High Cross Country Skiing began January 7 and ended February 27. The two coaches were Mr. Gene Morgan and Mrs. Colny Tucker. At the beginning of ski season 35 students came out with 28 finishing. Both coaches agreed that seventh grader Greg Smith and eighth grader Teresa Fletcher were the best skiers on the team. The most improved skiers were seventh graders Daren Daley and Sally Leedham. Said to be the most inspirational was the seventh grade boys' ski team. Their best meet was the last regular meet which took place at Bartlett. One of the unusual incidents was when Daren Daley beat Greg Smith in the championship race due to Greg breaking both his poles. The team finished second overall in the regular season. In the championships the seventh grade girls finished third, the seventh grade boys finished first, the eighth grade girls finished third, and the eighth grade boys finished fourth.

Undefeated Team Third In Region; Sends 9 To State

"I still love wrestling and am going to come back next year and me and 'the team' will take State—NO SECONDS!"
—junior Gary Fielder.

"This team worked harder and longer, had better spirit and more desire than any team that I've ever coached."—Head Coach Darrel White

"It was a great season—best program in years."—senior Royce Martin

"Considering I had to move here, I think I lucked out in getting into such a studly school to wrestle for."—senior Ron Demers.

"This was the hardest-working team I have ever been associated with. I am very proud to have been a part of it."—Assistant Coach Steve Novelli

"Since it was my first year, it was excellent!"—freshman Tom Nicori

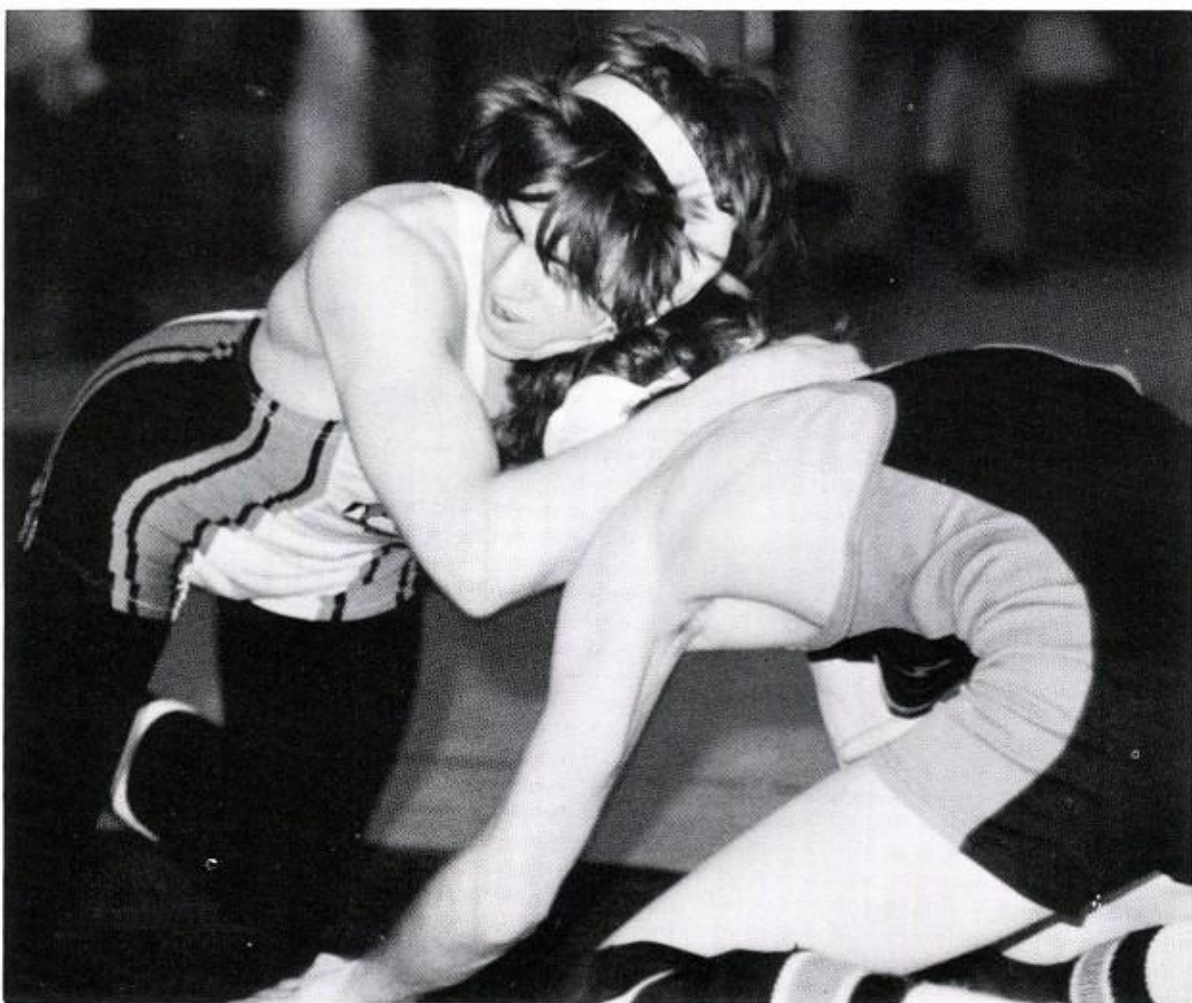

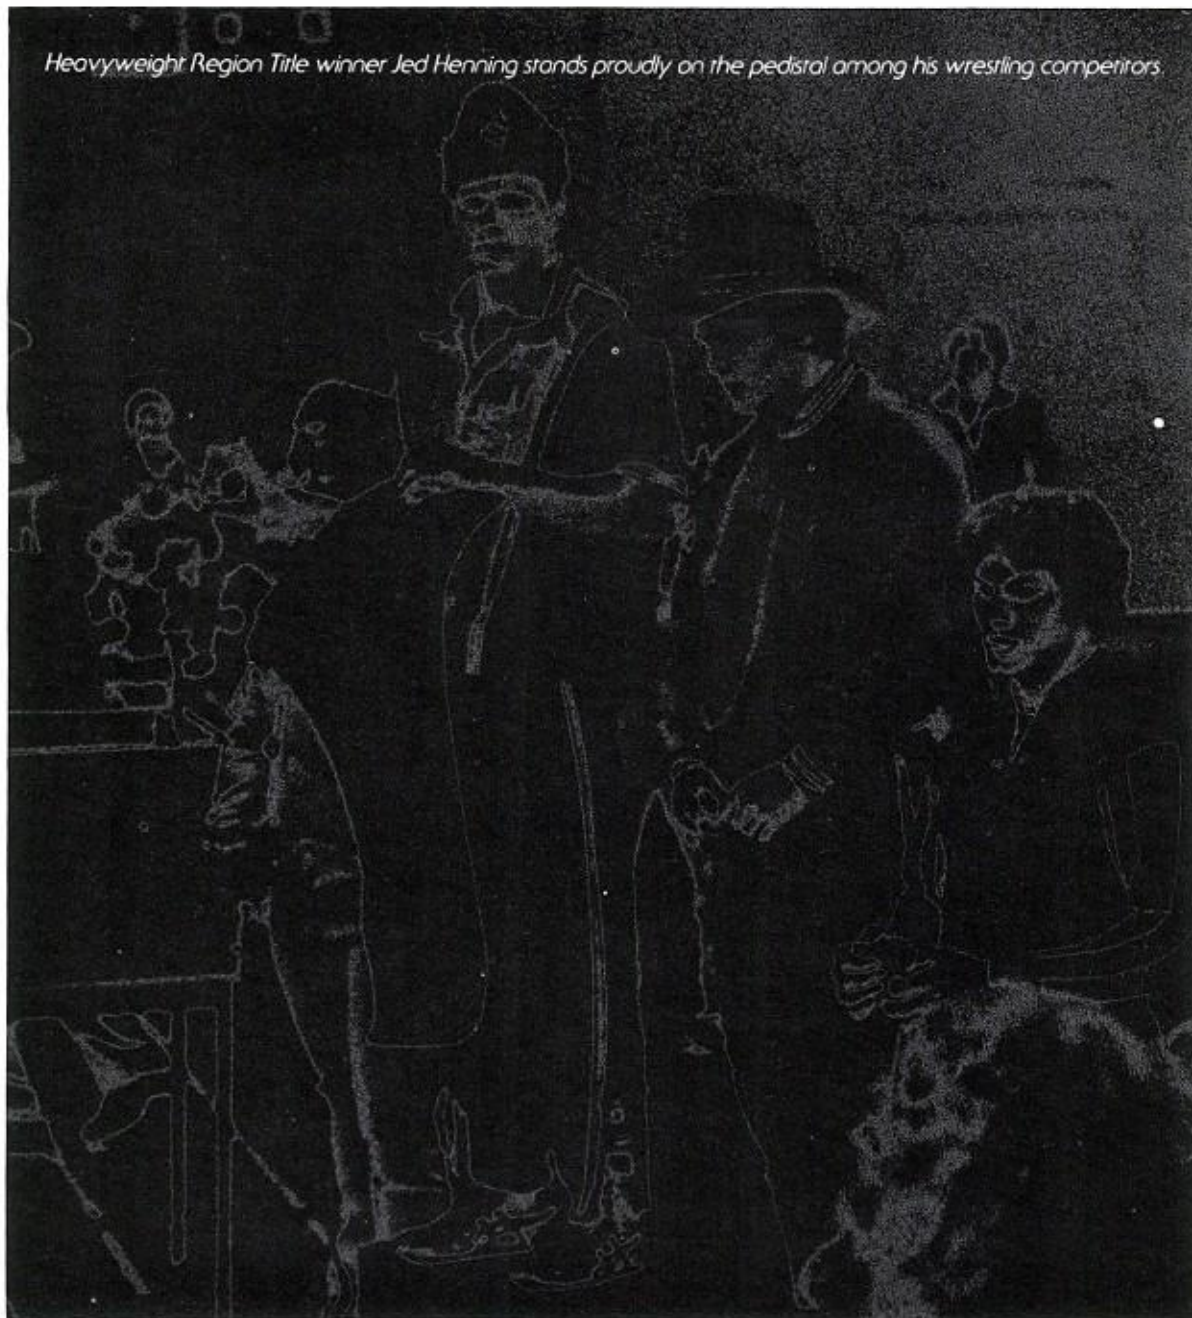

Returning from Christmas vacation on January 7 to begin practice, twelve grapplers appeared in the halls of CHS with Mohawks. Pictures of their new hairstyles not only made the local papers, but the Associated Press as well, so people across the country could see the Chugiak wrestling team's dedication.

The 1980 season marked the first time that the varsity team ever went undefeated and untied, with a total of 23 wins. They defeated both Service and Kenai three times each in the dual meet season, only to place third in the Region IV Tournament behind Service and West, and second in the State Tournament behind Kenai.

The junior varsity team, coached by Steve Novelli and Kerry Welch, ended the season with 11 wins and 2 losses. They lost to West and Service after defeating each of them once before. The team lost numerous members due to injuries, noted Coach Novelli, and also suffered from a lack of depth.

Nine wrestlers placed in the Region IV Tournament. They were: Bob Jones, 105 pounds, first; Mark Jardine, 105, third; Brian Broderick, 112, fourth; David Thomas, 132, first; Terry Simpson, 132, second; Gary Fielder, 155, first; Jeff Allen, 155, fourth; Jerry McGowen, 185, second; Jed Henning, HWT, first. These entered the State Tournament, where six placed: Bob Jones, first; Mark Jardine, fourth; David Thomas, first; Terry Simpson, second; Gary Fielder, second; Jed Henning, second.

Colt Grapplers Take First Spot; Win Championship

"Coach Phillips and Coach Walt were the main reason we took first in the tournament." —seventh grader Dale Donadio

"It was the best season the junior high ever had!" —seventh grader Hans Anderson

"Wrestling is wrestling, and we're number one!" —eighth grader James Jinks

"We did great!" —seventh grader Ken Jinks

"We showed the school who the studs really are!" —eighth grader Shane Hyson

"Hanshaw isn't as great as they thought they were." —seventh grader and team manager Craig Sanborne

"Studs of the year!" —eighth grader Lee Van Horn

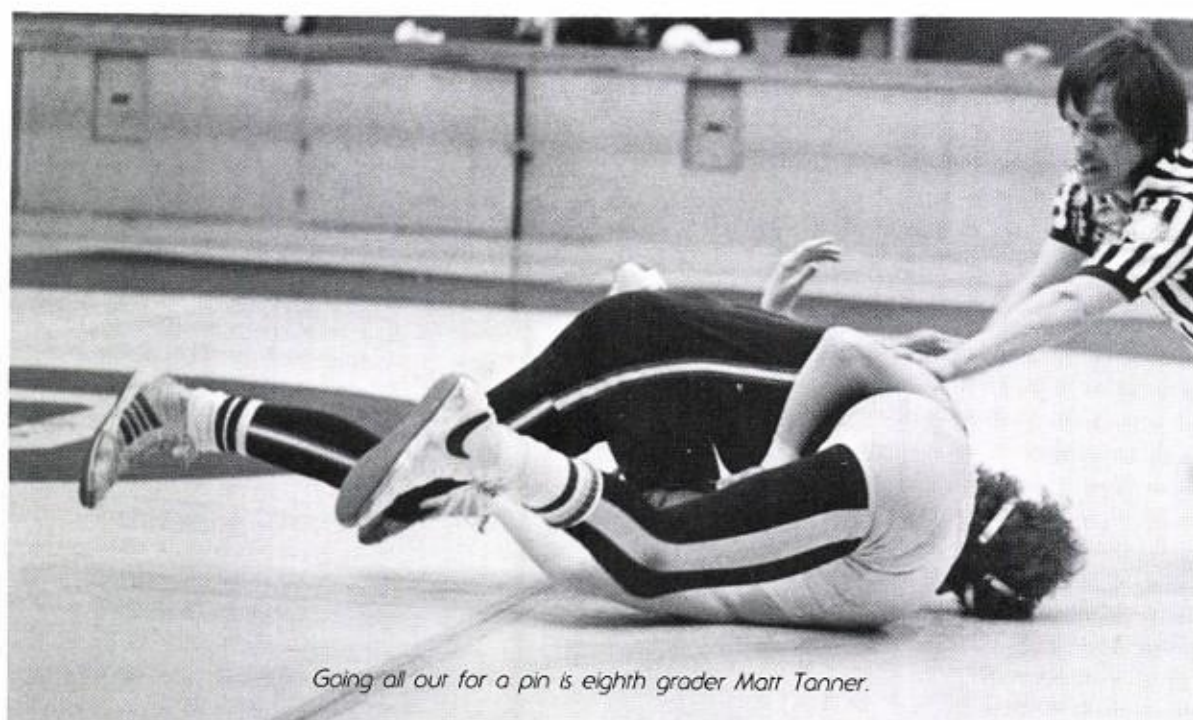

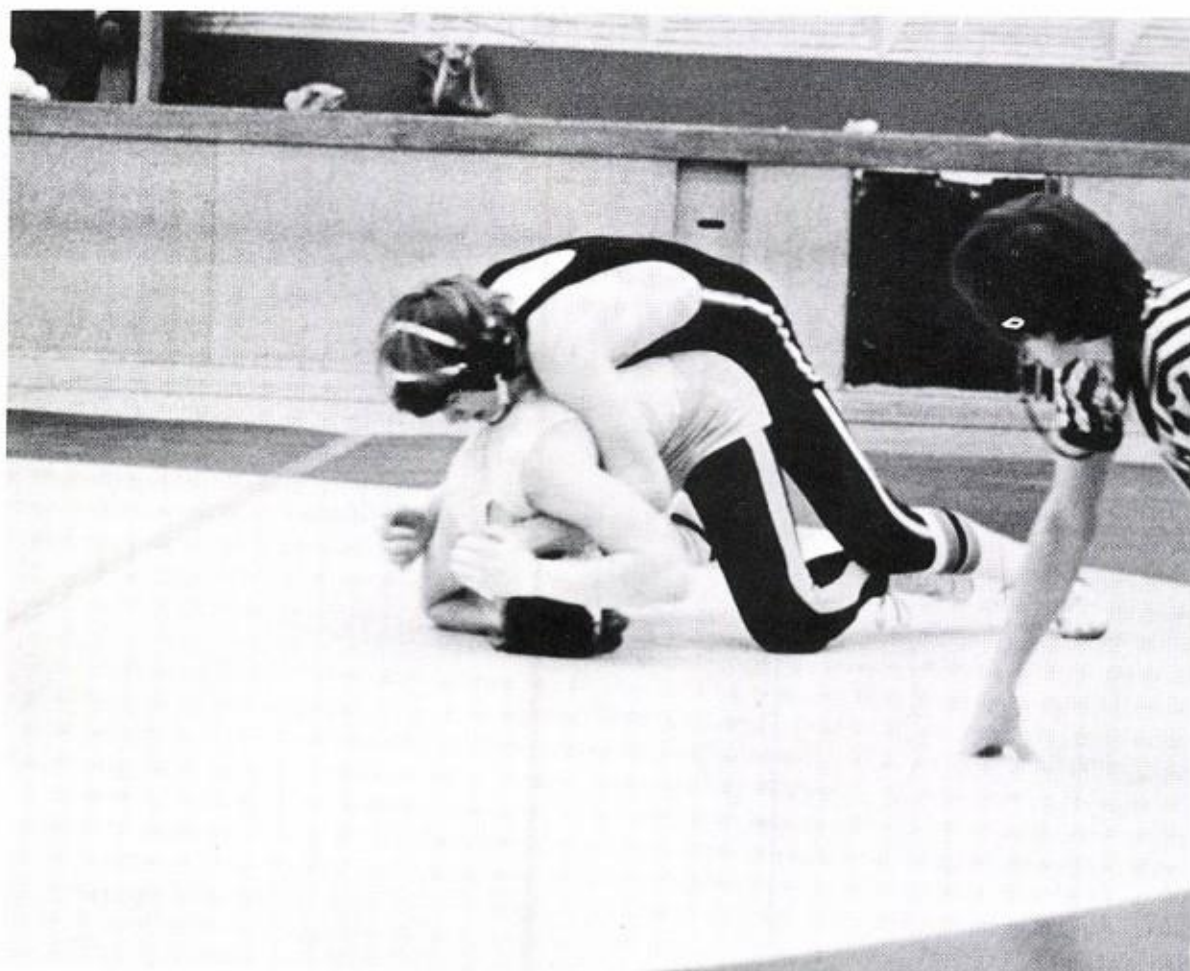

The junior high wrestling team got off to a good start this season by winning their first two exhibition matches by a large margin. The Colts then went on to a nearly undefeated season losing only to Hanshaw by one point. This left them with a 5 win, 1 loss record for the season.

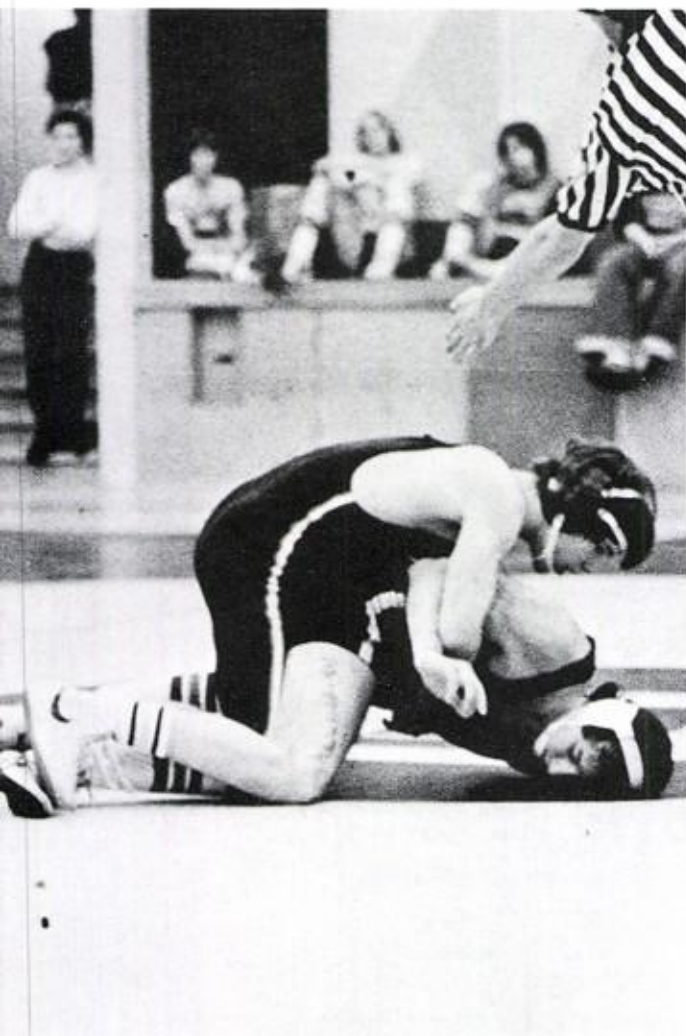

Coach Hal Phillips and assistant Coach Walter Thomas, after watching all the wrestlers carefully during the season, decided that James Jinks was the most improved wrestler; Rodney Cummings, the most outstanding; and Tyrone Hanna the most inspirational.

In the district tournament which took place March 19 and 20, the Colts took the championship title. Five Gruening grapplers: Scott Kieser at 80 pounds, Matt Tanner at 120, Tyrone Hanna at 125, Rodney Cummings at 130, and Tom Huffer at 145, placed first. Among the others who placed were Rodney Jackson, Mike Barnhart, Gary Swanson, Mike Knight, Winston Kaltbach, and James Jinks.

On March 21, the Colts traveled to Fairbanks for an invitational tournament as a part of the Midnight Sun Wrestling Club. They placed second out of the 8 teams participating, just behind North Pole. Heavyweight wrestler James Jinks was the only Gruening participant to place first, but many others placed high.

Coach Phillips anxiously awaits the outcome of a match.

"What do I do now?" wonders eighth grader Rodney Cummings, as he attempts to put the Mears fish on his back.

CHS Rifle Team Places Nationally; Best Season Ever

"I think we were very strong; the team was more cohesive; we stuck together more than any other rifle team has at Chugiak has in the past."—senior Andy Dekreon

"Our team was hurt by the loss of last year's seniors, but all in all we did well enough without them."—senior Ralph Kiehl

"We didn't win as many matches as we would have liked too, but overall we still did well."—senior Ed Penisten

"The only part of the season that wasn't absolutely great was when we found out that we took third in the championship match. —junior Alyson Headle

"Shooting really helps when you run cross country against a team like Dimond." —sophomore Tom Hickey

The season started late in September and ended in late February. The team practiced daily for the matches that were held each month. Matches this year included The Mayors' 100 and National Rifle Association Sectional match.

"This year's Rifle Team was the best team I have ever had," stated Coach Ted Bradley. The 1979-80 Rifle Team placed third in the championships in late February.

The highlights of the rifle season were the Mayor's 100 and the N.R.A. Sectionals for the high school team. In the Mayor's 100, Chugiak had 18 qualifying members. Freshman Mike Hickey was the top qualifying rifle team member. In the N.R.A. Sectionals the team placed first in the scholastic division. The N.R.A. Sectionals include the entire United States.

"Next year our goal will be to knock off Bartlett; next year we should be stronger than ever," said Coach Bradley. There were nine lettermen on the squad this year. Too of the nine were four year lettermen. The top three marksmen were senior Ed Penisten, with an 87%, senior Ralph Kiehl with an 86%, and senior Andy Dekreon with an 83%.

"We had a good coach and we had a good year!"—seventh grader Shane Ryan

"It would be great if I could shoot!"—seventh grader Randy Franklin

"It was an okay team but, needed more improvement and more cleaning rods."—eighth grader Jay Sather

"I had lots of fun and had a good year."—seventh grader Joel Jones

Showing excellent form are members of the Junior High Rifle Team.

Riflery started January 7 and ended February 29. A Riflery Club was also formed this year which started in October and ended in December. Fifteen shooters turned out at the beginning of the season and ten stayed until the end. According to team coach Mr. Jack Fiske, the best shooter on the team was seventh grader Shane Ryan. The most improved was seventh grader Patty Callaway. Said to be most inspirational was eighth grader Troy Kusick. The season record was 0 wins-5 losses. The group also shot in the Mayor's 100, competing against area teenagers and adults. Also some members of the team participated in NRA (National Rifle Association) competitions at the marches. Participants shot in positions: prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing. At the end-of-season championships the team finished second, behind Romig Junior High.

Small Turnout Cripples Team, Spirit Runs High Boys' Track

"I'm where I want to be... at the top, but sometimes this team makes me really depressed."—senior Jerome Durr

"It would be a lot better for me if Jerome had been only four feet tall!"—junior Bill Gould

"It's the best place to sell my drugs during the spring!"—junior Tim Martin

"Good year for the discus throwers and the shot putters; everybody else..."—sophomores Greg Craig and Robert Olson

"It's a 'Rom' to be injured during track!"—freshman Paul Sraso

The 1980 Boys' Track Team began practice March 17. With only about 25 boys out of 45 starters, the team suffered from lack of team unity, spirit, and team participation.

Coach Don Sanders cited the following tracksters as the basic nucleus of the 1980 team: seniors Jerome Durr, Craig Johnson, Joe Lochner, David Lester, and John Herzog; juniors John Wanamaker and Pat Garrity. This year's team captains were Joe Lochner, Jerome Durr, and David Lester.

Girls' Track

"If I could get out of the blocks, I could do better; our 440 relay team is excellent!"—junior Kistal Baker

"It might have helped if there would have been a lot more girls."—junior Meg Penisten

"If my partner Kistal could get out of the blocks in the 100, we might have a decent sprint team."—junior Amy Sraso

"I liked the season; next year will be even better!"—freshman Jenny Martin

The Girls' Track Team roster stayed pretty much the same throughout the season. The team had eleven freshmen and sophomores, five juniors and one senior.

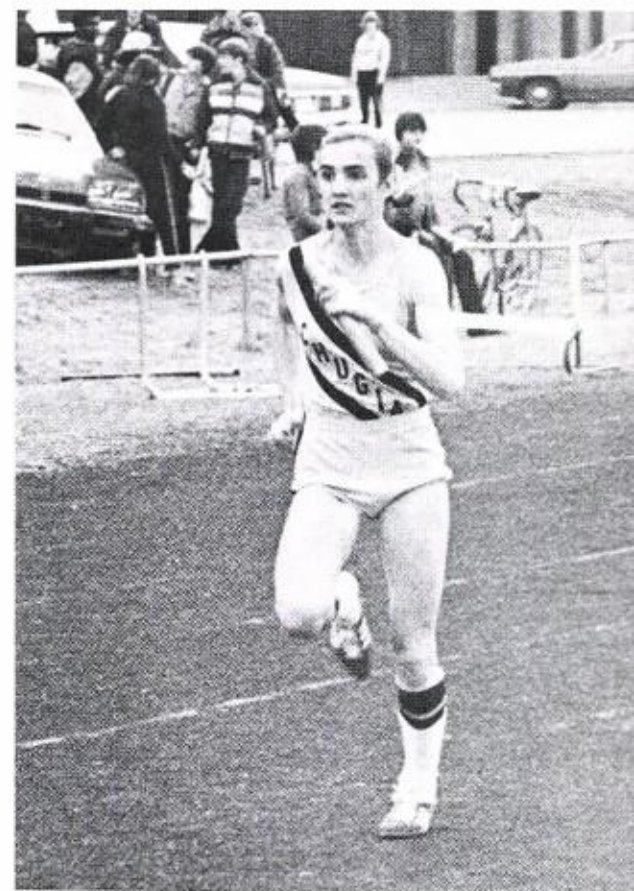

"The team's enthusiasm and spirit ran high and we had many individual improvements throughout the season," said Coach Renee Henry.

Cited as most improved throughout the season were Sally Tritt in the triple jump, Amy Sraso in the 220, Nola Sommers in the discus and Kelly Kirk in the high jump. Meg Penisten was most valuable to the team. Team captains were Meg Penisten and Kistal Baker.

Small Turnout Features Many Individual Victors

"All our track coaches are super cool."—eighth grader Don Chase

"Coach Colley doesn't push us very hard."—eighth grader Tim McClung

"We needed rougher practices, and I enjoy going to the meets and winning."—eighth grader Tom Cook

"Coaches are alright, and track is fun."—seventh grader Chris Townsend

"Coach Colley made me run the 440."—eighth grader John Strahl

"If you have talent, track is fun."—eighth grader Jeff Belmudes

"I like the good-looking guys at the meet."—eighth grader Angela Harris

"I hate the 100 yd. dash but I love the 80 yard hurdles."—seventh grader Jens Francis

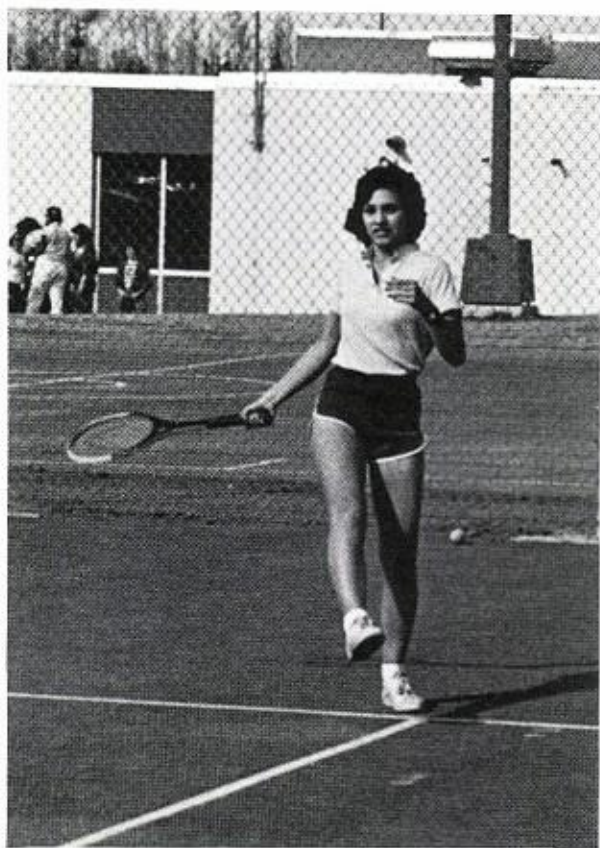

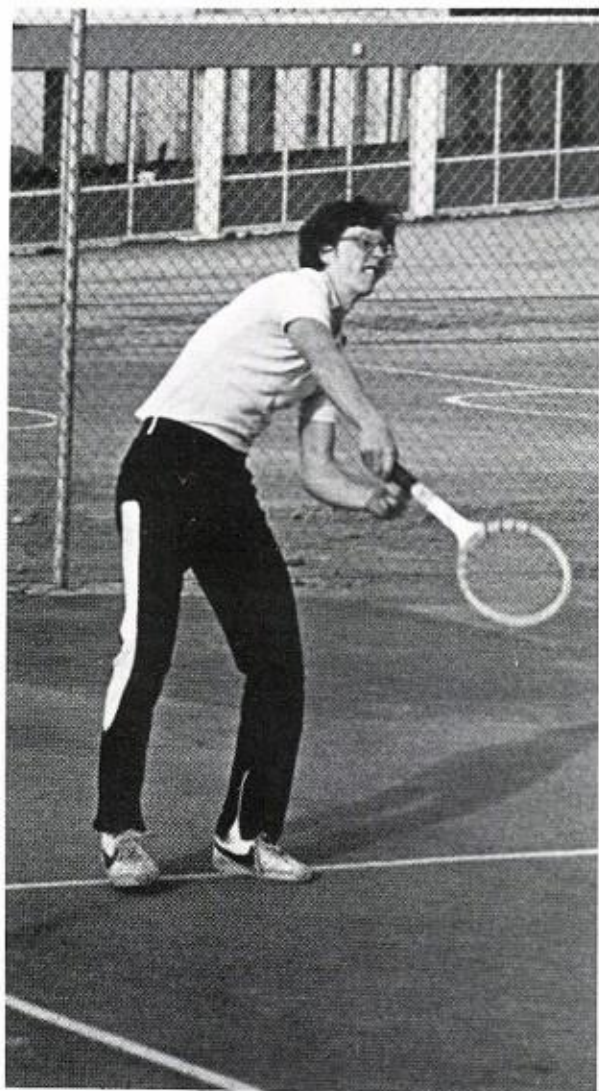

Track season began April 9 with 45 track participants. Some of the premier team scorers were eighth graders Teresa Flercher-440 yard run, Jeff Belmudes-shot put, Tom Cook-high jump, Tim McClung-100 and 200 yard dashes, and Gloria Holthaus-shot put, and seventh grader Camille Denning-discus. The coaches were Mr. Gene Morgan, eighth grade girls; Mrs. Colny Tucker, seventh grade girls; Mr. Fred Colley, eighth grade boys; and Mr. Ken Kirk, seventh grade boys. Their best meet was against Central Junior High when the eighth grade girls got twelve out of thirteen first places. This year the track team won one total meet and lost six. Track season ended May 22.

Pacing themselves for the strenuous mile run, seventh graders Chris Townsend and Anne Holmsen try to keep ahead.

Enjoying the sunshine are Richie Phillips and Amy Shapiro.

Concentrating on swatting mosquitos is junior Jody Brion.

Trying to mix some dancing with tennis is Suzanne Kisee.

Partners Ian Jenkins and Kent Logan congratulate each other.

Grimacing with effort, sophomore Laura Connell attempts to perfect her backhand on the return.

Prepared for the weather is Coach "Mac" Owen.

Tennis Players Gain Experience, Anticipate Change

"Life's not a bowl of cherries when you double fault at break-point."—junior Rob Bryant

"There's nowhere to go but up!"—sophomore Laura Connell

"We've improved and plan to improve more next year."—freshman Duane Cole

"We are pleased with our performance."—juniors Melissa Elliott and Suzanne Kissee

"We have a pretty good team all around."—sophomore Kevin Miller

"The competition is great!"—sophomore Marsha Smith.

"Oh, beans! Do what I tell ya!"—Coach "Mac" Owen

"I wish I had a nickel for every match we lost."—junior Jody Brion

"I've learned a lot."—junior Jen Harjehausen

With six returning lettermen, the 35-member tennis team commenced practice on March 31. The bulk of the team were beginners, making it a very inexperienced group. Of the 28 members that completed the season, none were seniors.

This was the thirteenth year that Coach "Mac" Owen has coached tennis; her third at CHS.

Coach Owen noted the girls' doubles were excellent and competitive, while all the singles were weak.

Tennis season for the 1980-81 school year will be moved to the fall, competing with numerous other sports. Mrs. Owen feels that the team will prosper by the change because the players will have two months of practice behind them.

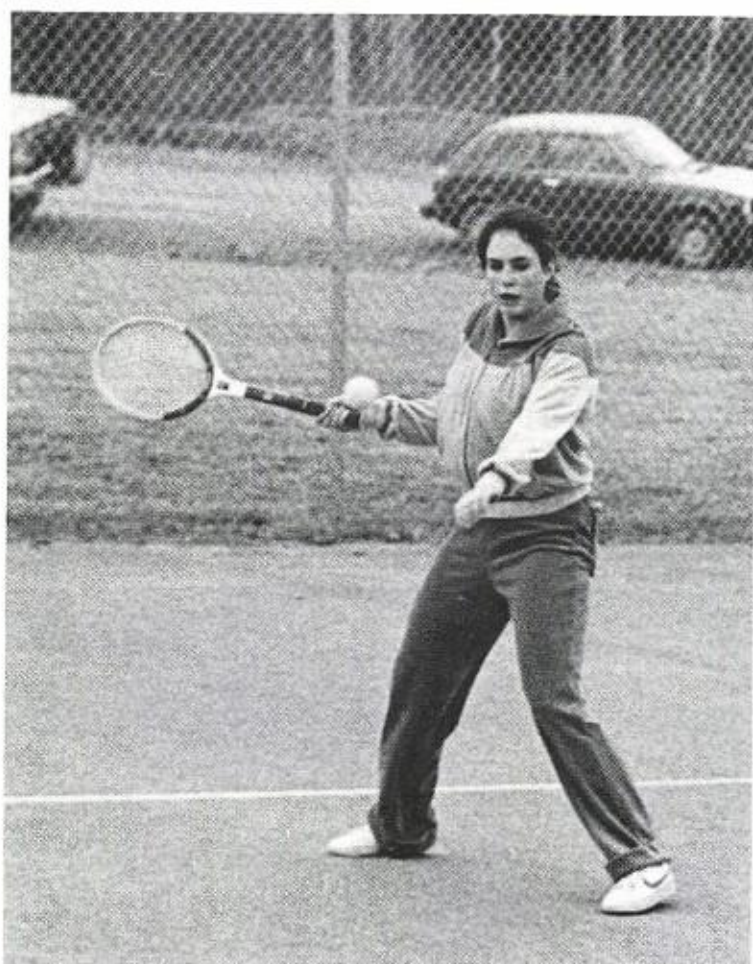

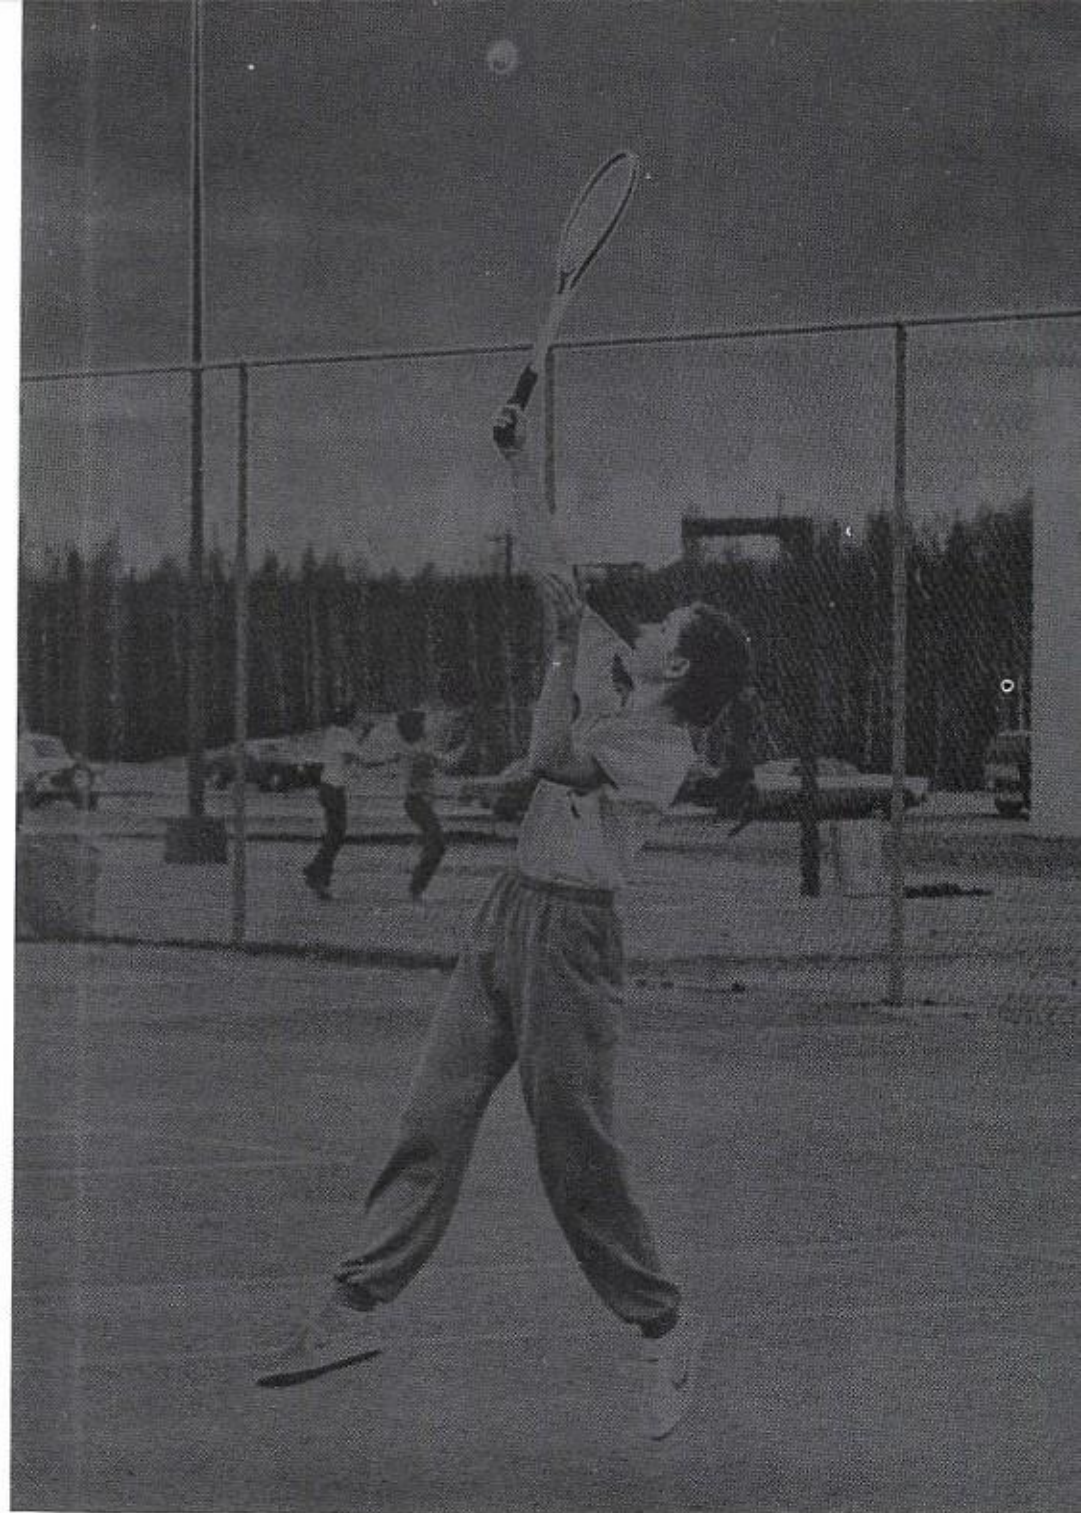

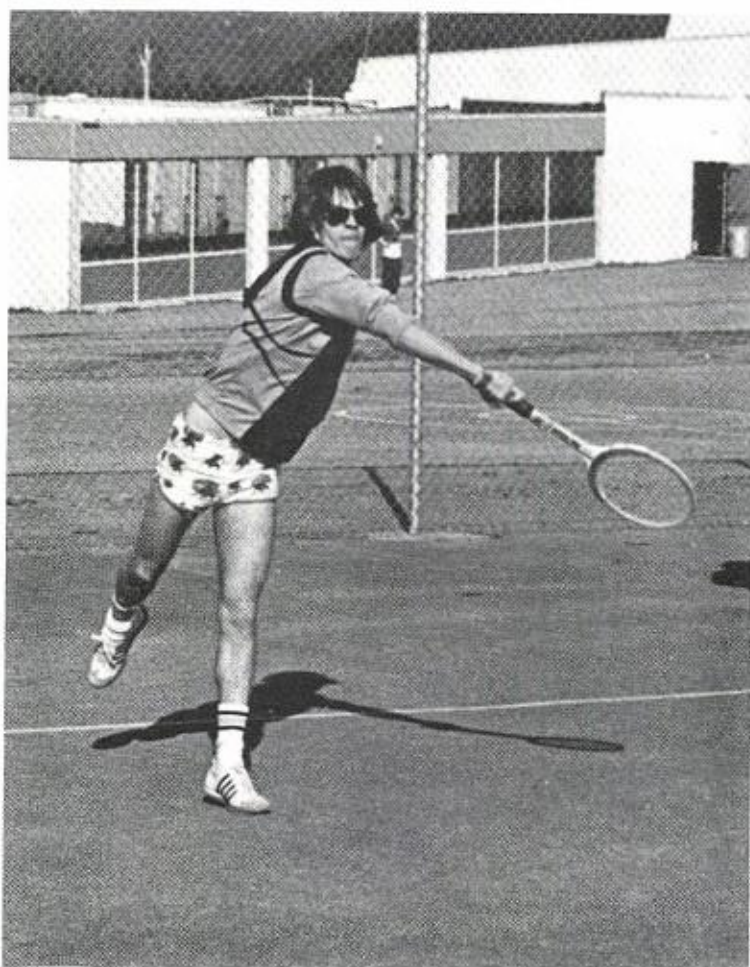

The large number of players made it impossible for everyone to compete, and a lot of juggling had to be done. They are looking forward to possibly having a JV team in the future, which would help solve this problem.

Good sportsmanship is an important part of the game, as demonstrated by Kevin Miller after a vigorous work-out.

Chugiak tennis player, Kent McNall, endorses Fruit of the Loom underwear.

Sophomore Jennifer Ginsburg keeps her eyes on the ball for a return shot.

Determination marks the face of junior Dan Welch as he fires off the return.

Tennis player Burch Moore grimaces as he attempts to smash the ball to the other team.

Sophomore Dawn Kissee diligently tries to shake off the result of a stray dogpile.

Administration Organizes CHS For Decade's Start

"Tremendous"—Principal, Mr. Ed Nash

"I've worked in many of the Anchorage schools; I feel Chugiak is the best!"—

Student Services Principal, Mr. Guy Fisher

"Interesting, busy, different—is how I would describe this school year. The attitude, participation, and interest of the students and teachers has improved like never before."—Activities Principal, Mr. Bill Kuhlmann

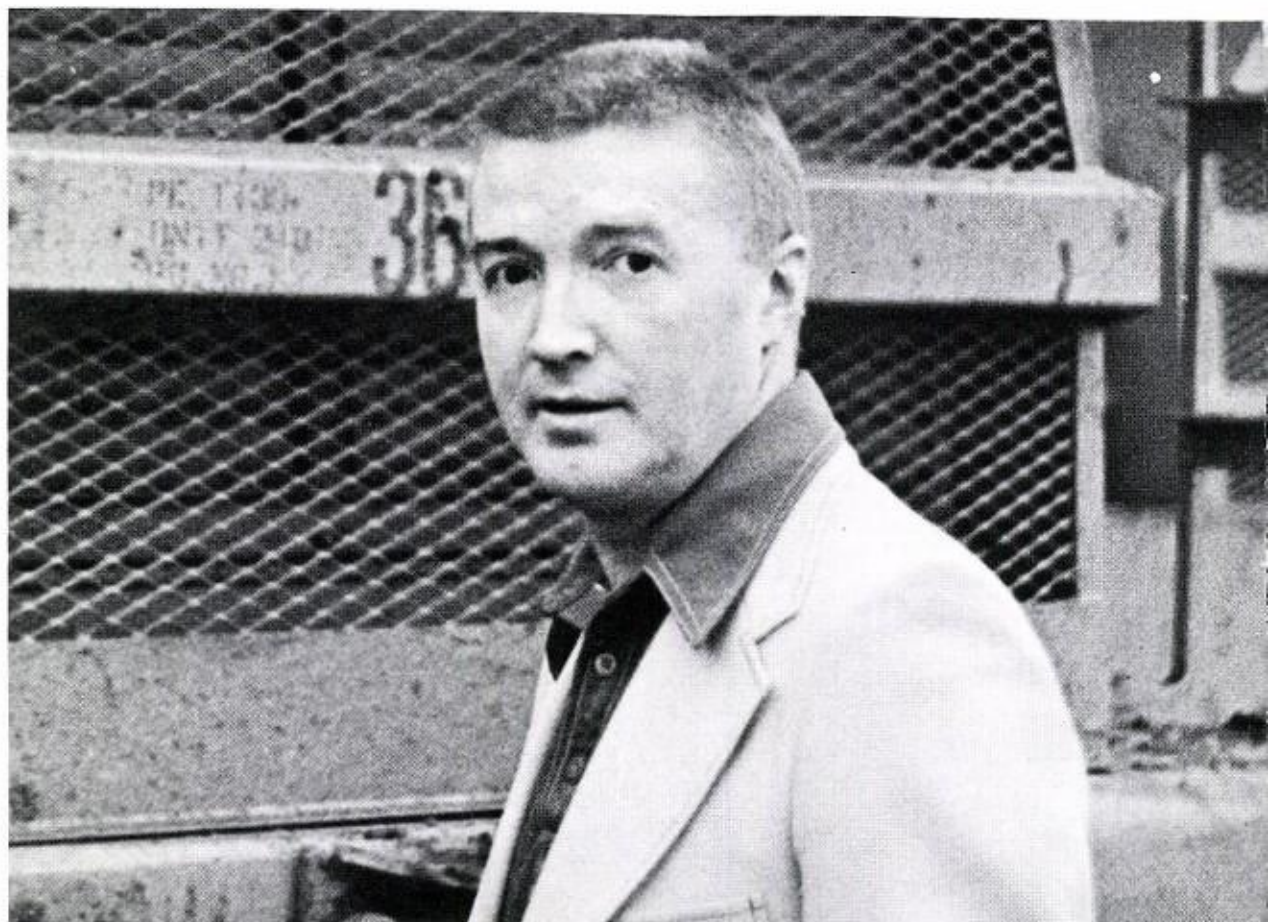

"Very good school year—never have I worked with a better bunch of kids, as far as their attitude, ability, and behavior is concerned."—Junior High Principal, Mr. George Penrose

"Gr-r-r-r-eat!"—Curriculum Principal, Mrs. Debbie Reading.

Five Chugiak-Gruening administrators were charged with the responsibility of 1430 CHS students this year. Mr. Ed Nash, principal, supervised the work of one hundred faculty members, including 69 full and part-time teachers. This was his eleventh year at Chugiak. Mr. Bill Kuhlmann, activities principal, was coordinator for all sports and activities schedules for both the junior and senior highs. He has been here for eight years. Mr. George Penrose, junior high principal, had many responsibilities ranging from curriculum to attendance and discipline for the seventh and eighth graders. He has worked at Chugiak-Gruening for four years. Mr. Debbie Reading, curriculum principal, was in charge of the academic progress of all senior high students. Mrs. Reading has worked at Chugiak-Gruening for two years. A new addition to our administration was Mr. Guy Fisher, student services principal. His responsibilities included taking care of attendance and discipline for the senior high. Mr. Fisher arrived at the beginning of this year.

Anxiously looking for that last book is Gertrude Batten.

Communication Is Subject Of Various Language Teachers

"Some students borrow books, read them and return them. Others just put them into their friend's lockers and end up paying for them."—Mrs. Gertrude Batten

"Skin Power!"—Mr. Robert Boyer

"Clean your negative and give it a number four!"—Mr. Tom Cresap

"Bien!"—Mrs. Susan Heitkamp

"More power to the writing on the walls!"—Mr. Robert Hickey

"Wo-o-o-oh!"—Miss Kerry Keefe

"What would Hester have to do to get an A+?"—Mrs. Judy McNall

"Take it from the top!"—Ms. Gay Monreverde

"All right, class!"—Mrs. Ethel Owen

"All right! Okay!"—Mrs. Lora Nita Parsons

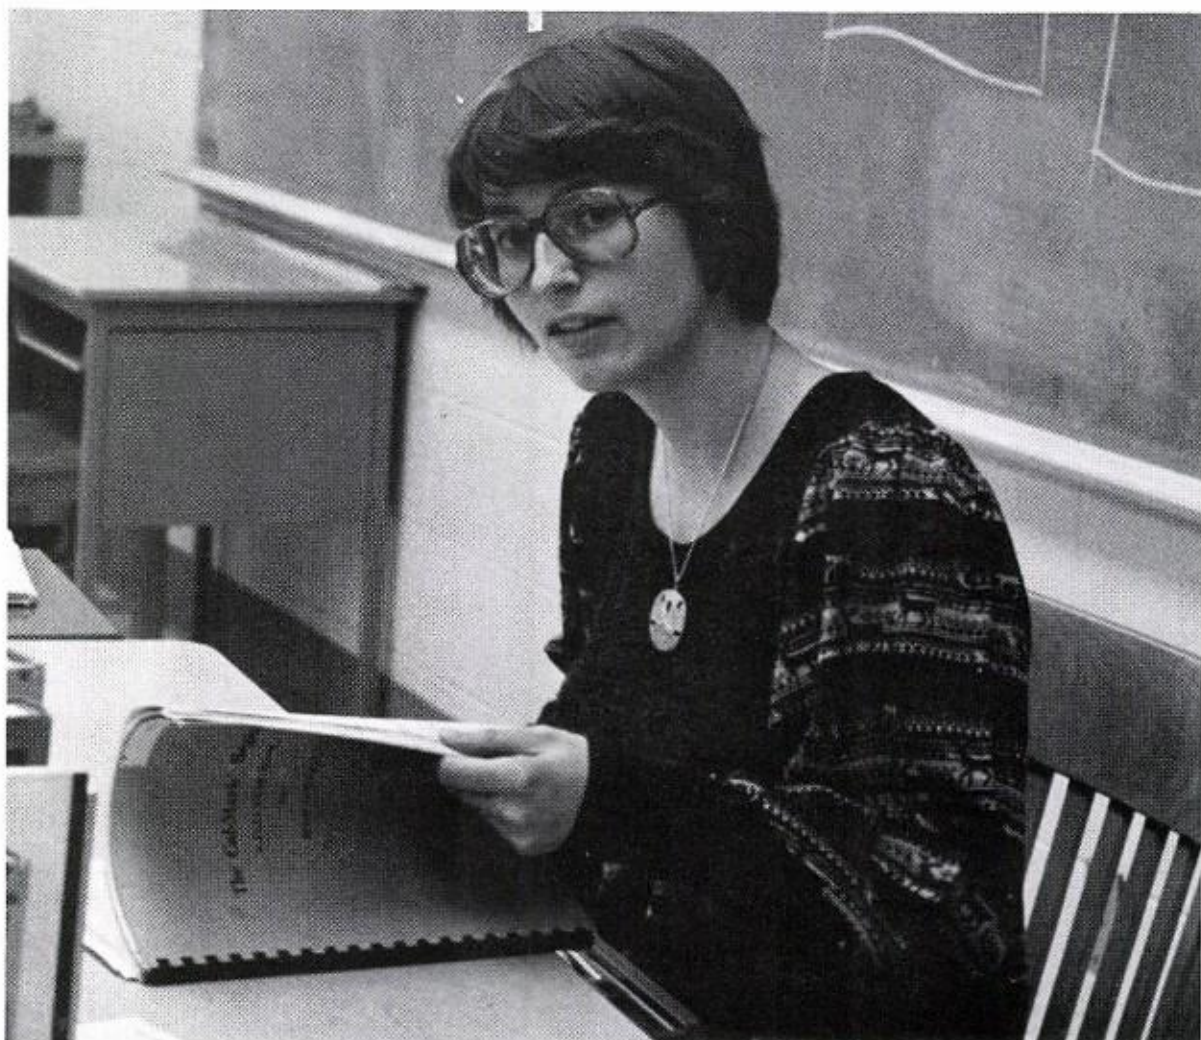

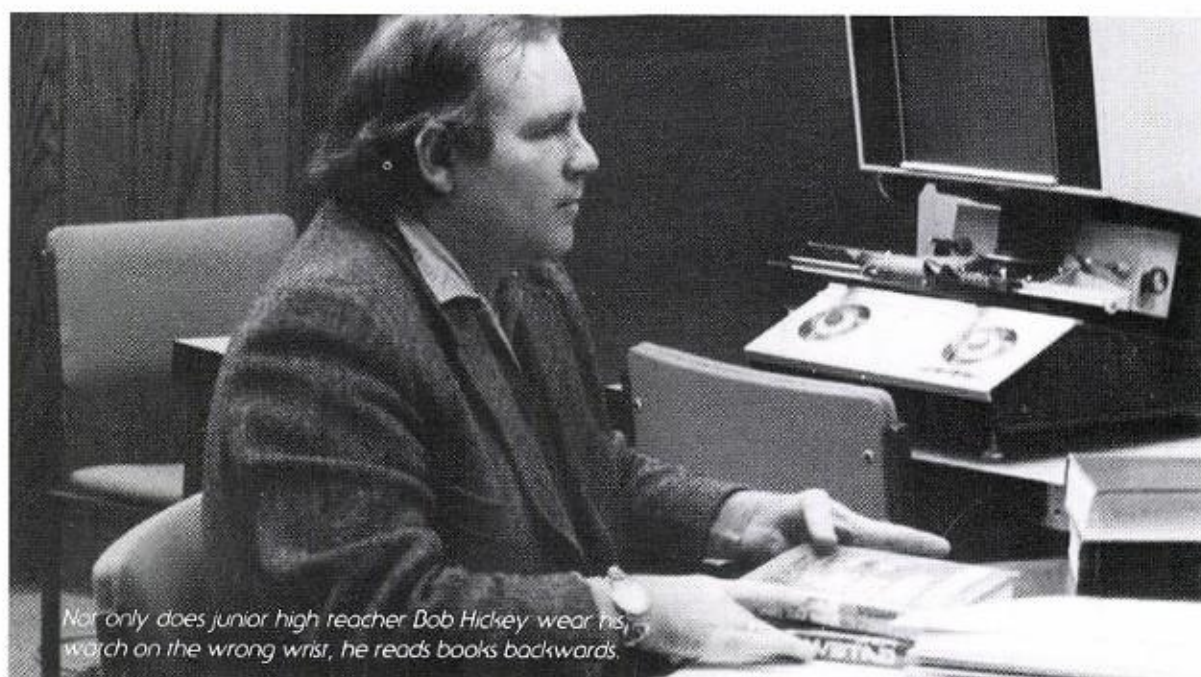

"One thing about our English classes—no one has ever died of laughter!"—Mrs. Virginia Smith

"Did I ever tell you about my cousin Woody, who went off a ski jump on a snow shovel? They buried him in a bass fiddle case.—Booga Booga"—Mr. Jim Taylor

"Don't just talk or write, say something!"—Mrs. Susan Thrasher

"Be quiet!"—Ms. Carolyn Williams.

Fifteen instructors were involved in teaching Language Arts classes at Chugiak Gruening. These classes stressed the basics of reading, writing, and spelling, but varied in content from Sports, Mystery, and Fantasy, to Individualized Writing to Literature of the North. The department this year was heavily involved in the Anchorage Writing Project. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Thrasher were resource teachers for the project, and Mrs. Parsons and Mrs. Owen participated in some of the classes offered. The department sent three representatives to the State English Teachers' Convention, which was held during November in Bethel.

"I'm sorry, but you failed the last test," English teacher Susan Thrasher willingly explains to a concerned student.

Trying unsuccessfully to get some action from an unenthusiastic female is Tom Cresap.

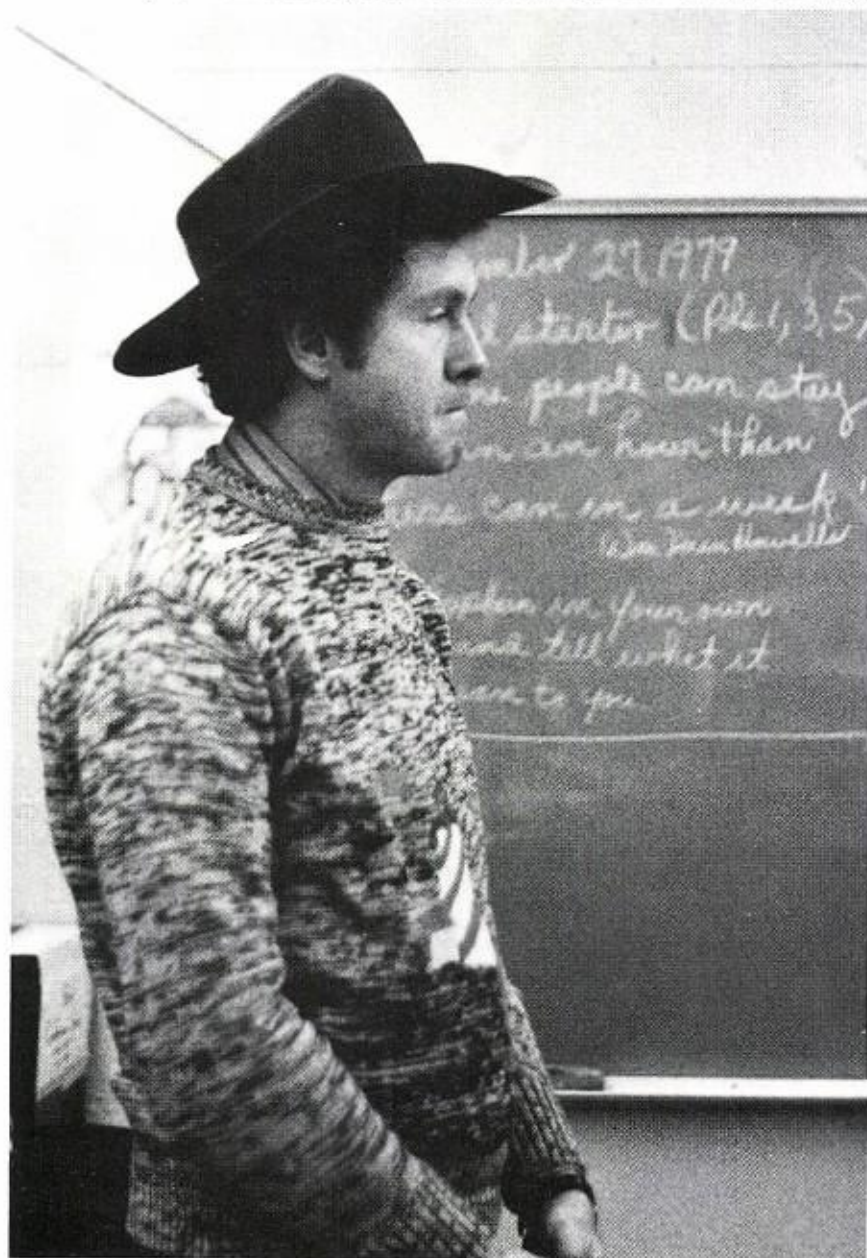

Displaying her feelings for Monday morning before first hour is Miss Carolyn Williams.

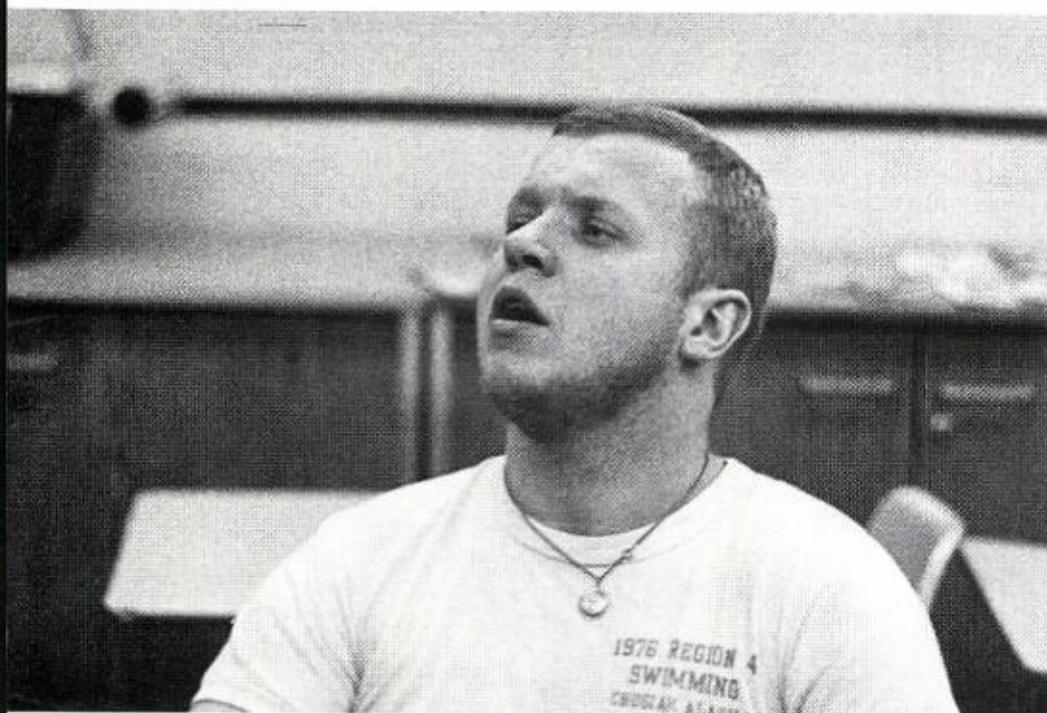

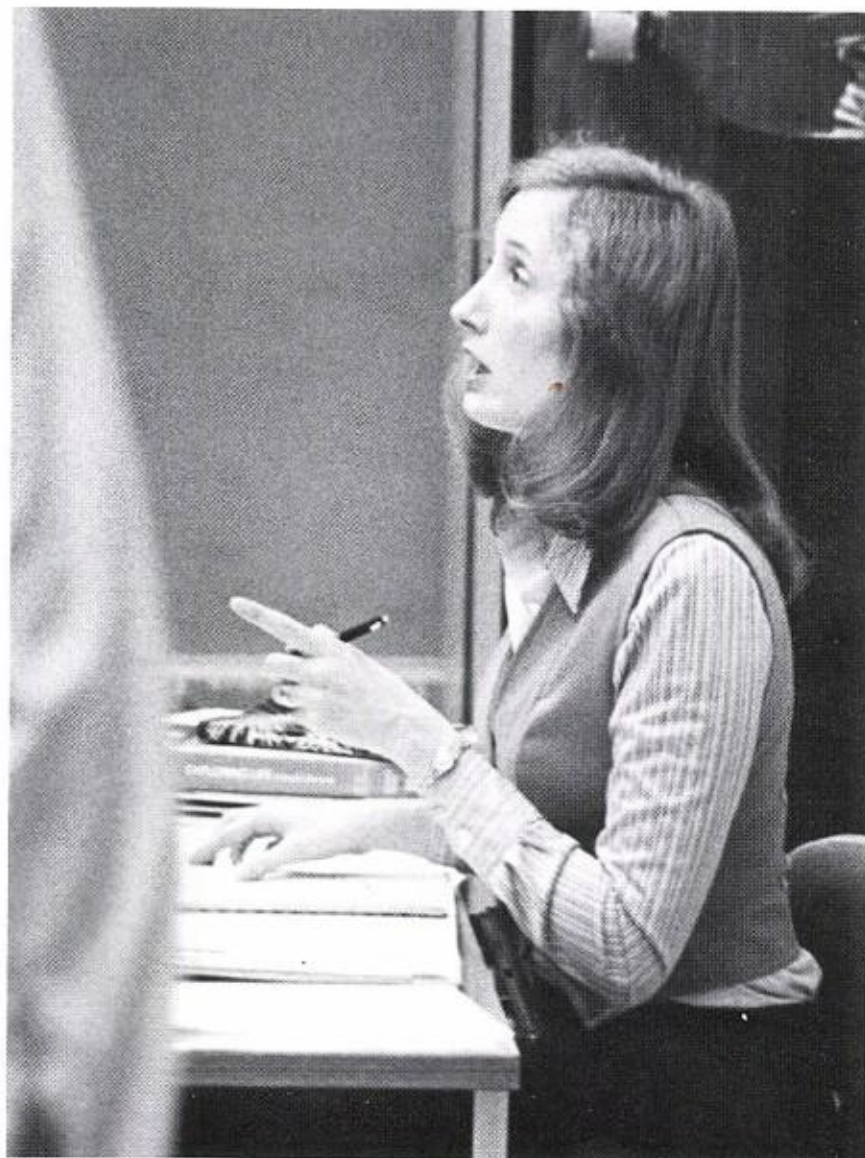

Daydreaming, Mrs. Gay Monteverde anticipates her upcoming wild night in the city.

Letting her students know what boots and a piece of paper look like is Susan Heikamp.

Demonstrating how Annie Oakley acts when she can't get her way is Mr. Jim Taylor.

Awed by a famous figure, Mrs. Lora Nira Parsons gasps, "Sherlock Holmes, I presume!"

"Quite hilarious! Which end of my head am I going to shave next?" asks Robb Boyer.

"We will have no flagrant show of affection in my class," exclaims Mrs. Virginia Smith.

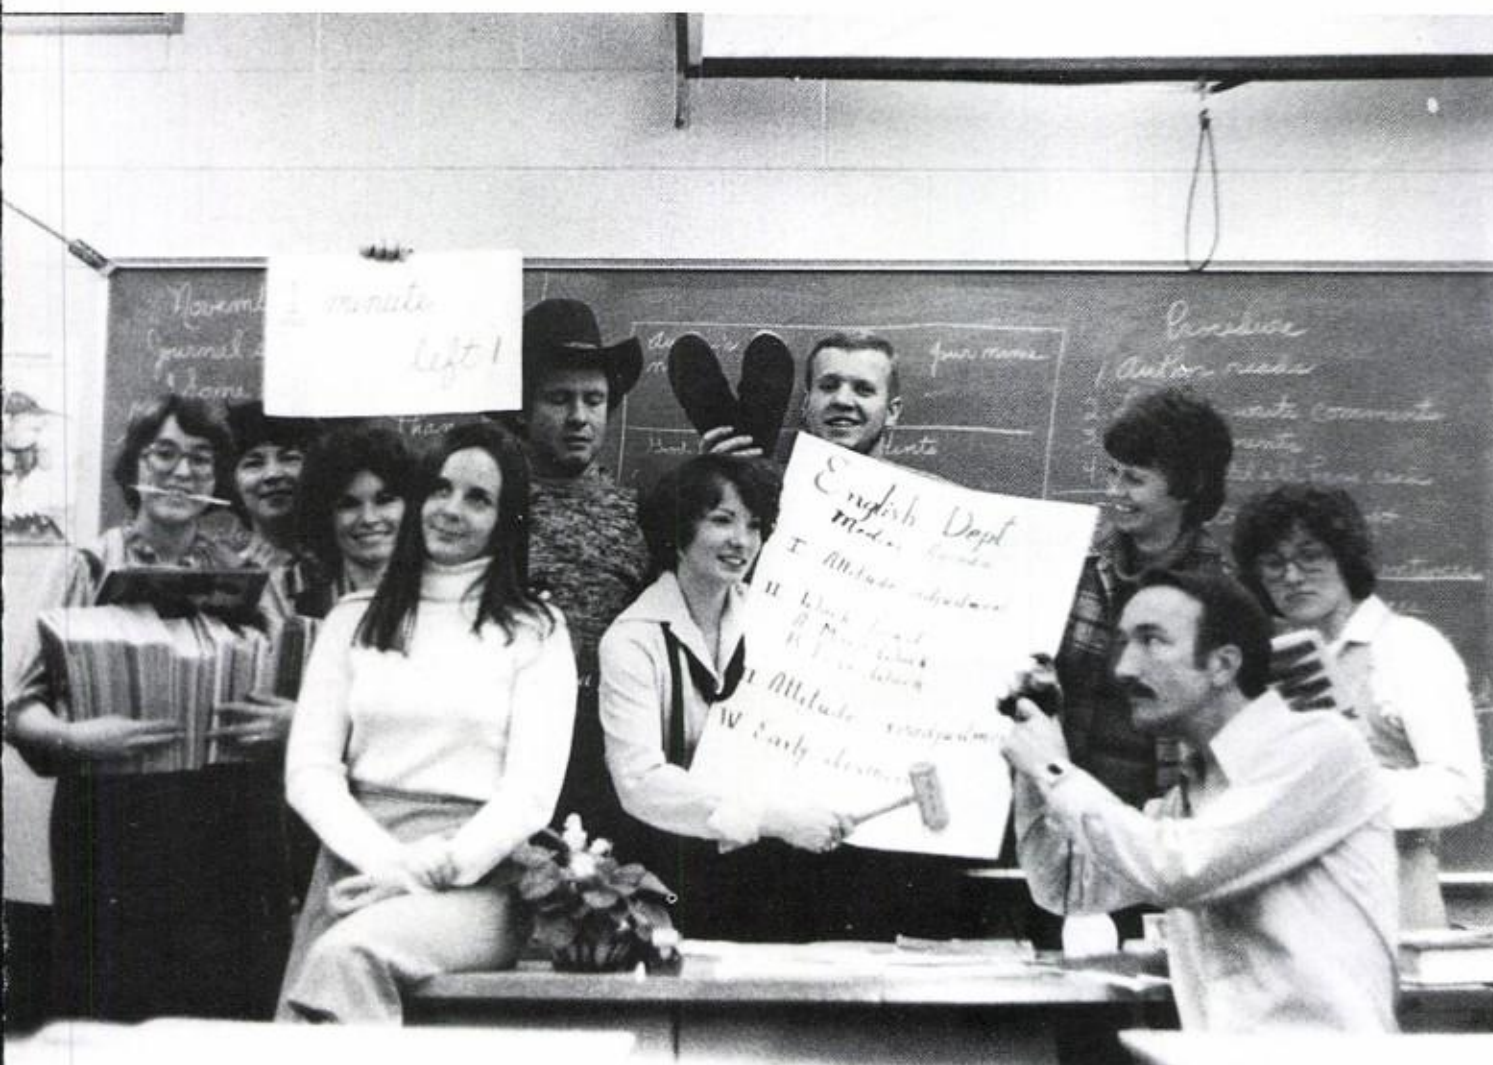

Making sure her lips are still in working order, Mrs. Judy McNall gets ready to speak.

The peanut butter in Mrs. "Mac" Owen's mouth has successfully made her speechless.

Scheming to get a student's neck after class is Miss Kerry Keefe.

Variety Of Issues In Social Studies Promotes Interest

"Who volunteers? Zagreb, Genoa, Zurich, Brussels, Thames River, Belfast!"

—Mr. John Ginsburg

"You can't go until you're straight, clean, and quiet!"—Mrs. Elaine Hantz

"All right people, go to work!"—Mr. John Jorder

"Control yourself!"—Mr. Terry Jorgensen

"Let's see who is and who ain't!"

—Mr. Andy Kirk

"Cur the chit chat!"—Mr. James McGrath

"Questions or comments anyone?"

—Mr. Bill O'rthuse

"Bodgie Bells are bells that confuse me, they're bad bells. They shouldn't ring in my room. You see, up here you do everything backwards; you mispronounce the English language. I still don't know if it's chee pee or pee chee!"—Mr. John Shaw

The Social Studies Department this year offered a variety of electives in its program aimed at teaching students how to get along together. Social issues were brought up and their pros and cons discussed. The department taught U.S. History, Personal Finance, Economics, and Government as the basic foundation required of all students. Elective Courses were then offered for upper classmen, emphasizing current interests and including such possibilities as Law Studies, the Middle East, and Psychology.

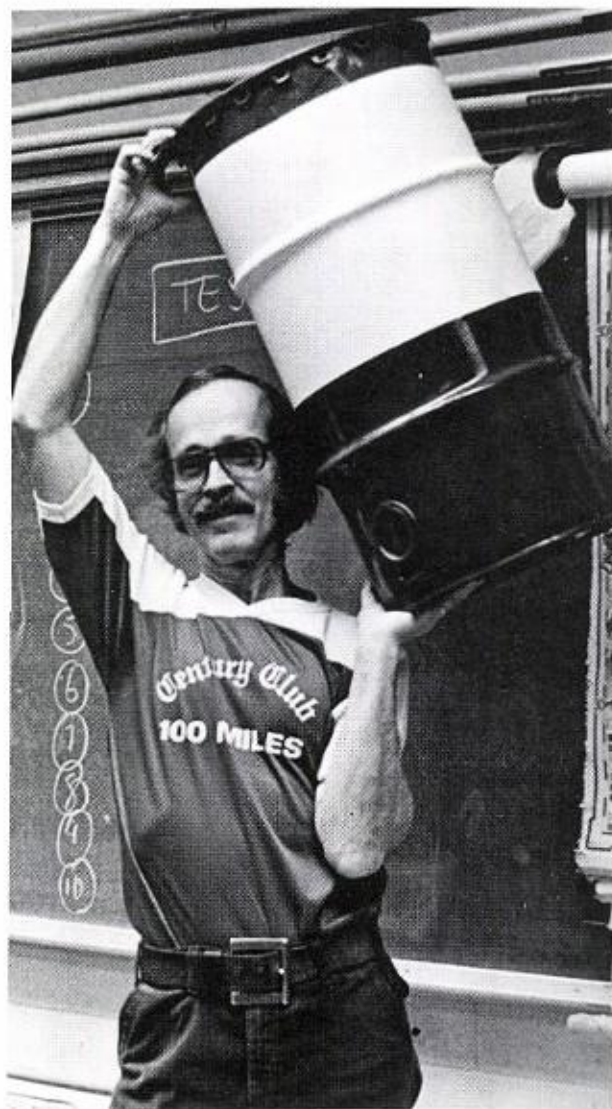

A federally funded, college-level Advanced Placement Class was also available for juniors and seniors.

The social highlight of the year for the department was a mid-year party at Mr. John Ginsburg's home to meet Mr. John Shaw, an exchange instructor from Australia.

Looking at the new "kids" in his class is Mr. Shaw.

Mathematicians Emphasize Facts, Thought Processes

"It's not homework, unless you get it done in class!"—Mr. Art Denning

"You scungh."—Mr. Warren Hagman

"That's a zero for you and you and you!"—Mr. Dennis Johnson

"Have a good day, people!"—Mrs. Kathy Magee

"Get out!"—Mrs. Kathie Maloney

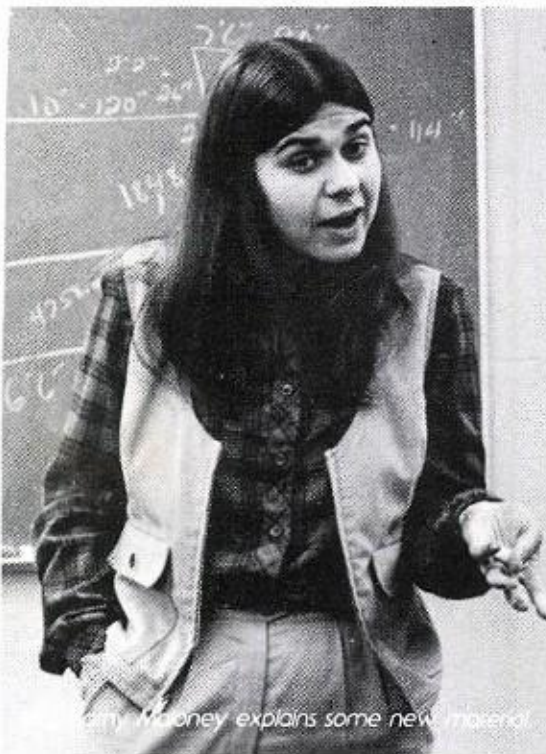

"Do problems such and such, on page so and so!"—Mrs. Twyla Mundy

"What did the little acorn say when he grew up?"—Mr. Bill Peissig

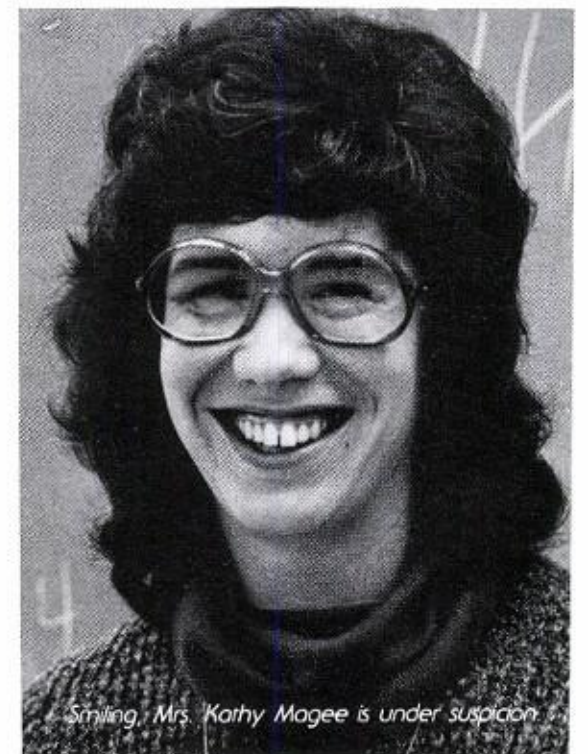

Eight math department instructors taught classes ranging from basic math and career math at the beginning level to analysis and calculus at the advanced stages. Individual differences were provided for by offering high school math classes to advanced junior high students and college math courses for advanced upperclass students.

Two years of math were required for all students with many extending their math involvement throughout their high school years. The department offered courses to provide the practical math knowledge needed to function, a sense of discipline, and a logical thought process, according to department chairman Mr. Art Denning.

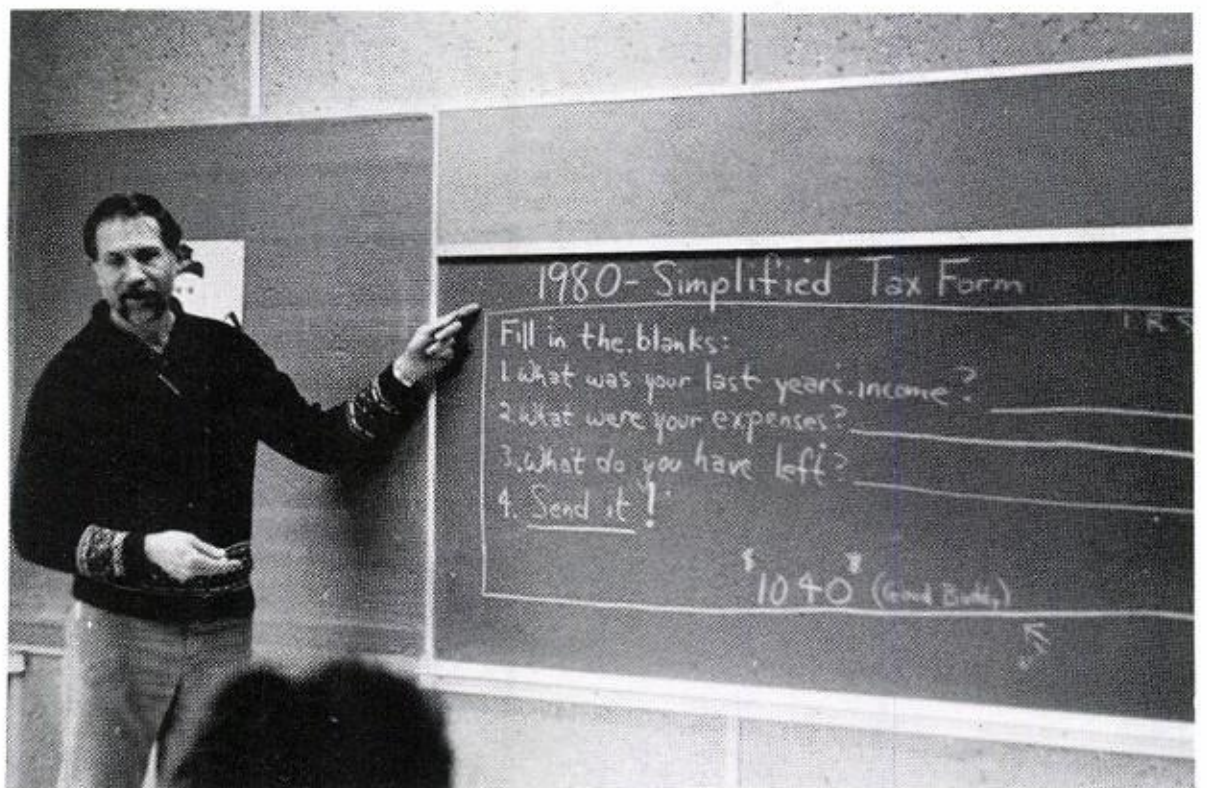

The National Math Exam, open to all students, was given in the spring.

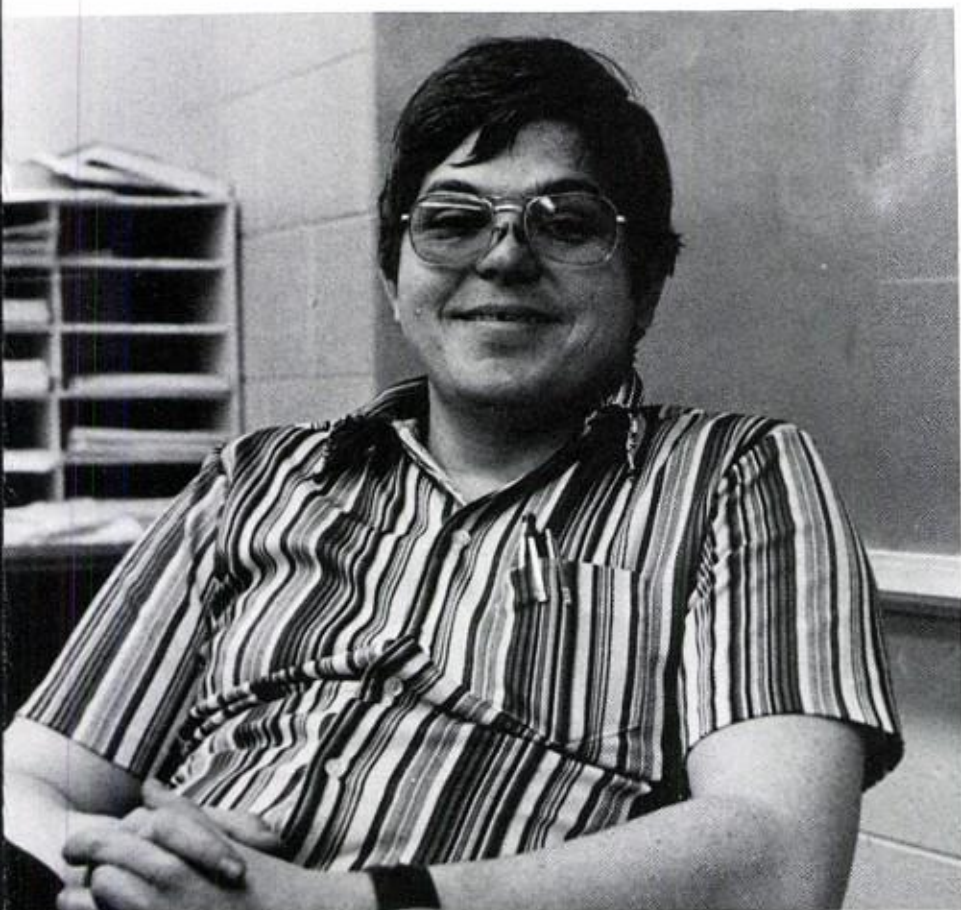

Kathie Maloney explains some new material.

Smiling, Mrs. Kathy Magee is under suspicion.

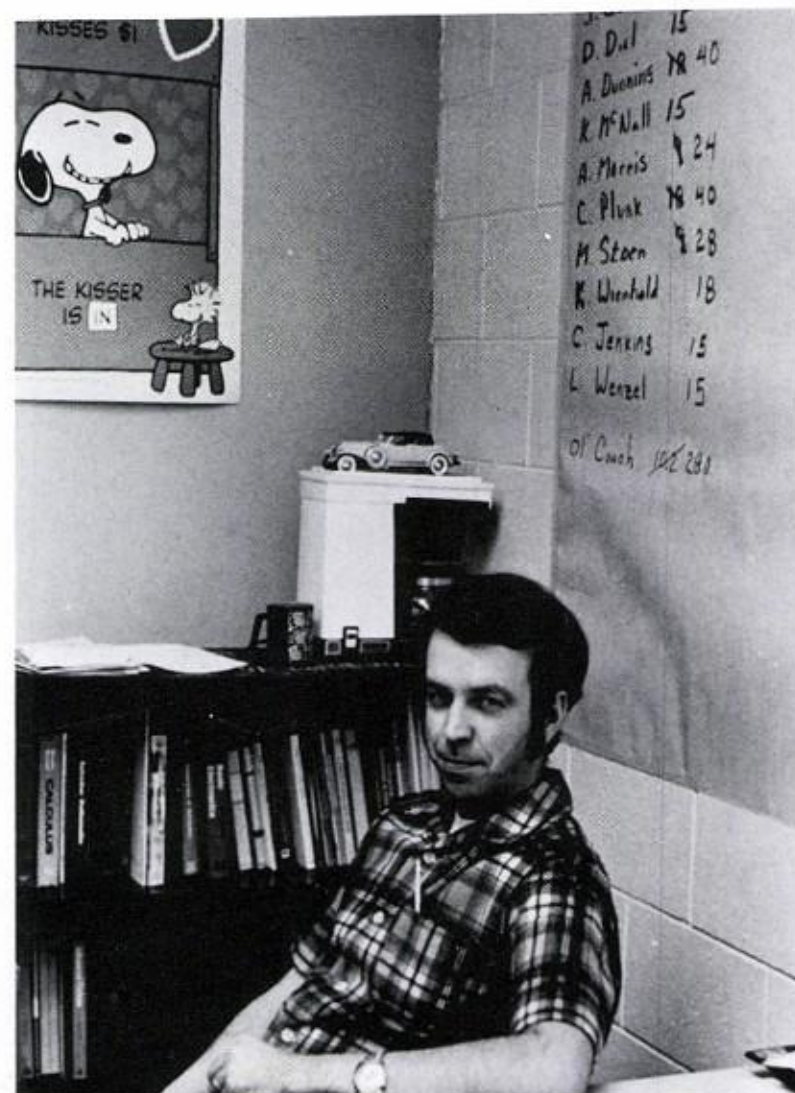

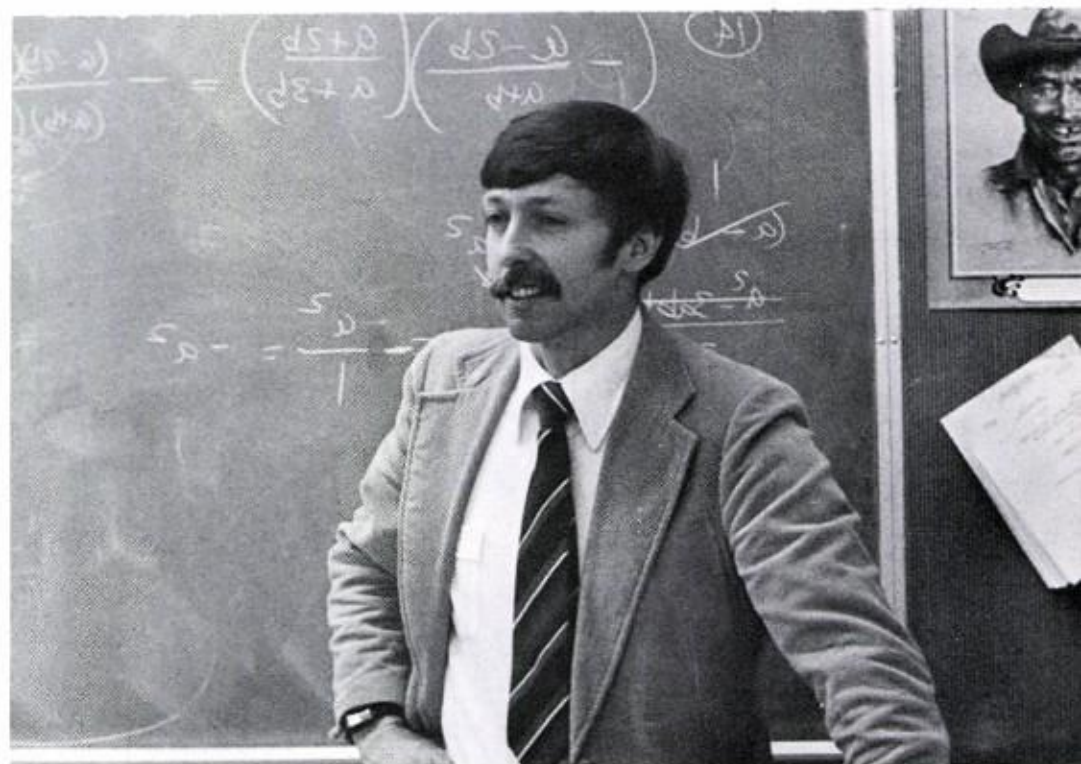

Tax evader Mr. Bill Peissig instructs students on the proper manner in which to get back massive government returns.

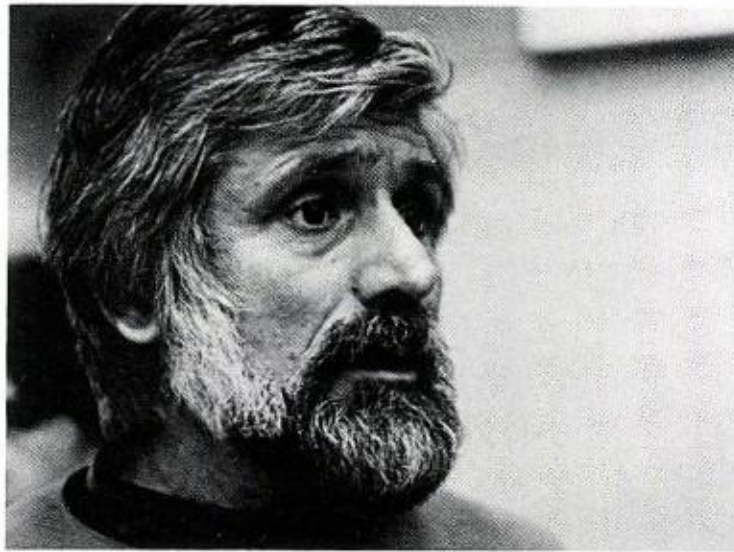

Relaxing during class is an active passion of Mr. Dennis Johnson, as he eagerly proves here.

Humoring his students Mr. Art Denning keeps them going with his backward equations.

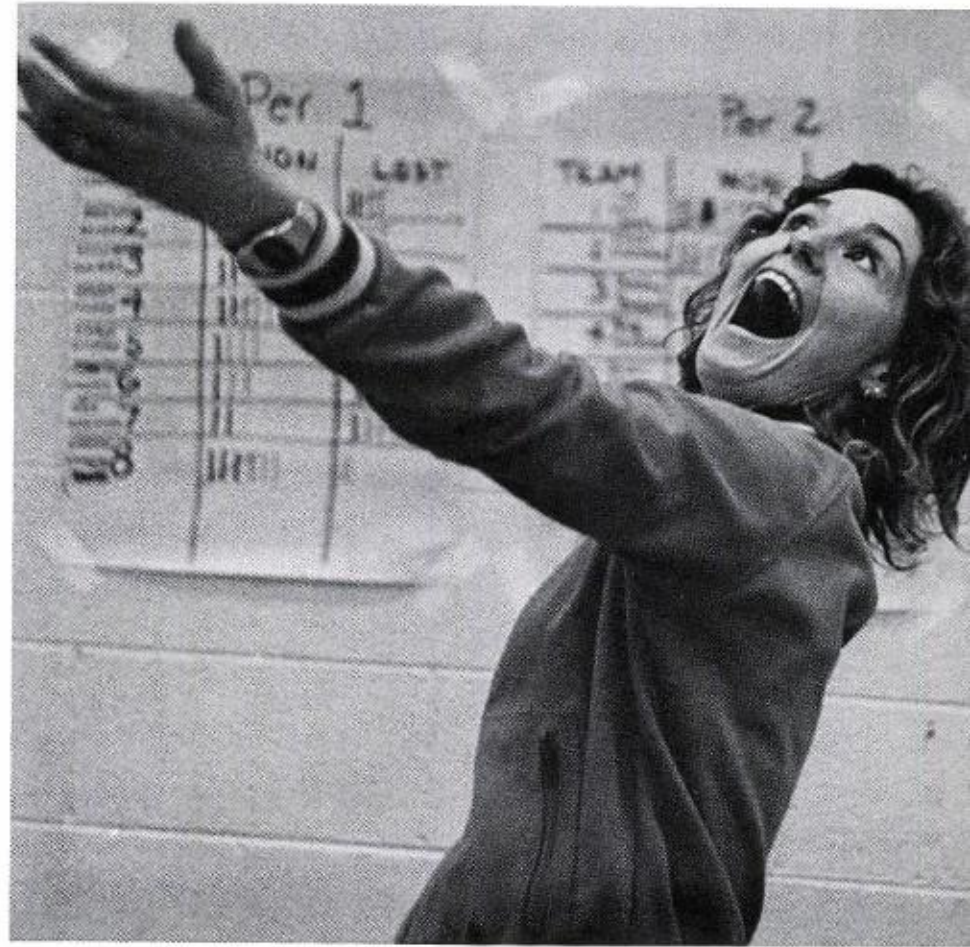

With a burning glare, Mr. Warren Hagman overpowers a student's will to resist.

Chugiak High's P.E. Department Stresses Fitness

"What a dink!"—Mr. Dick Green

"Get off your butt and work!"—Mrs. Cindy Martin

"Dog meat!"—Mr. Harry McDonald

"Don't give me any lip!"—Mr. Gene Morgan

"Let's go, ding dongs!"—Mr. Steve Primis

"Go for it!"—Mrs. Priscilla Robbins

"It's better to wear out than to rust out!"—Mr. Tom Rollman

"You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear!"—Mrs. Colny Tucker

"Our function is to teach physical education, to provide a certain degree of fitness, and to teach the fundamentals of sports. Students need more than academics; they need physical activity. Our part is to see that Johnny isn't dull, and hopefully we provide some of that." Department Head Mr. Tom Rollman feels that P.E. is a vital part of education, because it allows a healthy physical and mental release.

Mr. Rollman feels that "organization" is the biggest major change in his department this year. All P.E. teachers have been organized in an attempt to reduce tardiness. They follow a much more rigid time schedule than previously.

Mr. Rollman added that Chugiak has the largest variety of P.E. courses offered in the district. This year, gymnastics and tennis were very popular. These classes, however, are seasonal and the class that has been consistently full all year is weight training. The popularity of this class is explained by Instructor Mr. Harry McDonald: "I think it is intuitively obvious, even to the most casual observer, that there is an overabundance of fat people roaming the halls." He goes on to say that people are starting to become "aware of their bodies," and are trying to improve them.

Solemnly swearing to tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth is Mrs. Priscilla Robbins.

Ready to eat a junior high pigmy is Mr. Gene Morgan.

Obviously expecting a brat soon is Mrs. Cynthia Martin.

Science Sections Teach Wonders Of Body, Universe

"Right!"—Mr. John James

"We're going to feed Fang tonight!"—
Mr. Cliff Johnson

"Cut the chatter!"—Mr. Harold Phillips.

"Open your notebooks to the lecture section!"—Mr. Leonard Oakley

"Put all books, papers, notes, cribs, cheersheers, and neighbors away!"—Mr.
Donald Sanders

"I'm not a walking book store- bring a pencil and paper!"—Mrs. Mary Margaret Stephens

"You delbert Aornik!"—Mr. Darrel
White

This year Chugiak-Gruening has seven Science teachers. A new addition to the Science section was Mary Margaret Stephens who taught Earth Science and Astronomy.

Other classes, such as Biology II and Genetics taught the wonders of the human body, while Geology, Chemistry, and Physics examined the surrounding world.

The Microbiology class rested Chugiak's drinking water and found living bacteria in it. This prompted the school board to investigate.

The Science department continued to grow, expanding the variety of classes offered.

"Chef" Leonard Oakley proudly displays his latest dish.

"O.K., I'll give you an A" exclaims Miss Mary Stephens.

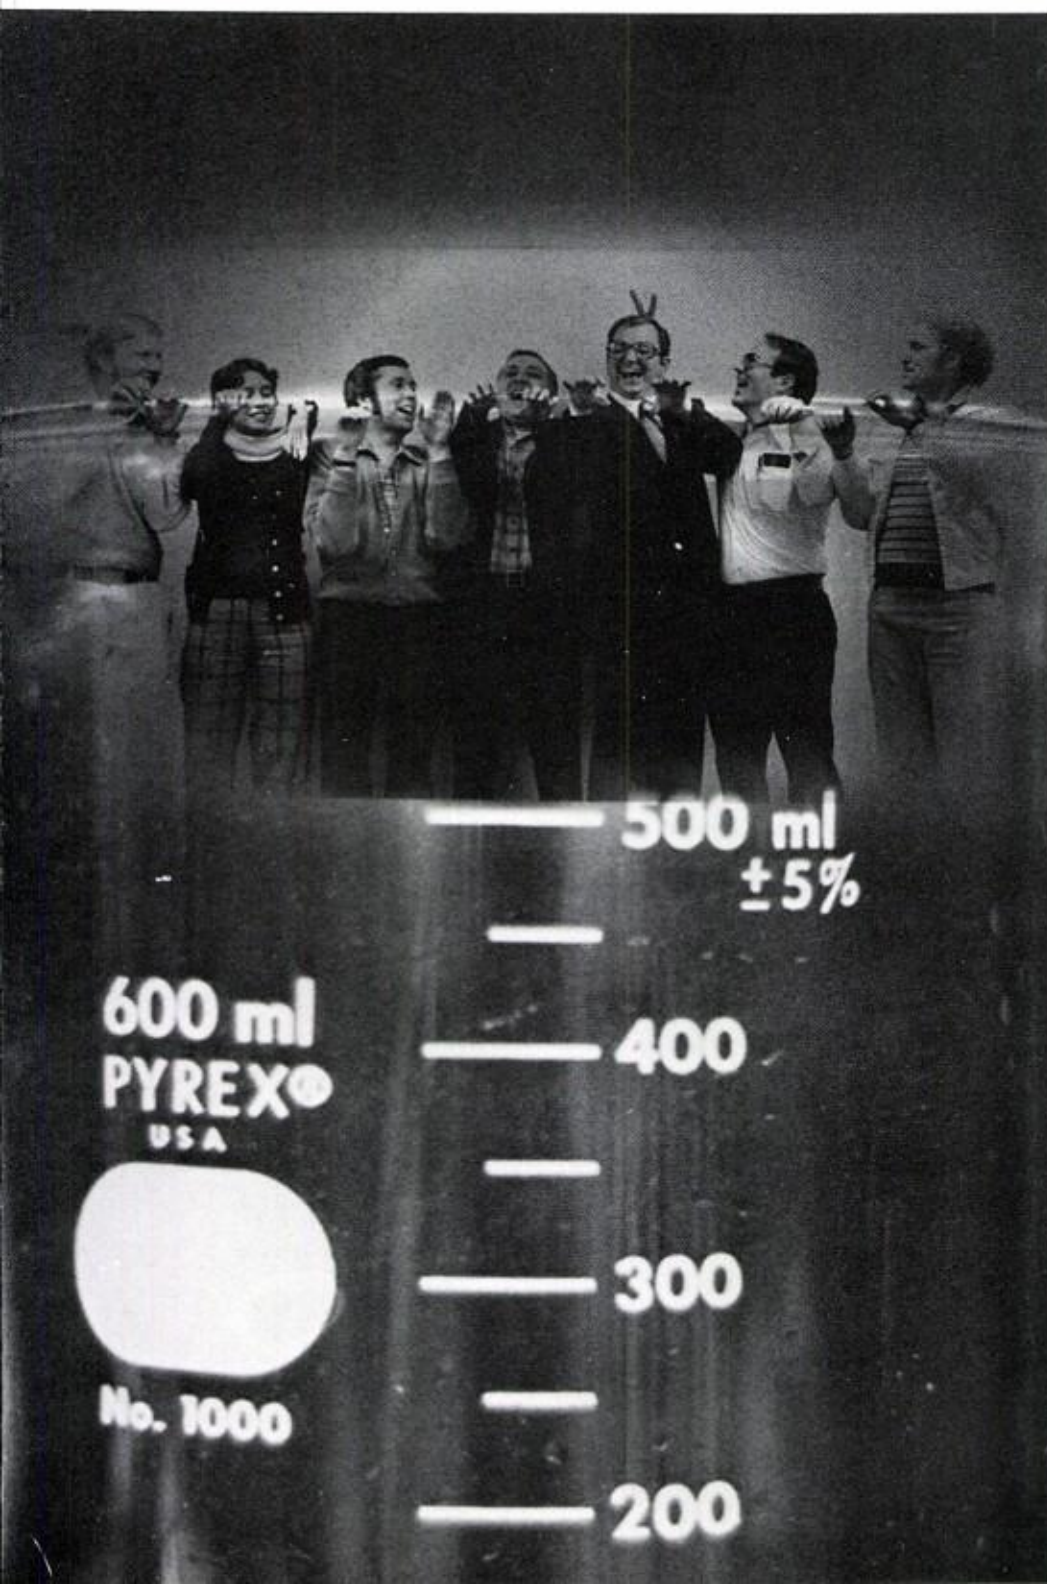

"I hate taking these pictures!" exclaims Mr. Phillips.

This rock is so light I can hold it with one hand!

Showing the good side of himself is Mr. James.

"Now you take a right step" says Mr. Johnson as he reaches "Fang" to waltz.

Elective Courses Broaden Students' Job Opportunities

"Don't tell 'em where you made it."—Mr. Don Bernard

"You can make an 'A' in wood shop, but in drafting you must draw one."—Mr. Jack Fiske

"I think you've got a very good caliber of student down here."—Mr. Richard Phelps

"A wet bird never flies at night."—Mr. Darrel Daley

"Okay, are ya'll ready?"—Mrs. Una Kernodle

"I'd like to thank all the people who decorate those lockers—they look so professional."—Mr. Ted Brady

"'80 should be the year they draft women."—Mrs. Paula Brady

"Keep your eyes on the copy."—Mrs. Anne Willis

"Mud is the cleanest thing in the world."—Mr. David Christy

"I've got some good news and some bad news. . . ."—Mr. Jack Taylor

"Parlez-vous francais, s'il vous plait?"—Mrs. Florence Pearson

"Where there's a wheel, there's a way."—Mrs. Kathleen Jaynes

"Career and personal enrichment opportunities" is how Chugiak's student handbook defines the elective program.

This year Chugiak had thirteen full time teachers and three part time teachers in this area.

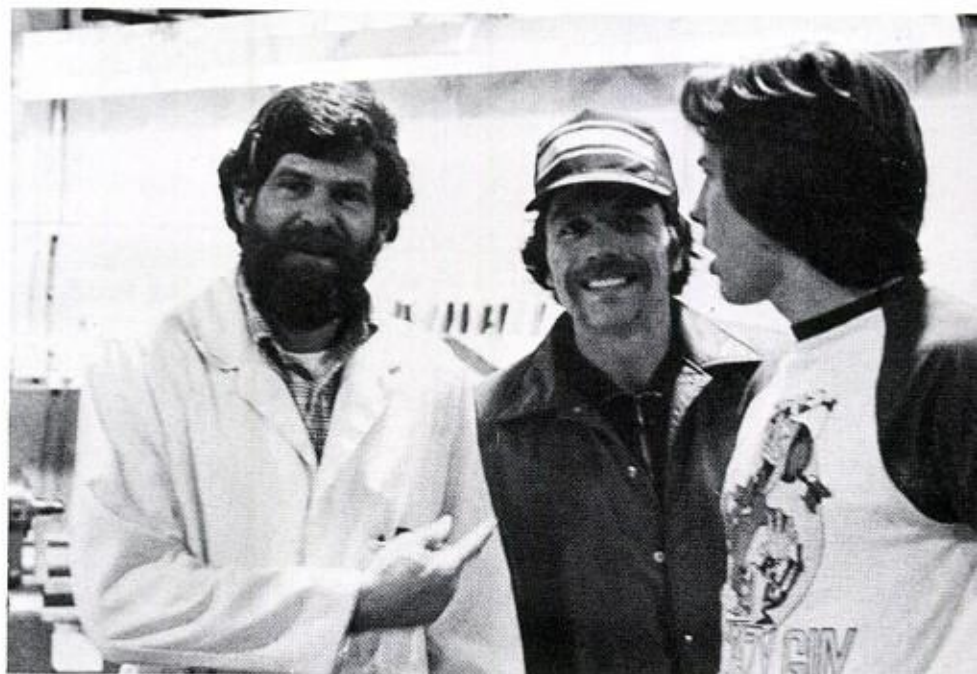

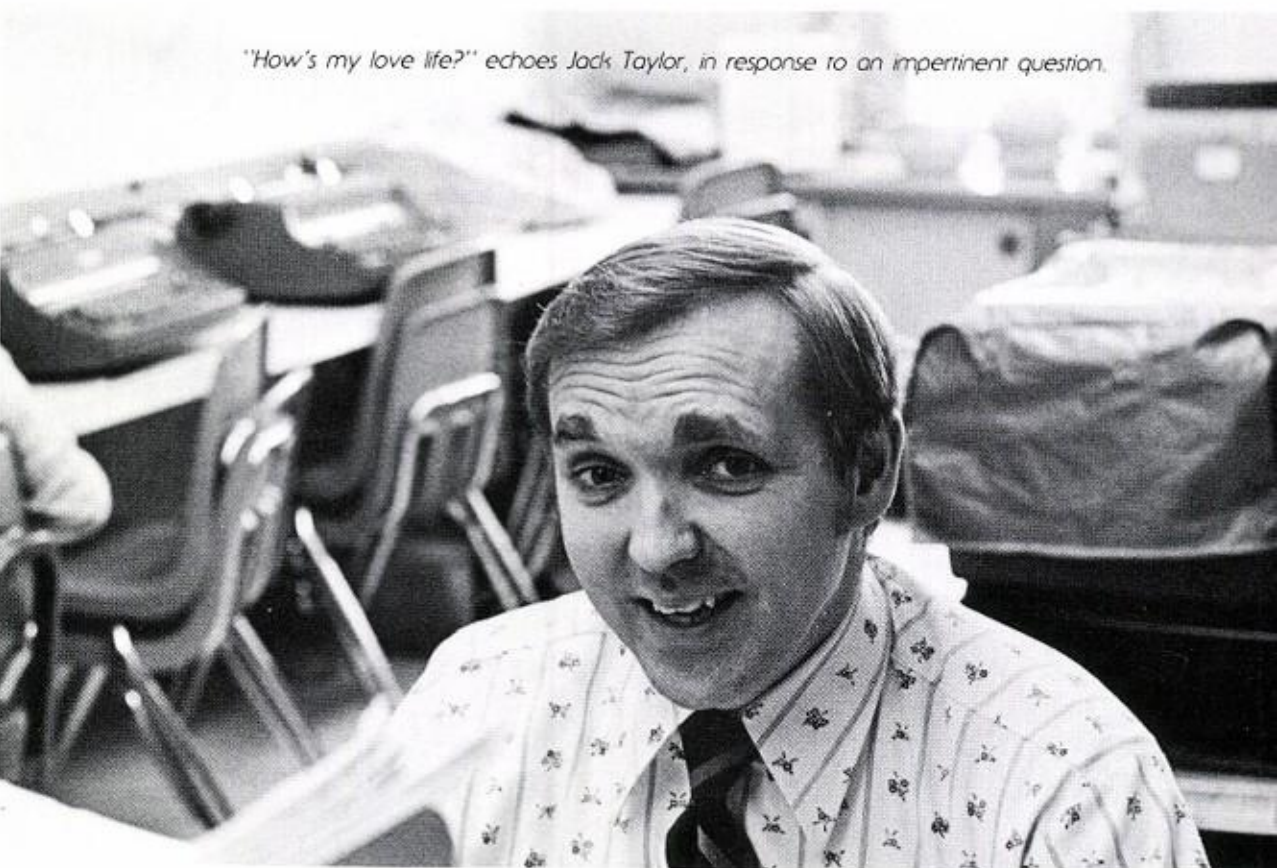

Electives are selected on the basis of responses taken from intent surveys. New courses like debate and Personal and Family Relations were the result of these surveys.

The elective program helps students to expand their learning options, choosing programs that range from pottery to ROTC.

Sergeant Ted Bradley demonstrates the correct way to cheat on a riflery test using his precision 22 caliber Dic.

"How's my love life?" echoes Jack Taylor, in response to an impertinent question.

A shocked student looks on as shop teacher Don Bernard reveals "where it was made."

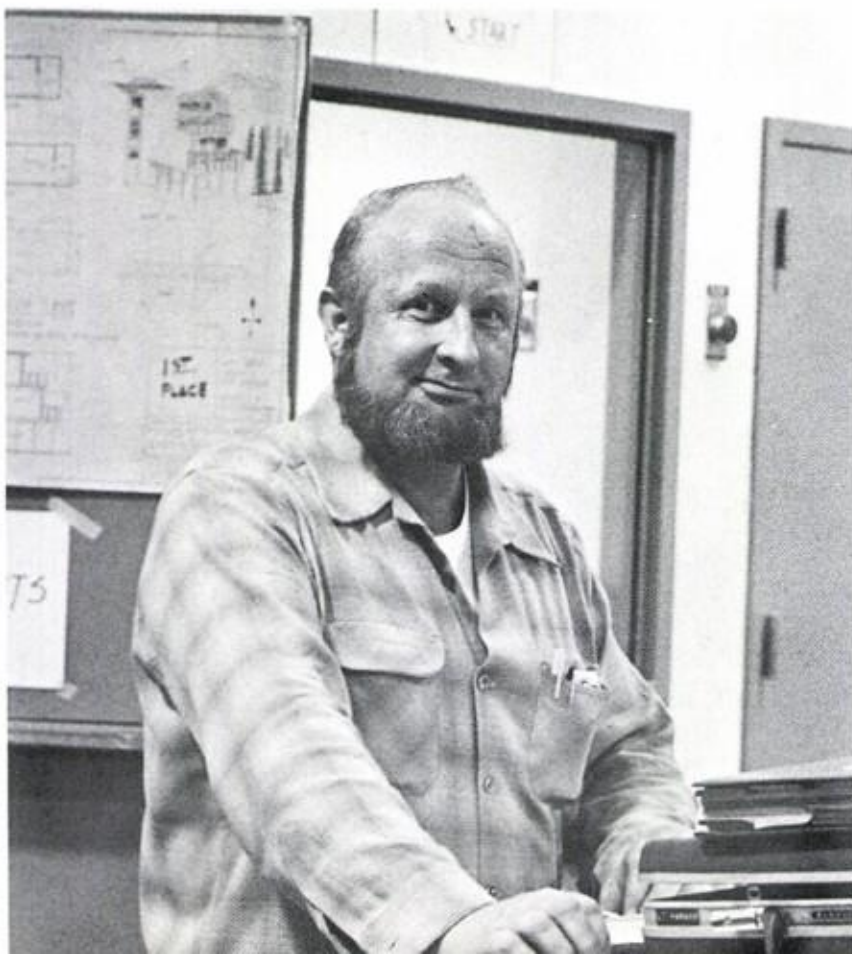

Mrs. Anne Willis briefly removes her eyes from the copy.

Mrs. Kathleen Jayne searches for the sound of music.

"Ah, oui!" exclaims Florence Pearson as she explains some of the finer points of French.

Lieutenant Errol Hamann looks up from top secret school files on high school operations.

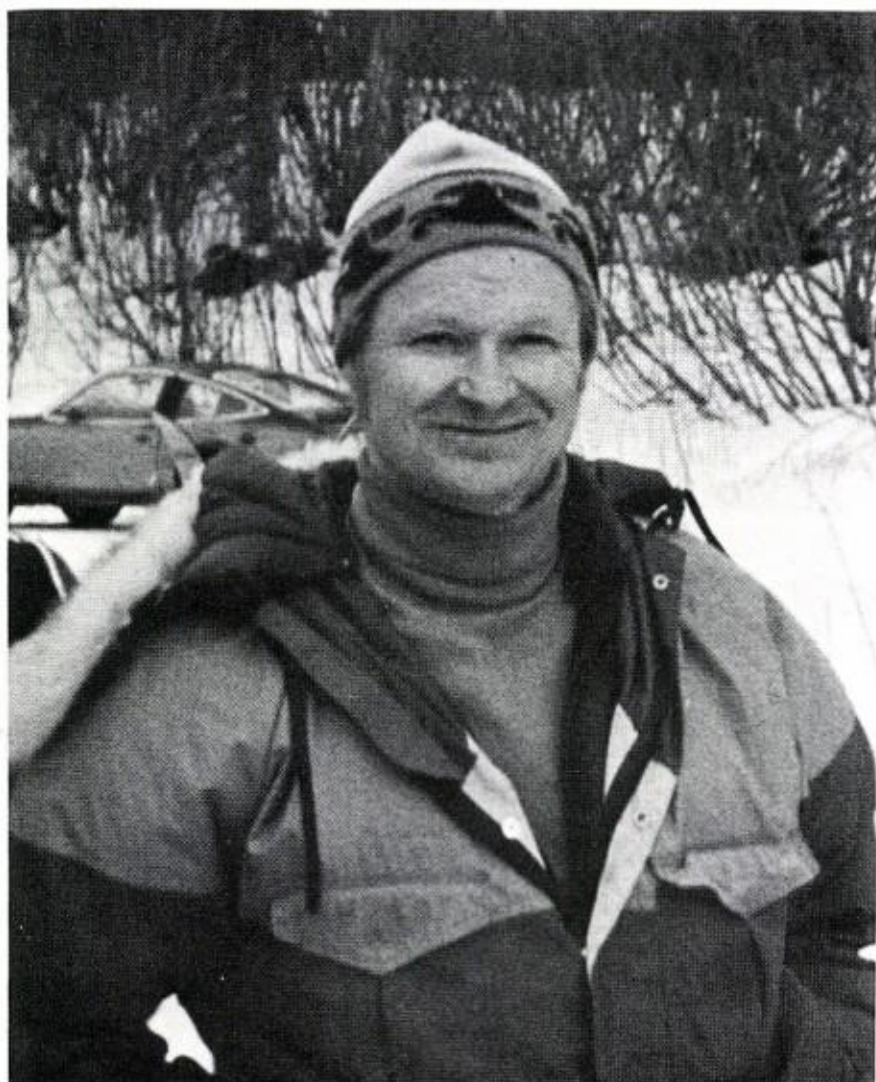

Sharing his gift of music with his adoring fans is music teacher Mr. Darrel Daley.

Tender loving care is administered to Mrs. Una Kernodle by a concerned foods student.

Mr. David Christy displays his "car that swallowed the car mouse" grin for posterity.

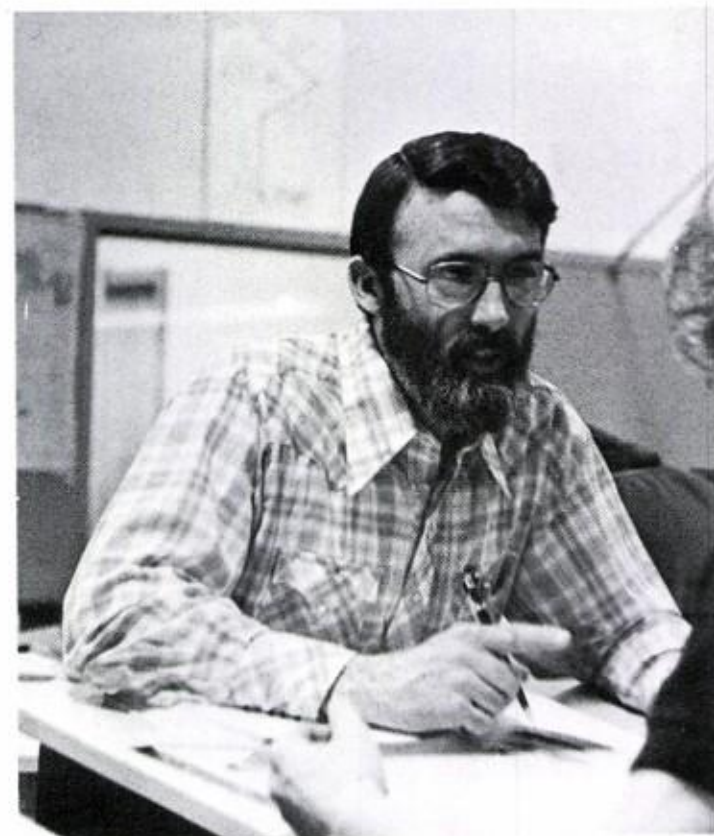

Chef and homemaker Paula Brady displays the smile which has devoured a million cookies.

Metal shop teacher Mr. Richard Phelps caresses the guts of his favorite bug.

Drafting teacher extraordinaire, Mr. Jack Fiske, presents a good point.

Elective teachers: Sergeant Ted Bradley, Mr. Tom Cresap, Mr. Richard Phelps, Mrs. Florence Pearson, Mr. Jack Fiske, Mrs. Susan Heitkamp, Mrs. Una Kernodie, Mr. David Christy, Mrs. Paula Brady, Mrs. Kathleen Jaynes, Mr. Warren Hagman, Lieutenant Errol Hamann, Mr. Darrel Daley, Mrs. Anne Willis, and Mr. Don Bernard.

Enjoying his milkshake during lunch is Dennis Boyer.

Hiding her beautiful teeth is Debbie Basham.

Special Education And Librarians Add Improvement

SPECIAL EDUCATION

"Demand more of yourself than you think you can give."—Ms. Debbie Basham

"To thine ownself be true."—Mrs. Helen Boehm

"The key to competency in any area is practice."—Mr. Dennis Boyer

"The earth is beautiful with all its different flowers, all its different people."—Mrs. Margaret LaTocha

"God doesn't make junk!"—Mr. Jim Sampson

"It's not what other people think of you, it's what you think of yourself!"—Mr. Albert Wells

This year's Special Education Department received a new resource room. The Department enables students to take regular classes in such areas as Math and English.

The Anchorage School District has offered Special Education for ten years now, but this is Chugiak's third year in the program.

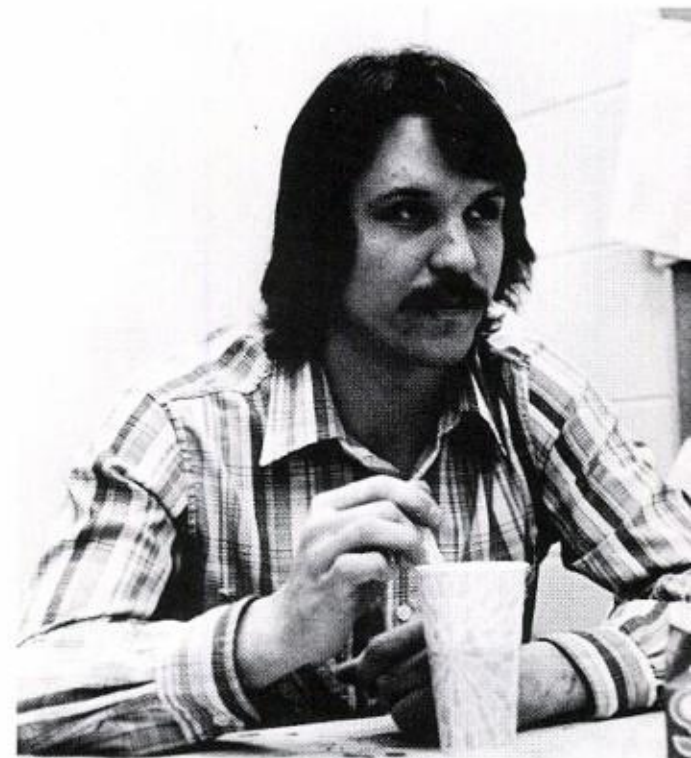

LIBRARY

"El ejercicio hace maestro."—Mrs. Ruby Austin

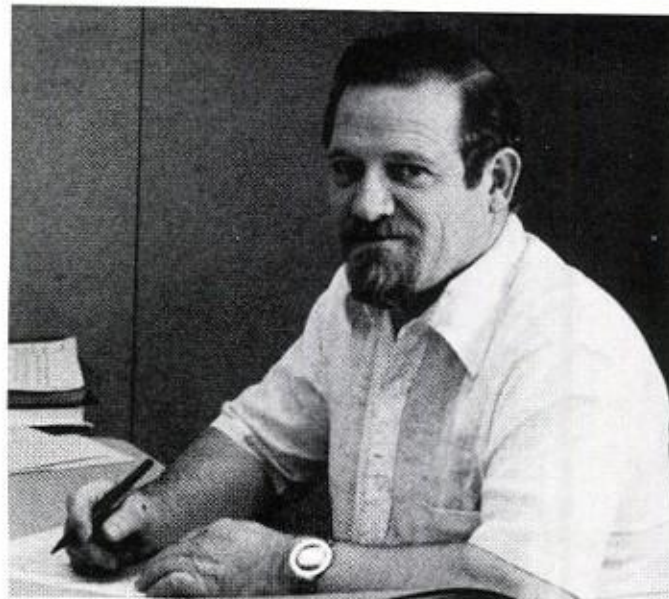

"To each his own."—Mrs. Joanne Lund

The library provides books, magazines, encyclopedias, micro-film news articles, and other educational sources.

The library staff lost one aid position in the spring, leaving two full-time librarians to serve CHS students. The librarians order approximately one thousand books every year, and about eight hundred to a thousand are stolen. A new magnetic book detector was purchased to solve this problem.

Chugiak's Special Education teachers: Mr. Dennis Boyer, Mr. Jim Sampson, Mr. Albert Wells, Ms. Debbie Basham.

After a shave, William Shakespeare pretends to be Albert Wells.

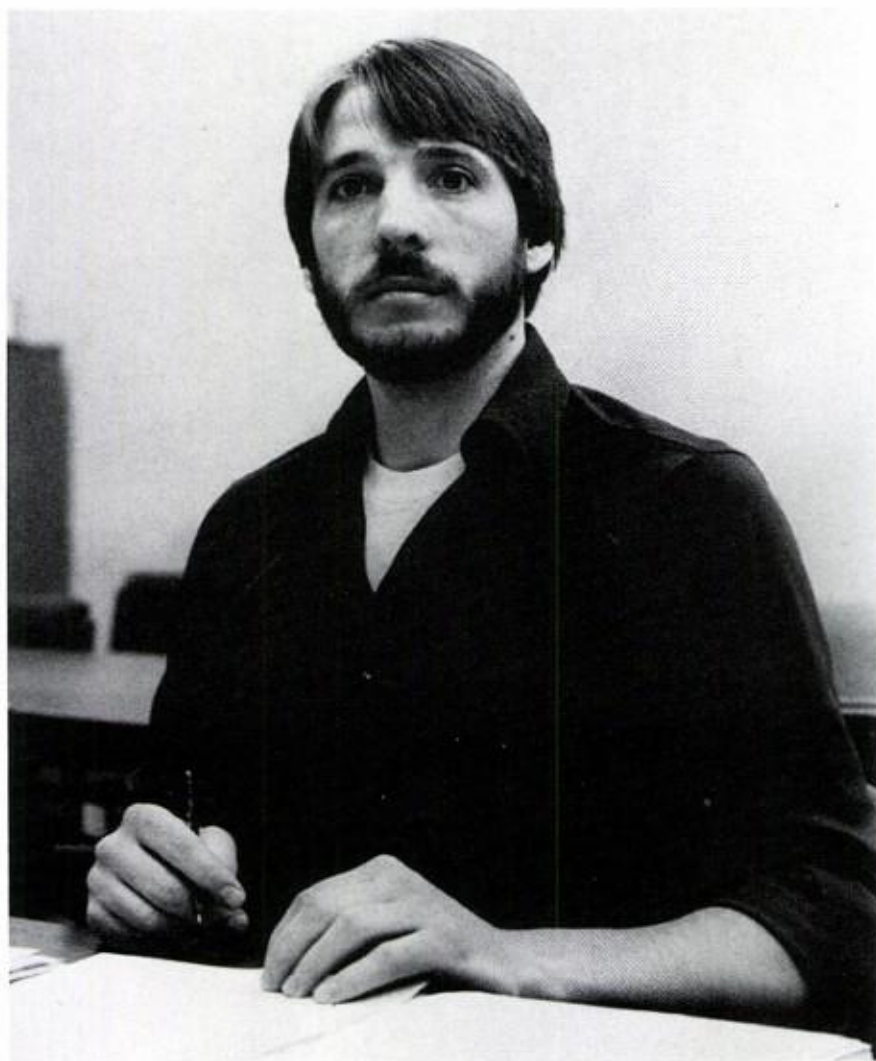

"I do declare, I'm getting my picture taken!" exclaims Helen Boehm.

"I dare you, come on, try to punch me!" states champion boxer, Margaret LaTocha.

Paul Dunyan, alias Jim Sampson, fills out an order form for a new Dobe the Blue Ox.

Mrs. Joanne Lund is not going to give out any information as to the whereabouts of Iran.

Nurse Irene Bowman gives pills to make people feel better.

Computer, Office Enlarge Capacity; Aid Service Staff

"I wouldn't trade the kids here for any school in the district."—Mrs. Sally Callaway

"Stay healthy, remember preventive medicine, and remember that each day is the first day of your life."—Mrs. Irene Bowman

"People need to understand; it's not personal, it's a profession."—Mr. Steve Novelli

"Get your scholarship folders in, get your financial aide applications in, get your college. . . "—Mr. Dick Kerbow

Changes and innovations have been a fact of life for the counseling, security, and nursing departments this year.

Keeping up with the changing times, the counseling department received a Guidance Information System Terminal which is linked directly to a main computer in Anchorage. The new computer greatly increased the counseling department's capacity, making available information on new developments in job and college opportunities. The addition of the computer terminal allowed the counselors more time to concentrate in other areas of the profession including supervision of testing and class placements.

The nursing department acquired a new office this year to handle their monthly average of 1,000 students. When they are not treating an illness or injury, they attend to other health duties, ranging from posture screening to administering TB tests.

The most notable change for the security department has been the new detention policy which the security guards feel held down the number of tardy students. They function as a team with Mr. Fisher to help prevent potential "accidents" and vandalism.

Nurse Lynn Kramer helps give out pills, also.

Smiling Vera Bergman fights all evildoers.

Security guard Lou Corley maintains vigilance.

Obviously a very joyous person to know is Steve Novelli.

Mr. Ken Rouse works with students employed throughout the area in small businesses.

One job of Counselor Dick Kerbow is to drink a minimum of 827,326,051 cups per day.

Working with junior high students requires Louise Pogany to talk to Santa.

Mrs. Sally Callaway always tries to meet students with a smile, and always does.

One of the counselors, Tom Huffer, often soothes the violent anklebiters with a story.

Working diligently in the office is Mrs. Christa Burg.

Reviewing a recent listing is Mrs. Peggy Lindquist.

Clerical Staffers Are Specialists Of Vast Diversity

"I am really impressed with the way the kids at this school have shaped up over the years."—Mrs. Christa Burg

"May your developing fluid curdle."—Mrs. Pat Finnely

"Why can't you all get A's, it would make things so much easier!"—Mrs. Peggy Lindquist

"If you have something, set it free. If it comes back, it is yours; if it does not, it never was."—Mrs. Laverne Miller

"I don't have time to think—I'm too busy!"—Mrs. Katherine Moore

"I like my job—it's the work I hate!"—Mrs. Katie Phillips.

"I hate Mondays!"—Mrs. Rosalie Schmidt

"Go home, Mr. Nash!"—Mrs. Jan Stewart

Like teaching positions, the jobs of the clerical staff here at Chugiak require specialists in particular job fields. This great diversity ranges from answering telephones to supporting counseling services. Every school, including Chugiak, determines what duties and responsibilities are to be assigned to the members of their respective clerical staffs. As result, Chugiak's "clerical piece" of our puzzle is as unique as any other and just as important.

Chugiak currently employs eight people to handle the clerical work. Mrs. Christa Burg is the junior high secretary, Mrs. Pat Finnely operates the switchboard, and Mrs. Peggy Lindquist is the stock clerk. Mrs. Laverne Miller is the activities secretary, Mrs. Katherine Moore is the attendance secretary, and Mrs. Katie Phillips is the registrar. In charge of data processing is Mrs. Rosalie Schmidt, while Mrs. Jan Stewart is both office manager and the principal's secretary.

The Clerical Department. Back Row: Mrs. Pat Finnely, Mrs. Peggy Lindquist, Mrs. Rosalie Schmidt, Mrs. Laverne Miller, Mrs. Katherine Moore. Front Row: Mrs. Katie Phillips, Mrs. Jan Stewart, and Mrs. Christa Burg.

Secretary Jan Stewart serves as a vital part in the efficiency of the principal's office.

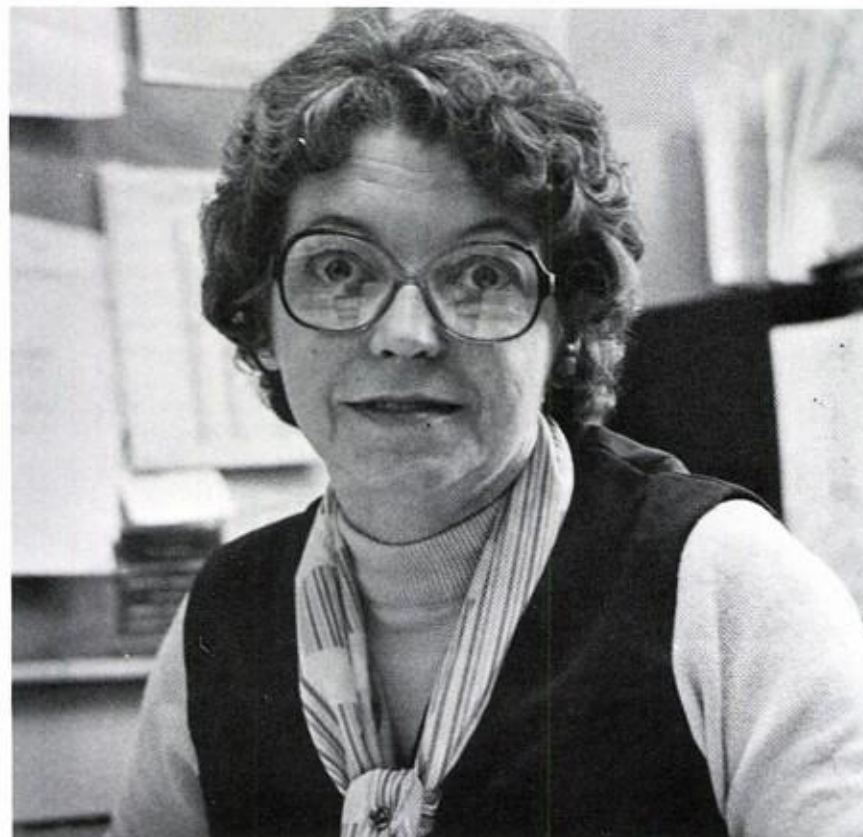

As the new attendance secretary at CHS, Kay Moore is always expected to smile.

"The Telephone Voice" of Chagrin is cleverly disguised as Par Fink.

Checking her final listing of outstanding students is Mrs. Rosalie Schmidt.

A valuable assistant to the Activities Principal is hard-working Laverne Miller.

Amazed at the quantity of seniors who actually passed after all is Katherine Phillips.

Night crew chief, Mrs. Cretus Darby, ponders her forthcoming retirement from CHS halls.

Afternoon lady, Mrs. Laura Hamilton, reflects upon last night's double feature. . .

Kitchen staff chief, Mrs. Marie Rosenberg, diligently prepares a school lunch.

Mrs. Louise Dorland heaves a heavy "working" sigh.

Mr. Vonnie Voyles flashes his sophisticated look.

Night Crew Chief Retires, Cooks Provide Nutrients

"I'm retiring!!!"—Mrs. Cretus Darby

"Mrs. Rosenberg is a very nice person to work for."—Mrs. Anna Rupp

"Mrs. Rosenberg has the best kitchen staff!"—Mrs. Eleanore Schmidt

"If being a custodian is the worst thing I have to do, I've got it made!"—Mrs. Laura Hamilton

This year, there were no notable changes for the kitchen staff or day people. The biggest changes for Chugiak/Gruening's night crew were their staff replacements and the retirement of their crew chief of eight and a half years, Mrs. Cretus Darby.

The night crew has the job of maintaining the school, providing services that range from room cleaning to garbage removal. They work everyday, from 6:00 to 2:30.

The kitchen staff runs the lunch program and administers nutritional education. Their "education" provides us with one-third of the U.S. minimum daily requirements of essential nutrients. Students with complaints about the food were able to express them through an SFC-appointed Board. The board's function was to communicate students' comments and concerns on school lunch to the kitchen staff.

Cafeteria staff: Mrs. Anna Rupp, Mrs. Christa Plunk, Mrs. Marie Rosenberg, Mrs. Eleanore Schmidt, Mrs. Karen Thern.

STANDERS THAT 12th 11th DR S IN 8 EAVE 6 IL NG, FOR B C NEW SENIOR CLASS OF '80

John Abril—"I'd like to thank the administration, my friends, and my family for helping make this year such a good and exciting year. Hope you all have a great future."

Kyle Beckley—"A day without sunshine is like... night."

Reeper Belmudes—"Ski for the health of it!"

Todd Brannon—"I leave my excellent skating and signing skills to the future Mustang hockey team. Also I leave my ability to charm people to Cindy Reynolds. To Coach Mac, I leave my excellent outside edge control as I am giving back what he gave to me; thanks. To Coach Bernard, I leave my rank of lieutenant and my bad red sticks."

Colleen Cain—"I hope to accomplish my goals in life. I have enjoyed my years at Chugiak and I can't wait to see everyone at our class reunion."

Rita Campbell—"I'd like to wish all the seniors success in their careers and thank all my good friends for making my senior year the best!"

Gene Carlson—"I leave my smart mouth and crude comments to Coach Bernard as I know he already knows how to use them. I also leave all CHS hockey players good luck in the upcoming season as I know you will miss us seniors greatly. To Coach Mac, I leave my great attitude as I would never have made it without him—thanks!"

Rick Coates—"A day without sunshine is like night."

Cathy Coelho—"Spirit is just what you make it and I make it a big thing."

Renee Collins—"Thank God I made it."

James Conley—"Objectiveness is your best asset in order to utilize your spare time for personal endeavors."

David Cooper—"I just want to say that this year has been the greatest. We all had a lot of real good times that we won't long forget. I want to wish everyone much happiness and love in the future."

Merryhelen Cromwell—"My years here have been many and all very happy. I wish you all a long life of much happiness."

Tony Debnar—"You feel like quitting so many times, but to know that you belong and are needed by your friends makes it all worthwhile. But what do I do now?"

Andrew Dekreon—"Meine Gedanken sind Frei!"

Shelley Draeger—"I just want all seniors to have a good life and know that I love you all and we have the best senior class of all! See you in the future."

Darci Hankins—"If you know who you are and what you want and why you want it, and if you have confidence in yourself, you can make your life yours if you ask."

Mary Harjehausen—"All my years in CHS have been great. Most of all I'd like to say 'thank you' to all the administrators, all my friends, and especially my father, mother, and family for sharing in all the fun and excitement of my best year of high school—my senior year!"

Jed Henning—"We, the class of '1980' have set a new precedent for the underclassmen of Chugiak High School. They should all strive to continue the newly changed attitude and status that class of '80' members have achieved. Best of luck for a bright and successful future."

Steve Haynes—"At the beginning I was part of another day but now all that remains is my yesterday. Thanks mom and dad for your guidance and utmost understanding."

John Herzog—"I hope most of you don't realize what you've done with yourselves during high school, because if you do it'll probably be pretty depressing."

Ellen Ide—"People, they're okay; you just have to convince them that you are okay."

Max Janke—"I can behave normally but it takes an abnormal effort."

Dorb Jones—"This year has been great, thanks to all my friends. Remember you should always have spirit and pride for CHS, because CHS is the BEST. Love to all!"

David Kelley—"It was great, it was bad. That the class of '80' had. They had the best. They had the latest. They had the study and the greatest. The Class of '80' RULES ON!"

Ralph Kiehl—"Although I criticize and laugh at the American government, I will always believe in the just way of America."

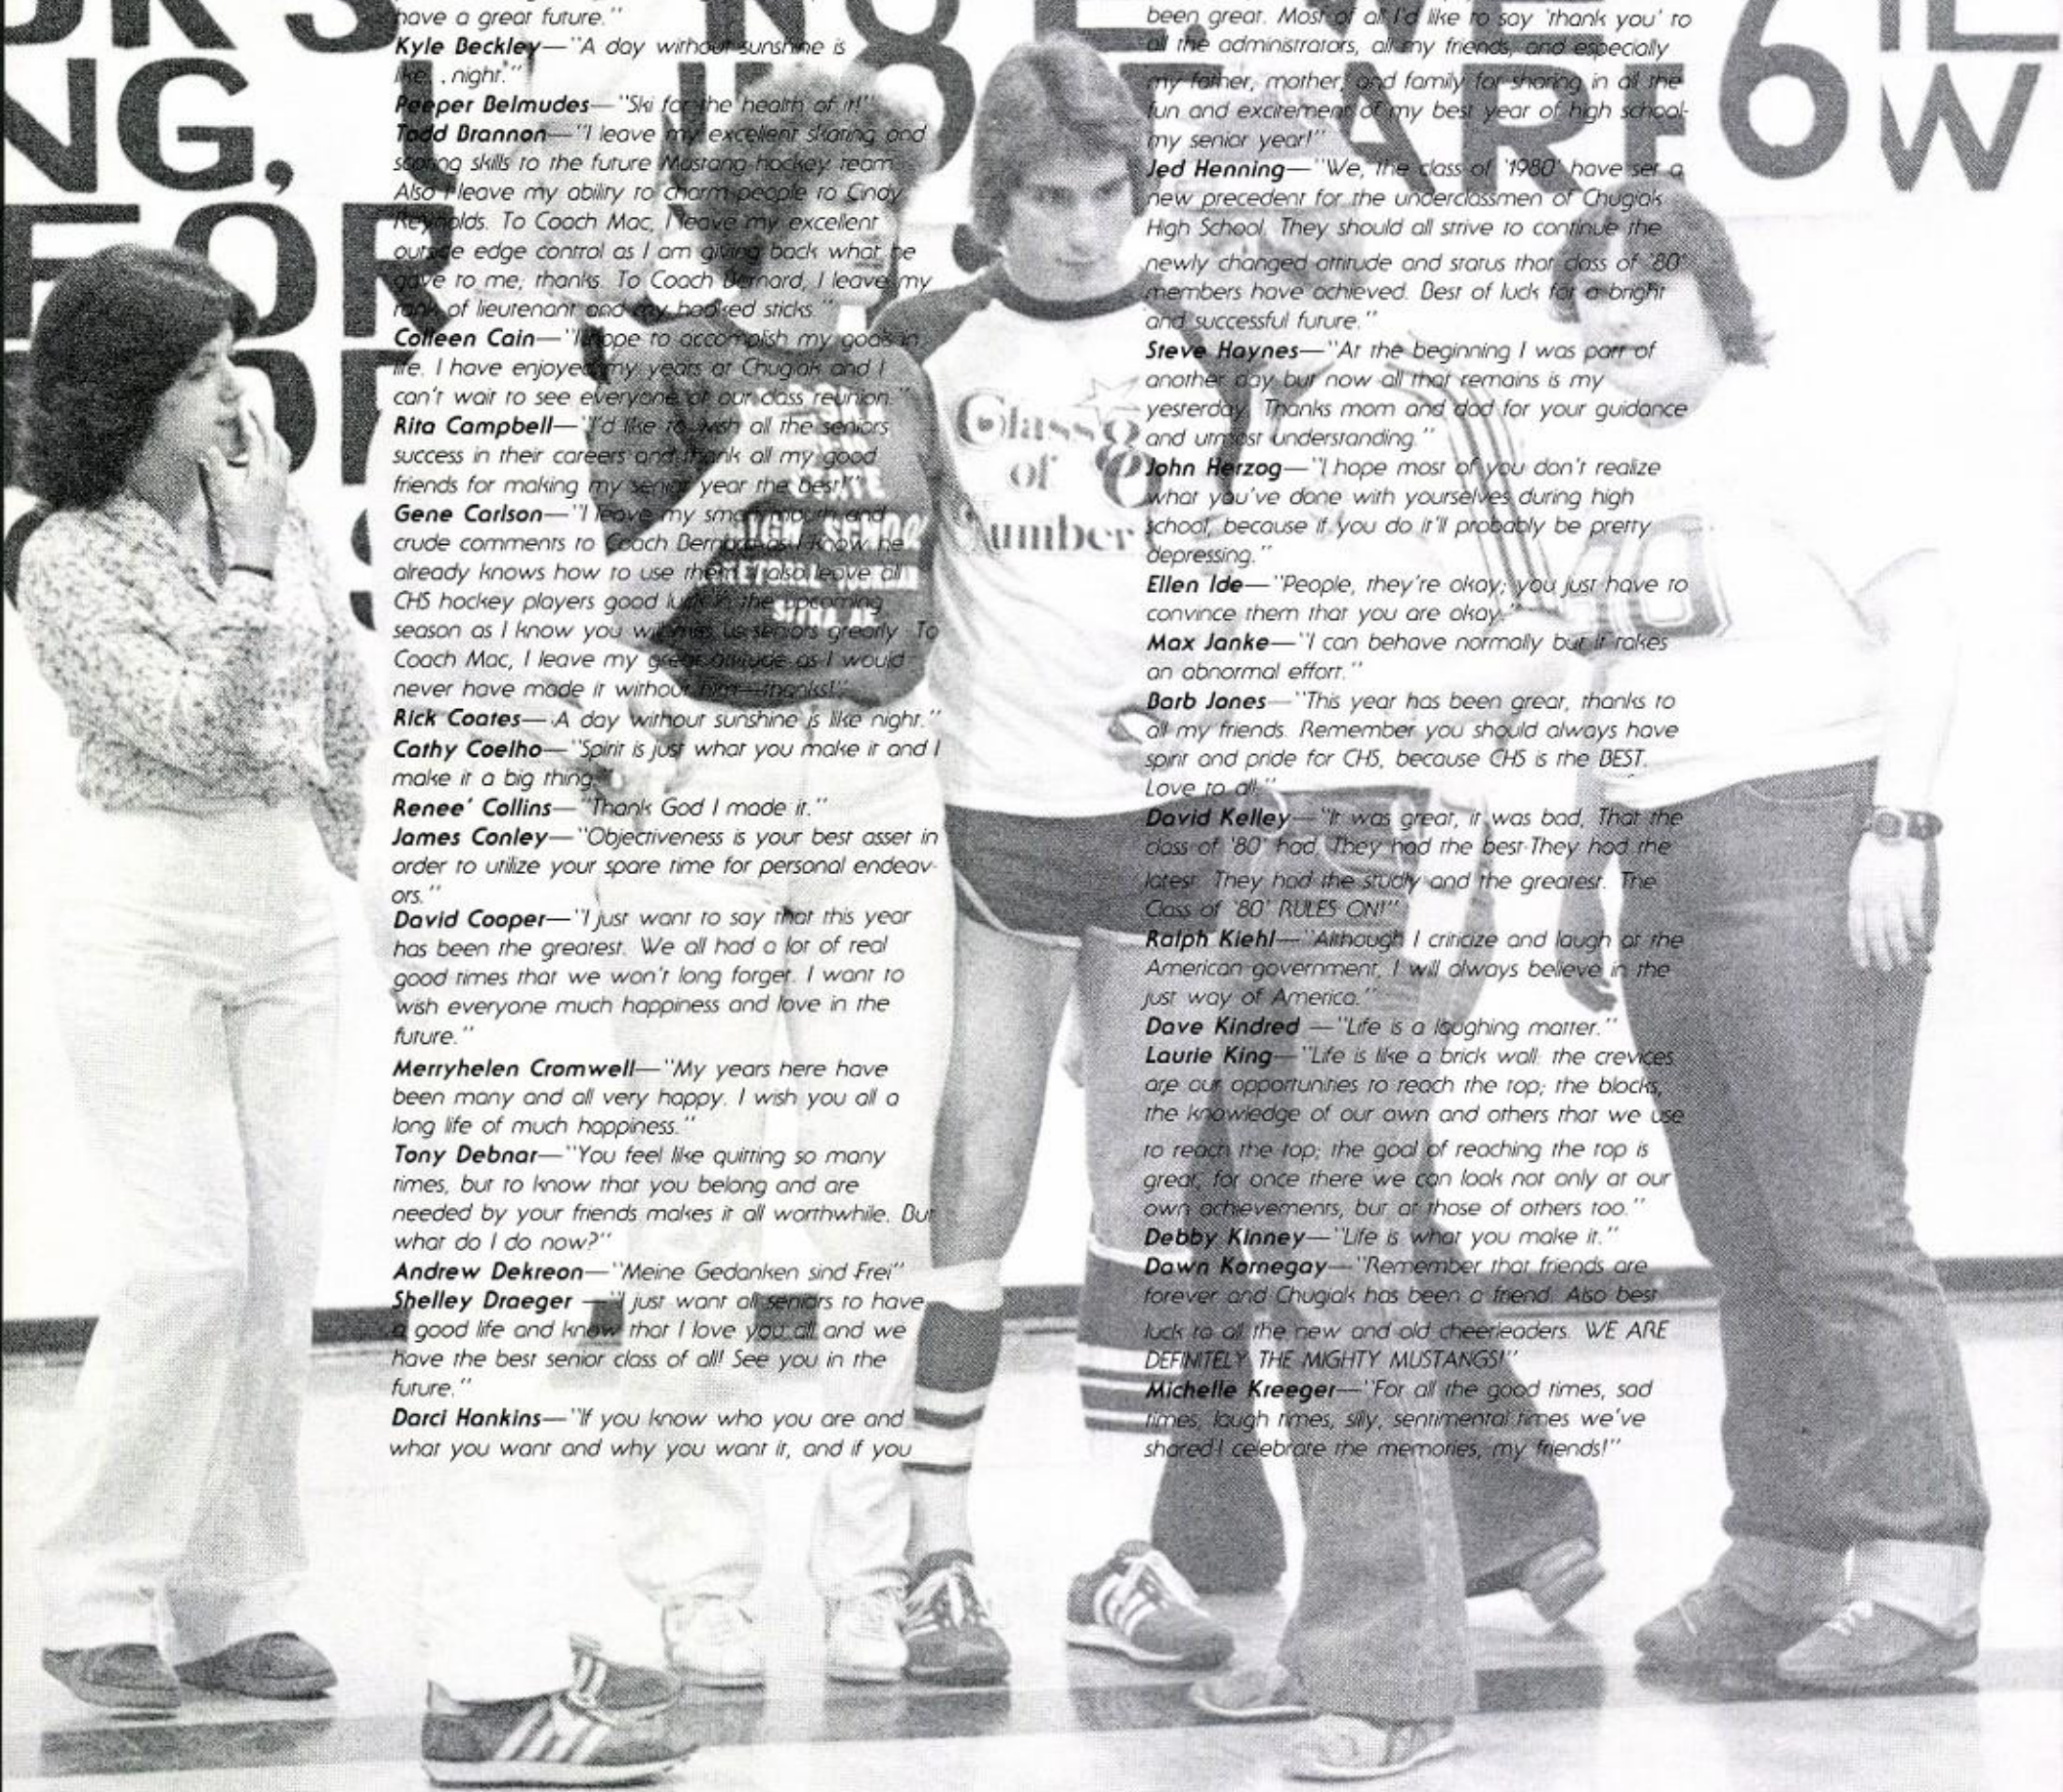

Dave Kindred—"Life is a laughing matter."

Laurie King—"Life is like a brick wall: the crevices are our opportunities to reach the top; the blocks, the knowledge of our own and others that we use to reach the top; the goal of reaching the top is great, for once there we can look not only at our own achievements, but at those of others too."

Debby Kinney—"Life is what you make it."

Dawn Komegay—"Remember that friends are forever and Chugiak has been a friend. Also best luck to all the new and old cheerleaders. WE ARE DEFINITELY THE MIGHTY MUSTANGS!"

Michelle Kreeger—"For all the good times, sad times, laugh times, silly, sentimental times we've shared I celebrate the memories, my friends!"

THE BEST.
REST.

Terry Kruger—"I love Polly's it!"

Michele LaCau—"Live, love, and be happy!"

Sharon Lee—"Remember the good times and the friends that we've made. I'll always cherish the memories of the crazy things we've done and all the fun we had doing them! To the great class of '80' WE MADE IT! For Polly and Jeanne, good friends are forever ydnaddhaenif!"

Joe Lochner—"Through the years we've been real rowdy, now it is time to say good-bye, not howdy. To our fellow seniors, we offer this rhyme of our good years of party time: Fun we've had, and freite too, from chasing girls to being GNUS. (Gordon carry on the rowdiness and craziness we experienced. Joe, Keith TLG 1/3, Gonzo 2) Hi Mom and Dad!"

Lori Lochrie—"I hope everybody can have as good as time here at Chugiak as I have. I wish the best of everything to all my friends. I lov ya all!"

Patti Mahaney—"When you're lonely, I wish you love. When you're down, I wish you joy. When you're troubled, I wish you peace. When things look empty, I wish you hope."

Scott Maslowski—"A good man is the best friend, and therefore soonest to be chosen, longer to be retained; and indeed, never to be parted with unless he ceases to be that for which he was chosen."

Shelley Mattson—"My years at CHS have been the best. I would like to say thanks to all my friends and teachers who have put up with me through the years. I hope the spirit and pride goes on for a long time. Good Luck, underclassmen!"

Kent McNall—"Once upon a time, this is the end."

Richard Merrill—"Give all my athletic ability to Coach Mac's boy, Reed McDonald."

Joe Miner—"Being loud and clowning around, screwing off and munching down. It's been fun, really great, the class of decade number eight. Now we are to be adults. Ask us "would you do it again?" We must refuse, for now is now and then was then! (Keith, Joe, TLG 1/3, Gonzo 1)"

Ronda Minter—"I have enjoyed all the fun times here at CHS. It has been a long four years here and now that I am a senior and leaving, I can only say I wish I had another four years to go. Thanks for the opportunity of a good and happy life here at CHS."

Timothy D. Moore—"If one strives to be the best, they will receive a success unequalled by any other success imaginable."

Lynn Newberry—"I am not afraid of tomorrow for I have seen yesterday, and I love today! I'd like to thank everyone for making my years at Chugiak ones I will always remember and cherish."

Tim Nickens—"Good luck to all underclassmen and remember Attila the Hun (Mrs. Heeding) is an old sofie."

Edmund J. Penisten—"The hardest thing in the world is not knowing what is right, but doing what is right."

Ana Perez—"Follow the yellow brick road don't stray!"

Keith Reed—"I'd like to thank Chugiak for being the best school ever, and the class of '80, whose spirit was never outdone, and especially to Jeanne, Polly, Sharon, Joe, Steve and Joe for being the best friends I've ever had. Joe, Joe, TLG 1/3, Gonzo 3. Thanks Mom and Dad for your support."

Pam Scott—"In strengthening each other through our struggles through high school, we've become a stronger class. Now, as we will use our talents and abilities to strengthen the world."

Gennette Sontag—"CHS has been a bright spot in my life and I'd like to thank all the administrators, faculty, and my friends for making it all possible. John and Ray, may you grow up to be big seniors."

Polly Tritt—"Thanks CHS for all the memories for the class of '80's the best. To Sharon and Jeanne ydnaddhaenif. Let it be known that Terry Kruger never got "it". P.S. I love you, Deak (Kroya)."

Sandi VanLuchene—"Keep your own head and stay out of trouble!"

Michael Wallin—"How can you be in two places at once when you're nowhere at all."

Jeanne Wetherington—"Thanks to everyone for giving me the best and most successful four years I could have. Thanks to my friends throughout the years. To Polly, Sharon, and Keith ydnaddhaenif! To Steve 'Still'."

Jon Wrede—"I have enjoyed being a student at CHS and really being a part of the school. Thanks to all the teachers and friends. But most of all thanks to the football and basketball cheerleaders. WE ARE THE CHAMPIONS, Good luck!"

Angie Zuniga—"My years at Chugiak High have been nice ones. I want to thank my family and friends for making it so wonderful. I hope that everyone is always happy and always keeps a smile on their face."

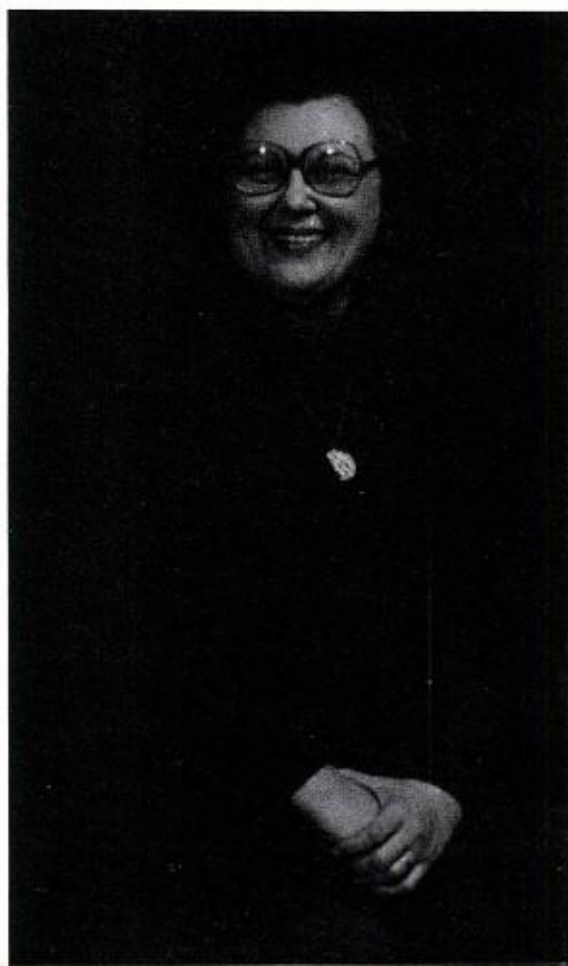

Guest Speaker Clark Gruening Presents Awards

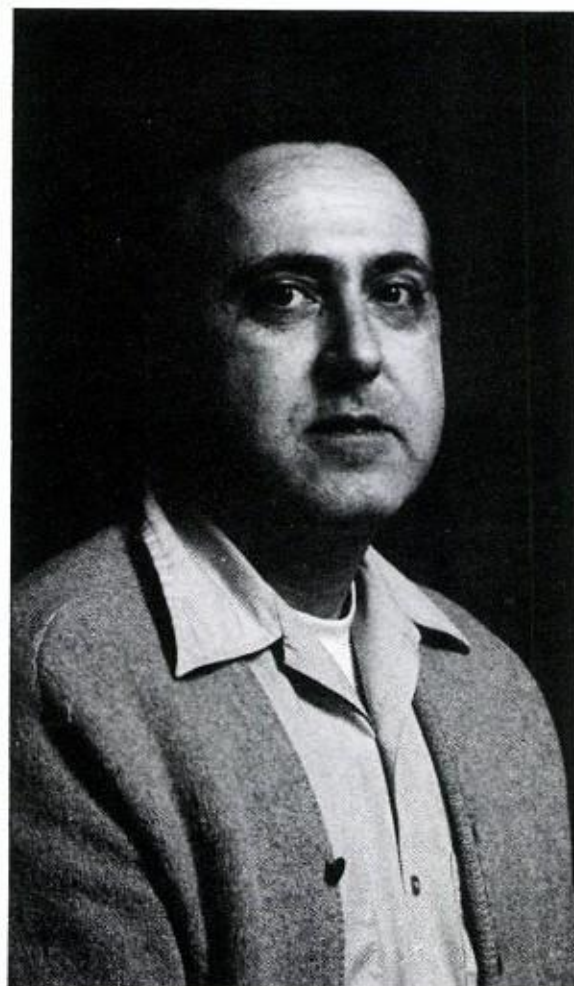

Clark Gruening has been in Alaska since his childhood in Juneau. The grandson of the late Territorial Governor and U.S. Senator Ernest Gruening (for whom this award was named), Clark has degrees in political science and law, with honors, and is currently campaigning for the 1980 Democratic U.S. Senate position from Alaska. He may soon follow in his grandfather's footsteps.

The Dabiche staff would like to recognize Clark as an outstanding member of our community, and hereby commend him for giving us his time at the 1980 Gruening Awards assembly on May 14.

Harry McDonald

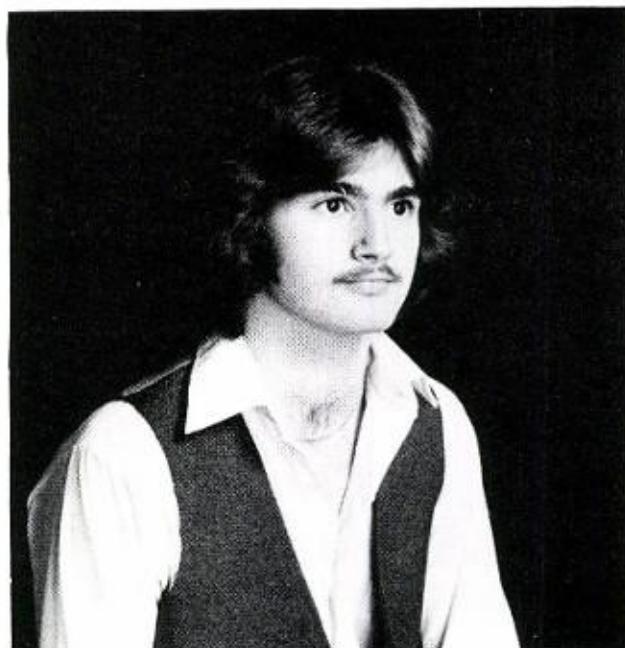

"He reaches the kids who none of the rest of us can."—Mr. Tom Rollman

"I can't talk about all he does."—Mrs. Ethel "Mac" Owen

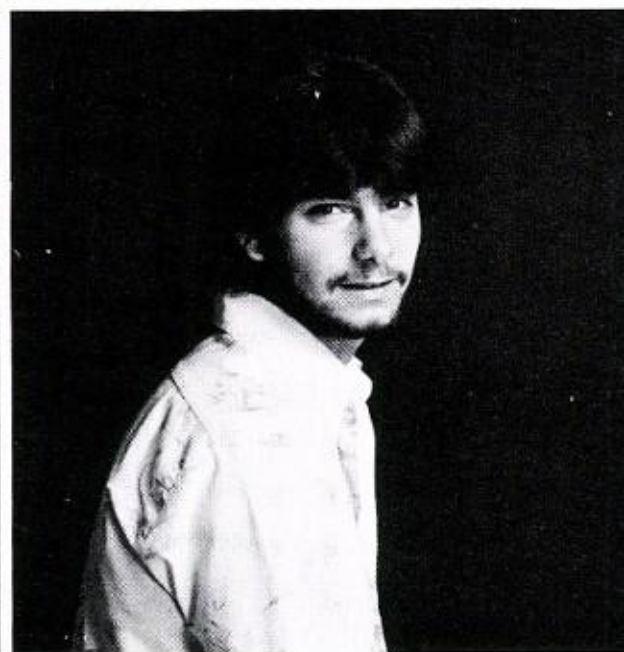

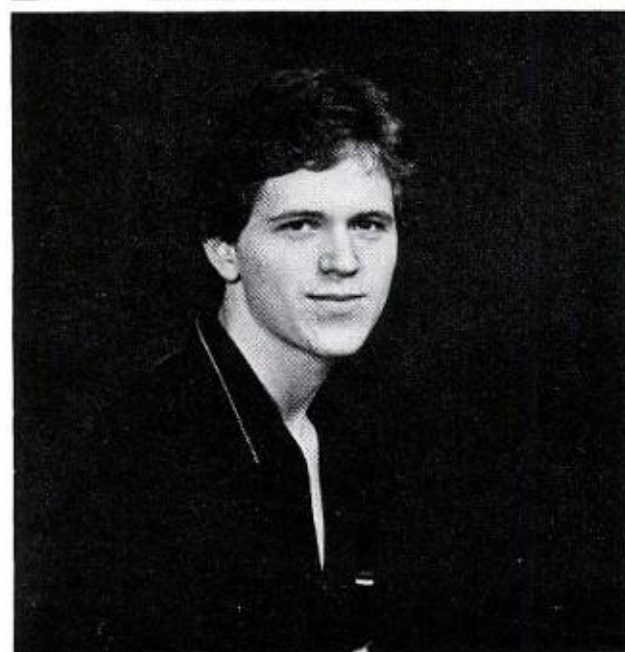

"Whenever anybody needs help, he's always there."—Mrs. Sally Callaway

For the past fifteen years Harry McDonald has been deeply involved with the Anchorage Hockey Association, serving as Head Coach for several years. He has been a physical education teacher at Chugiak High for many years. At CHS, he has served as Hockey, Wrestling, and Track Coach. In addition, he coached the Alaska Drillers, a conglomeration of All-Star hockey players. As was repeated often at the selection meetings, "Coach Mac goes far beyond the call of duty with all his students, and truly cares about each one." His constant involvement with area youth and his unselfish contributions to the community aptly qualify him for the 1980 Non-Student Gruening Award.

Jack Asbury
Bob Jones

Joe Miner
Jon Wrede

Joseph Lochner

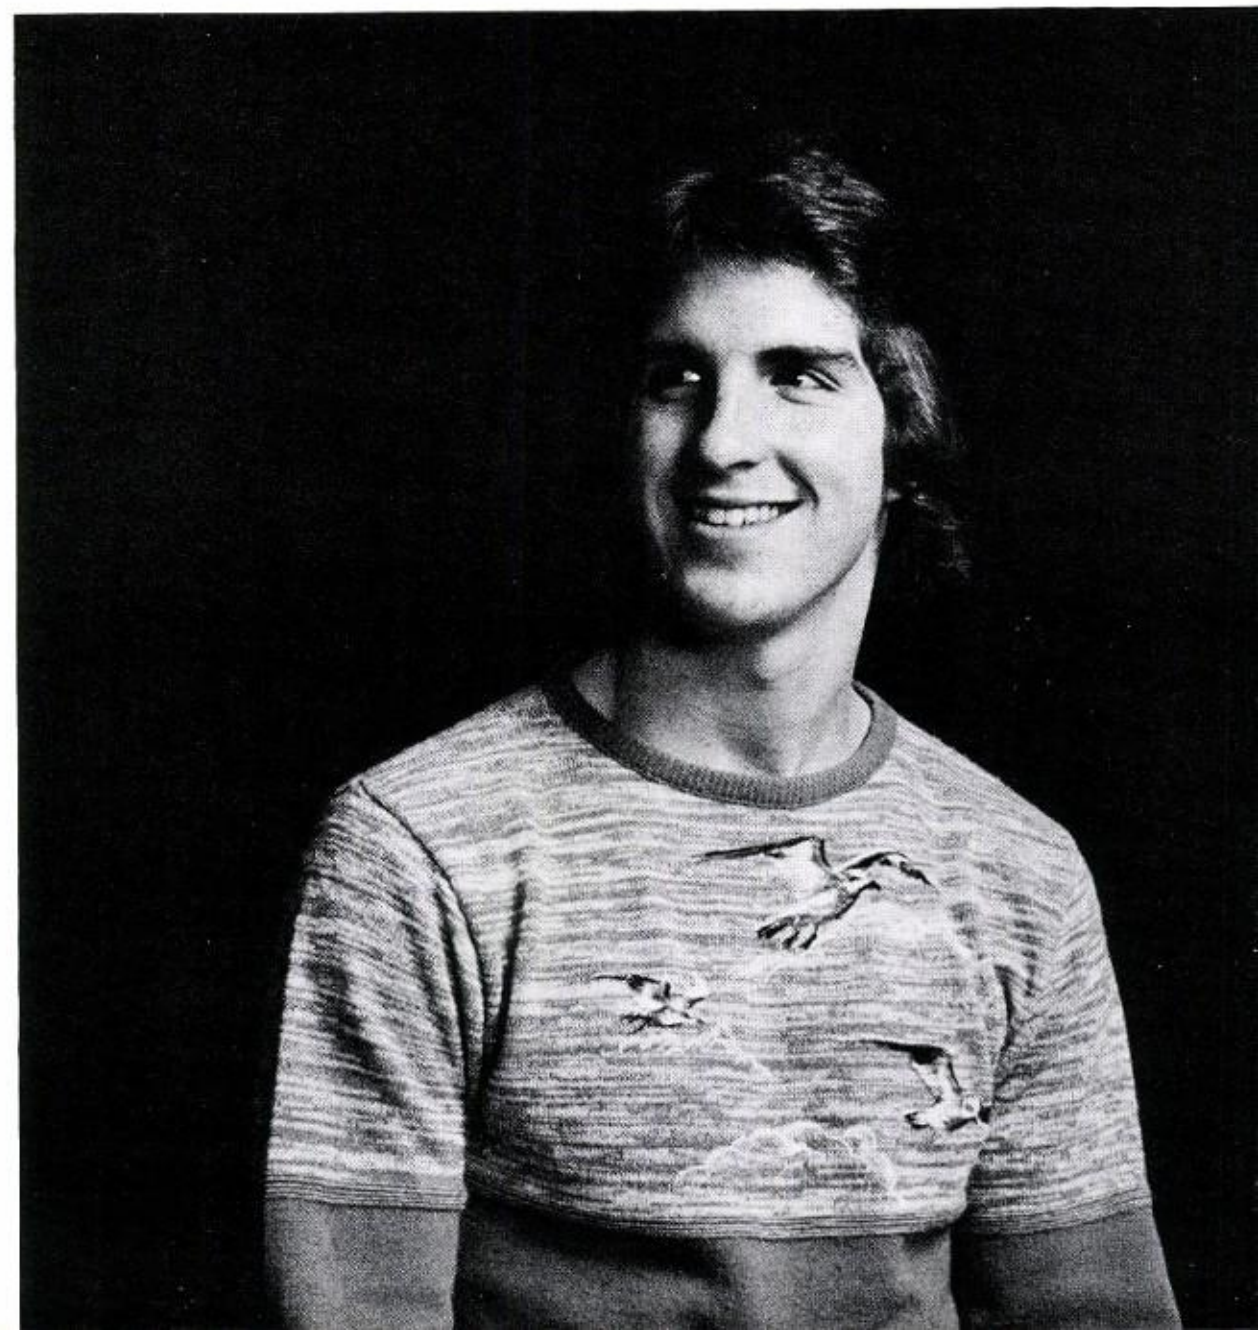

"He's spirited in all activities. He makes you smile just to look at him!"—Pam Scott

"Nobody knows him as well as I do. When you look at all his accomplishments, you know he deserves this award."—Joe Miner

"He's very involved. He's always at school."—Tom Lochner

"He can take charge when it's needed, even though he's dingy at times."—Mrs. "Mac" Owen

The 1980 senior boy Gruening Award recipient is Joseph Lochner. He participated in Varsity Swimming, being a Co-captain his senior year. Other athletics he was involved with were track and A.A.U. swimming. He was a member of Corillion and C-clubs. He was a sophomore attendant for the 1978 Junior-Senior Prom and Honor Guard for the 1979 Graduation. He also was in the performance of "Wheels" that Swing Choir arranged. On top of all his activities, he attends many games, marches, and meets to show his ever-present CHS spirit!

Pam Scott

"Pam is involved in everything, even some things she shouldn't be."—Mrs. Sally Callaway

"Pam spent more time helping the basketball cheerleaders, not being a cheerleader, than if she would have been one."—Mrs. Owen

"Pam gets recognition, but not nearly enough as she should get!!"—Mark Wenzel

"She has a lot of great ideas, and she really helped us get together in Swing Choir."
—Jennifer Ginsburg

Pam Scott has been involved in a myriad of athletics and activities in the school and community. Among her accomplishments are being Sophomore class President and Senior class Vice-President. Pam also was chosen as a Rotary Club Exchange Student to Brazil. In addition, she has served as Student Advisory Board President, and as the Student Representative on the Anchorage School Board.

MAY AND JUNE HOURS: 8 am to 8 pm

The following parents would like to congratulate their Senior Son or Daughter for their outstanding accomplishments and to wish them the very best in their future endeavors.

To:

Christina Clayton

Congratulations! We are very proud of your accomplishments. You have certainly outdone our expectations and we want you to know we love you for being "you". Best Wishes.
Love Mom, Dad, Tommy, Tracy, Shelley, and Mike

Tracy Clayton

Congratulations! We know how hard you worked for this. We want you to know how proud we are and we wish you the best of everything for a beautiful future.
Love Mom, Dad, Tommy, Chris, Shelley, and Mike

Catherine Coelho

The sunshine of your smile is the light of our day. Congratulations and the best for you babe. We love you.
Mom, Dad, and Sandy

Renee Collins

It only took three cars, an automotive store and a friendly service station, but you made it! Congratulations and much love.
Mom and Dad

Doris Mae Evans

We love you, the best of everything.
Maxine and Bill Bullington

Steve Haynes

You've always been the kind of son who stood out from the crowd and who did so many special things to make your family proud. Continue on the path you've mapped out and we know you'll "keep yourself a man."
Love, Mom and Dad

Jed Henning

You've been a challenge, but we love challenges.
Mom, Dad, Zane, Joe, Janie, Katie

Colleen Holland

We are so very proud of you Colleen, you will go far with your winning ways.
Love, Mom, Dave, Lynn, Mike, Ray, Granny and all your family

Chris Jarvis

Congratulations, Chris. We are very proud of you.
Mom, Dad, and Scott

Jeff Johnson

Jeff, you "Light up our Life." We are proud of you and know you'll succeed in whatever you do. Lots of love.
Mom, Dad and family

Dave Kelley

Congratulations, you made it through and we're proud of you! But remember more than what it means to us is what it means to you, for through life it's not pleasing others but doing what you have to do to live with yourself. You're responsible for your own actions in life, whether good or bad, and life is what you make it be. Love you, David, hope life is what you would have it be.
Love, Me and Father Bud

Laurie King

"O loving friends! Exert every effort to acquire the various branches of knowledge and true understanding. Strain every nerve to achieve both material and spiritual accomplishments." Abdu'l Baha
Bahai's of Eagle River

Rodney P. Kinney Jr.

Congratulations, son. We wish you a bright and exciting future at this very important turning point in your life. You have done well and we are proud of you.
Mom and Dad

Sharon Lee

Congratulations baby, we are proud of the person you've become.
Love, Mom and Dad

Joe Lochner
Joe, stay a winner.
With much luck and love, Mom, Dad, and the rest of the Lochner Co. . .

John Lowery
Congratulations on a job well done!
Love, Mom and Dad

Live your life each day as you would climb a mountain. An occasional glance toward the summit keeps the goal in mind, but many beautiful scenes are to be observed from each new vantage point. Keep your radiance and healthy attitude and you're bound to attain your goals.
Love, Mom, Dad, Shannon, Tim, and Mike

Shelley Mattson
As a daughter and a sister, she is a "10"!
Mom, Dad, and sister

Kent McNall
You proved it to us but more importantly, you proved it to you. Congratulations and best wishes.
Dad and Judy

Ricky Merrill
Congratulations on an outstanding accomplishment. "Hitch your wagon to the stars."
Mom, Dad, Tina, and Timmy

Joe Miner
Congratulations on your graduation. We're always proud of you.
Mom, Andy, Julie, and the many and assorted members of your family.

In tune with the theme, the "puzzled" Babiche staff carefully put together this year's book, truly "One Piece at a Time."

For the second year in a row we have strived to put together a full yearbook. We did our best to show the entire 1979-1980 school year.

We would like to express our deepest gratitude to the following people for their outstanding assistance as well as anyone who may have been accidentally omitted.

Our special thanks to...

MR. and MRS. BOB ELIASSEN, for their cabin where our puzzled staff put the pieces together and for that great, traditional speech from Mrs. Eliassen.

MR. and MRS. J.V. BROWN, for the use of their chalet where some of our puzzling ideas started to form; we are deeply sorry for breaking their loft, their chimney, their solid wood coffee table and their glass mixing bowl (this is where we had the idea of putting the pieces together.)

JOSTEN'S AMERICAN YEARBOOK COMPANY, for the vast amount of information, ideas, and help that went into this book.

REM-PAK STUDIOS, for their touching formal portraits, and their super photographic assistance.

ADVERTISERS, who helped us tremendously in paying for our total yearbook.

MR. TOM CRESAP, for his knowledge, ideas, and patience with our puzzling staff.

MRS. CRETUS DARBY and NIGHT CREW, who were very patient with our hair-raising photographers and radical staff during the late night deadlines.

MR. DON BERNARD, for the piece of plywood for the darkwood brawls.

MR. DEL INGRIM, for the two gears for our enlarger.

MR. BILL MCNALL, for his sometimes great patience when we kept his wife at school for those late night deadlines, for his many ideas contributed during the retreats and for his "pass or fail" grading system.

ADMINISTRATORS, FACULTY, TEACHERS, COACHES, and STUDENTS, for their needed and received support, quotes, and photogeniality.

SUPER BABICHE PARENTS, who brought in food for those late night deadlines and for letting their offspring stay for the Thursday and Friday night deadlines.

STEVE GROHOL and CAL AUSTERMUHL, for the use of their personal negatives.

ALUMNAE CHARLES LOCHNER, for his ads drawings, and CHUGIAK POST OFFICE, for secret assistance late on a December deadline.

FALL is . . .

"Totally an abstract concept of reality."—Sigmund Freud, deceased

"Cold weather and lots of yellow, brown, red, and purple leaves!"—freshman Chrissy Batten

"It's sort of depressing, because you can't water ski. I hate to see things die."—sophomore Debbie Ribelin

"It's mushy. Ya never kiss girls. I like to cremate people on Halloween, then save my candy for a few days, just eat it a little bit at a time."—fourth grader Eric Endell

WINTER is . . .

"When your boyfriends keep you warm."—seventh grader Dawn Wilson

"GREAT! Because there is so much snow, but I want more!"—senior DJ Mosier

"Winter Wonderland. This weighs and measures much the same as the metric system."—junior Eric Parsnips

"FUN! and lots of parties."—sophomore Chuck Conover

"I think winter is serene. I could really grasp onto those trees with the frost on them. After a fresh snow I like to go outside and make angels, just kinda look around, take in the peacefulness, and then throw my friend in the snow and step on his face."—junior Ray Marquiss

SPRING is...

"Time to get all your feelings out, go crazy. Which is easy for seniors like Joe Miner, Joe Lochner, and Keith Reed!"—junior John Lindquist

"MMUD!" —freshman Denise Lorrery

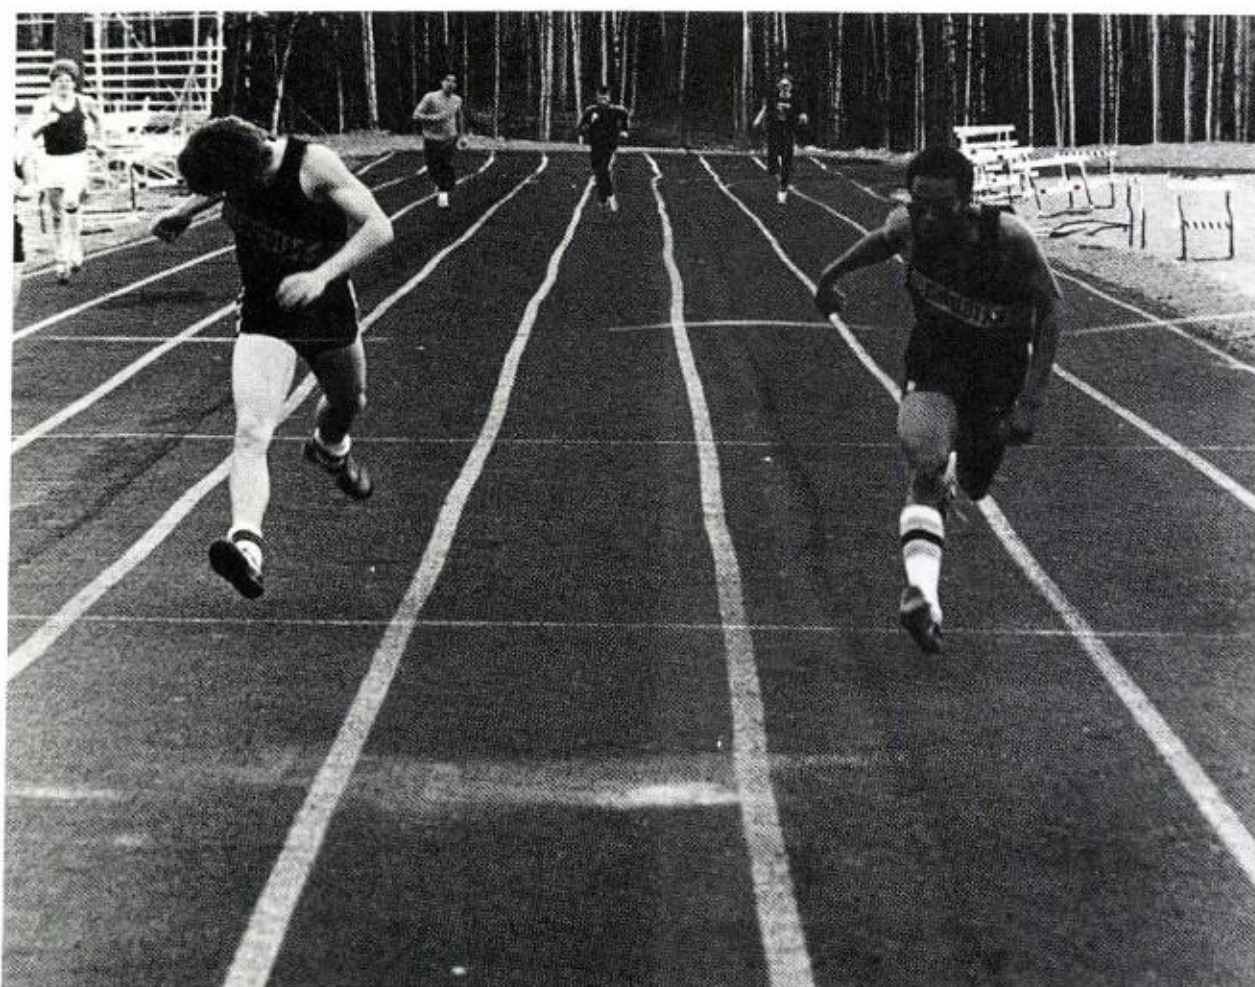

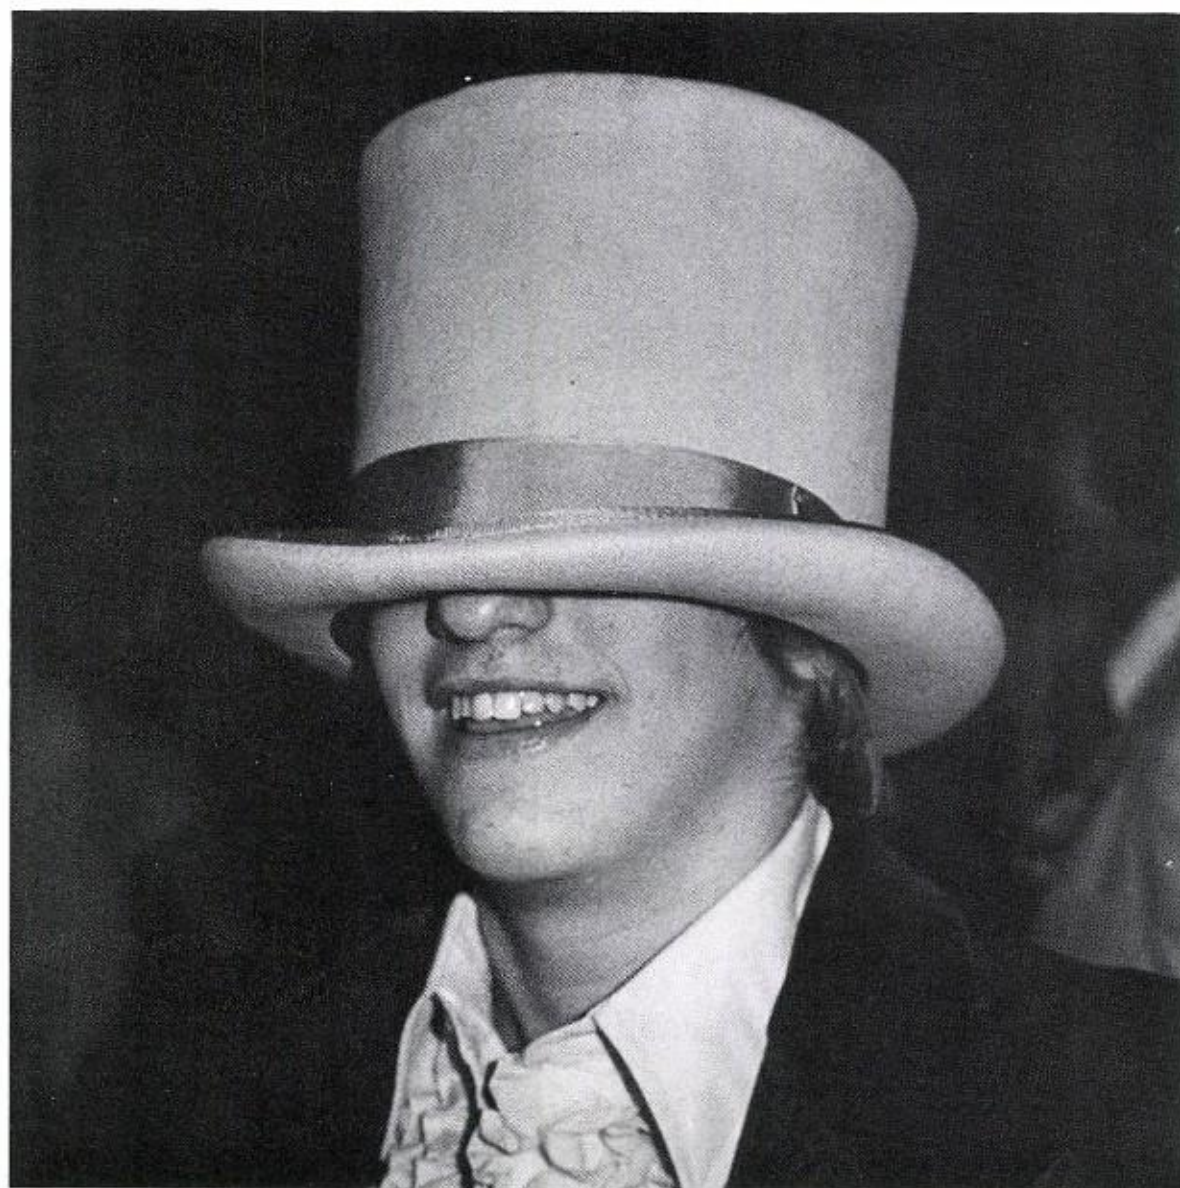

"Time for everybody to be happy and excited and fall in love."—Cupid

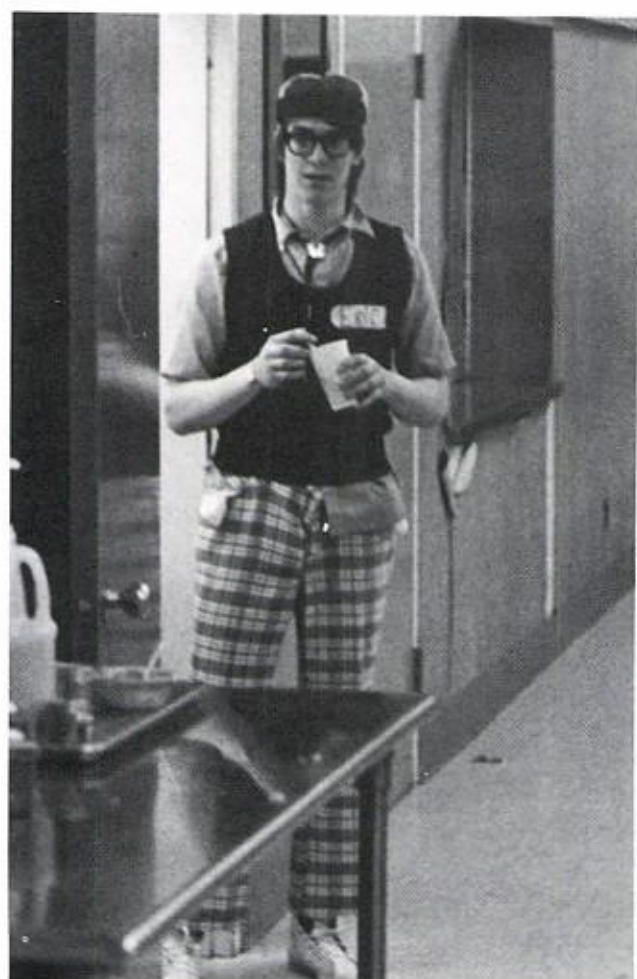

"It's neat because you can play all these neat sports like basketball and tennis."—freshman Teri Lenhart

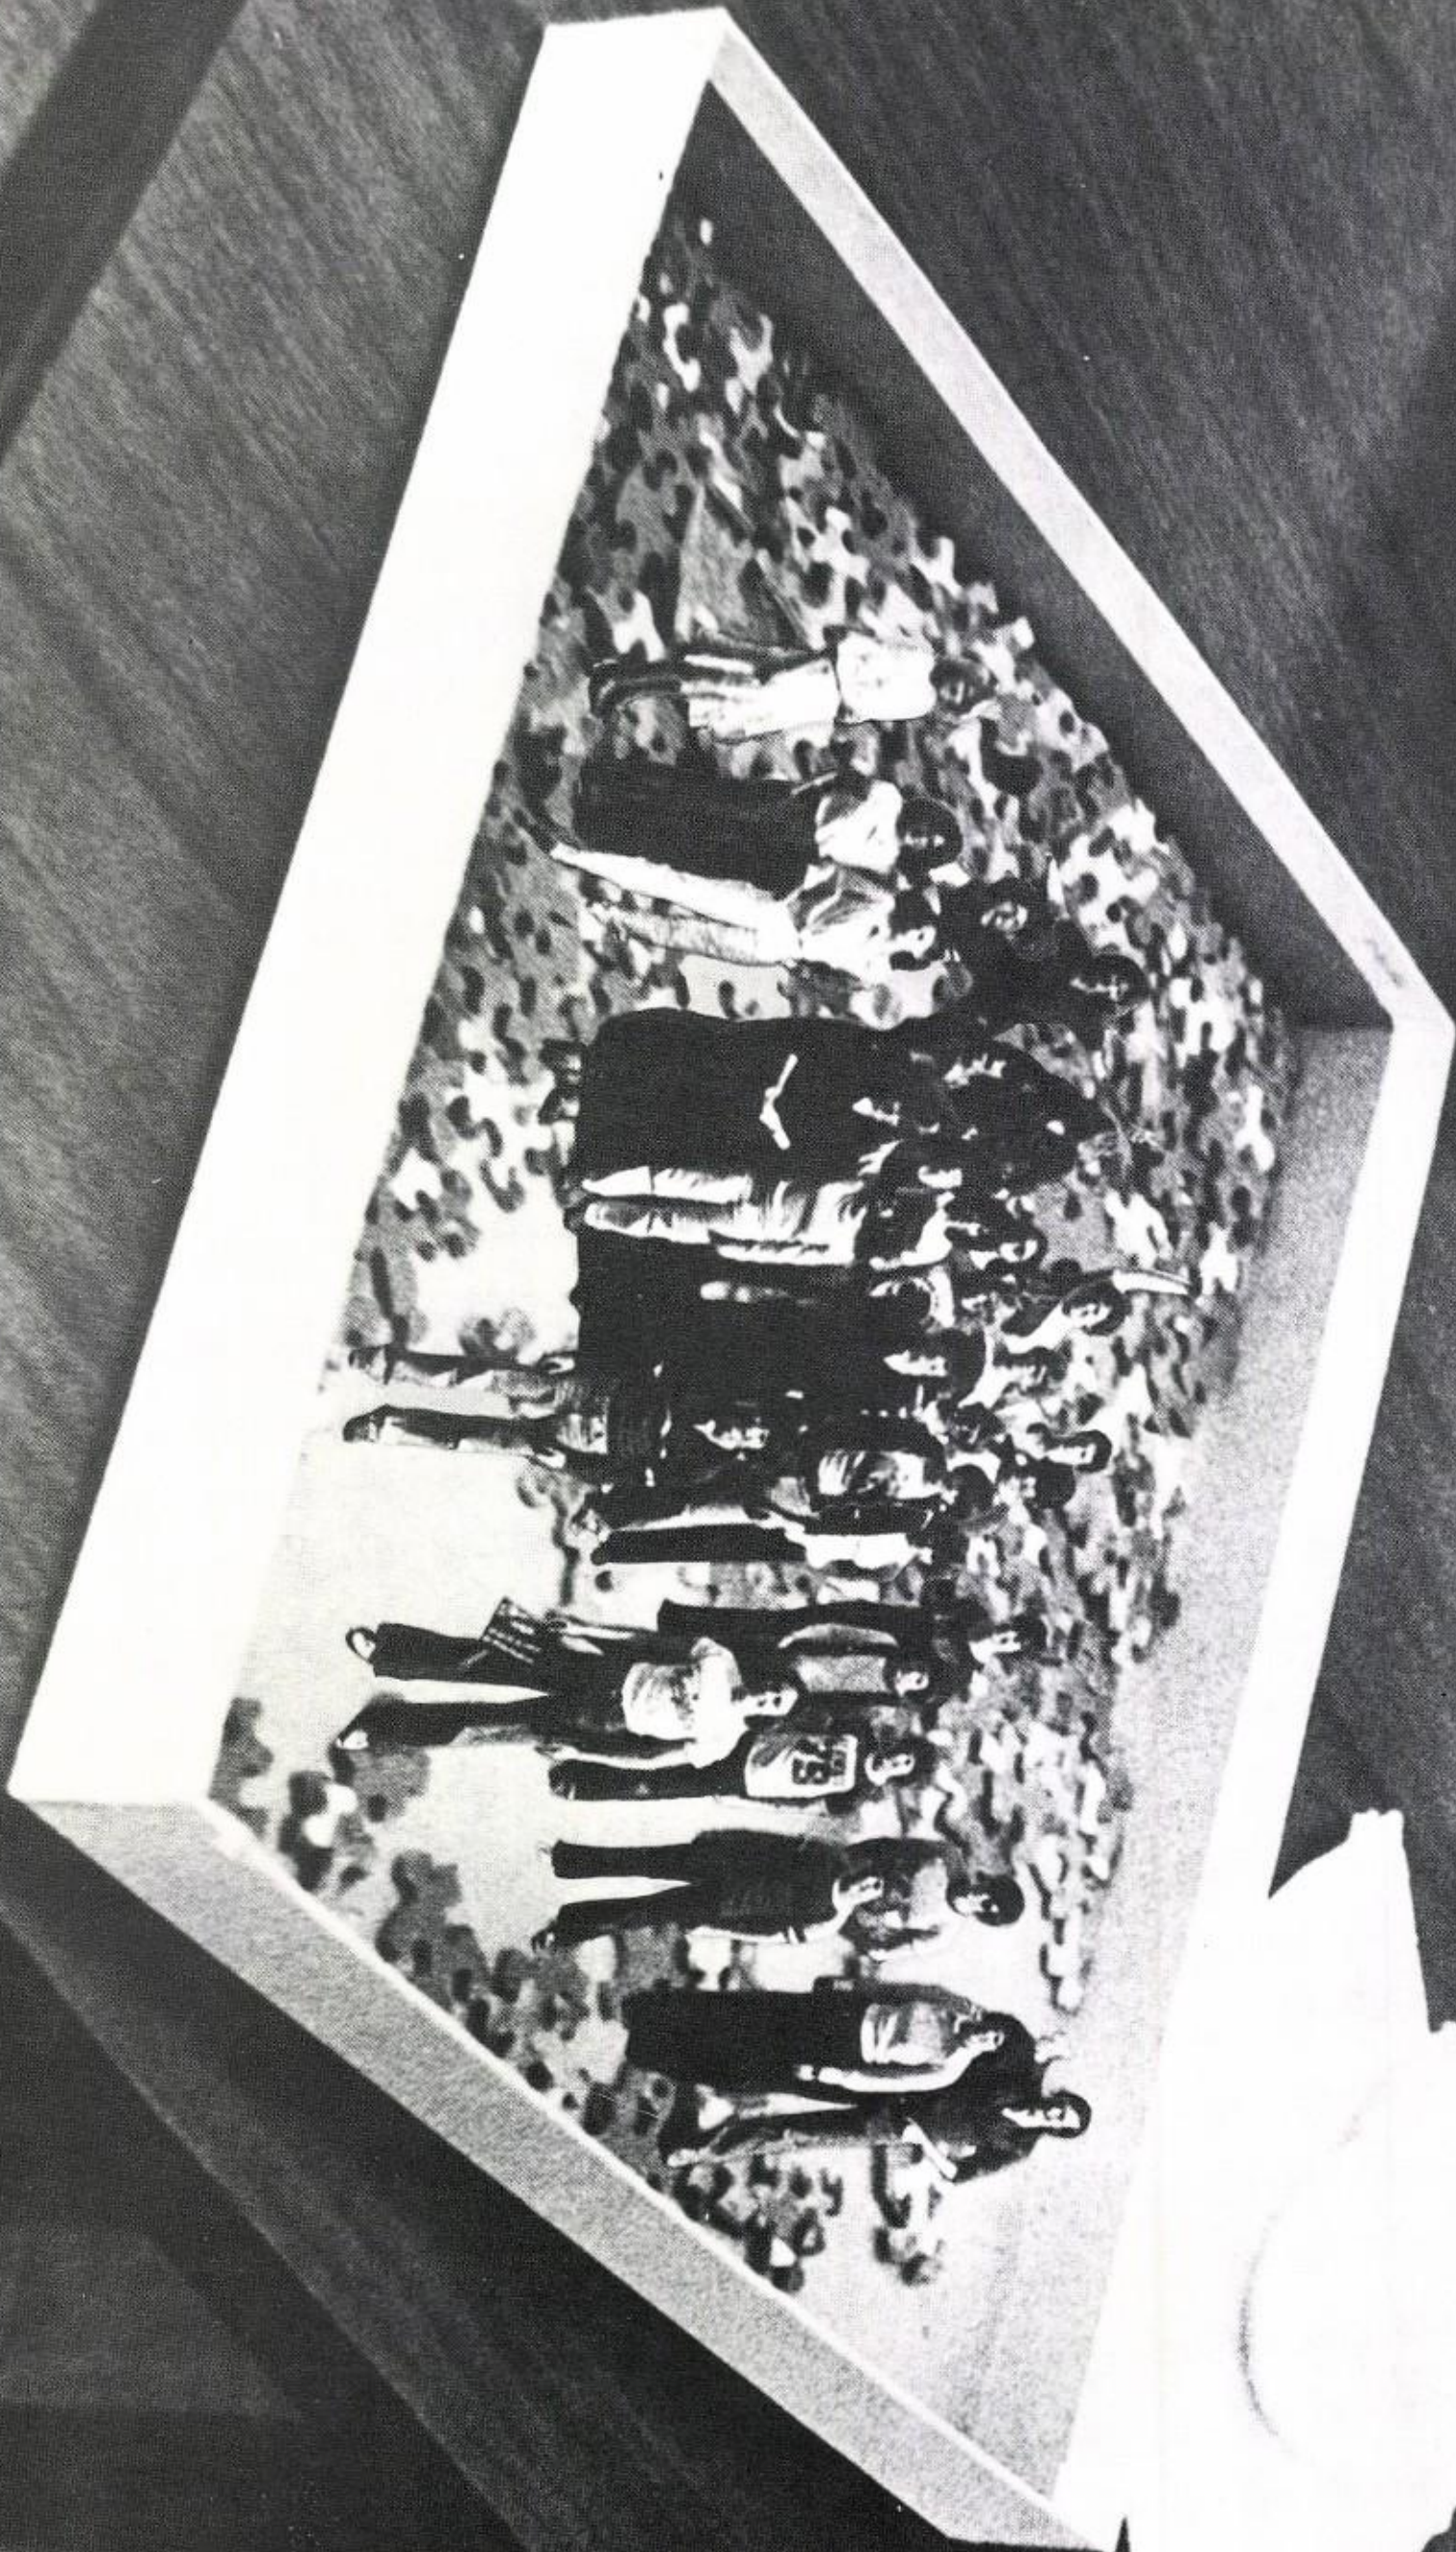

"You can vacation in the states."—freshman Lisa Benotti

"It's for the birds... and the bees."—sophomore Kari Wirzel

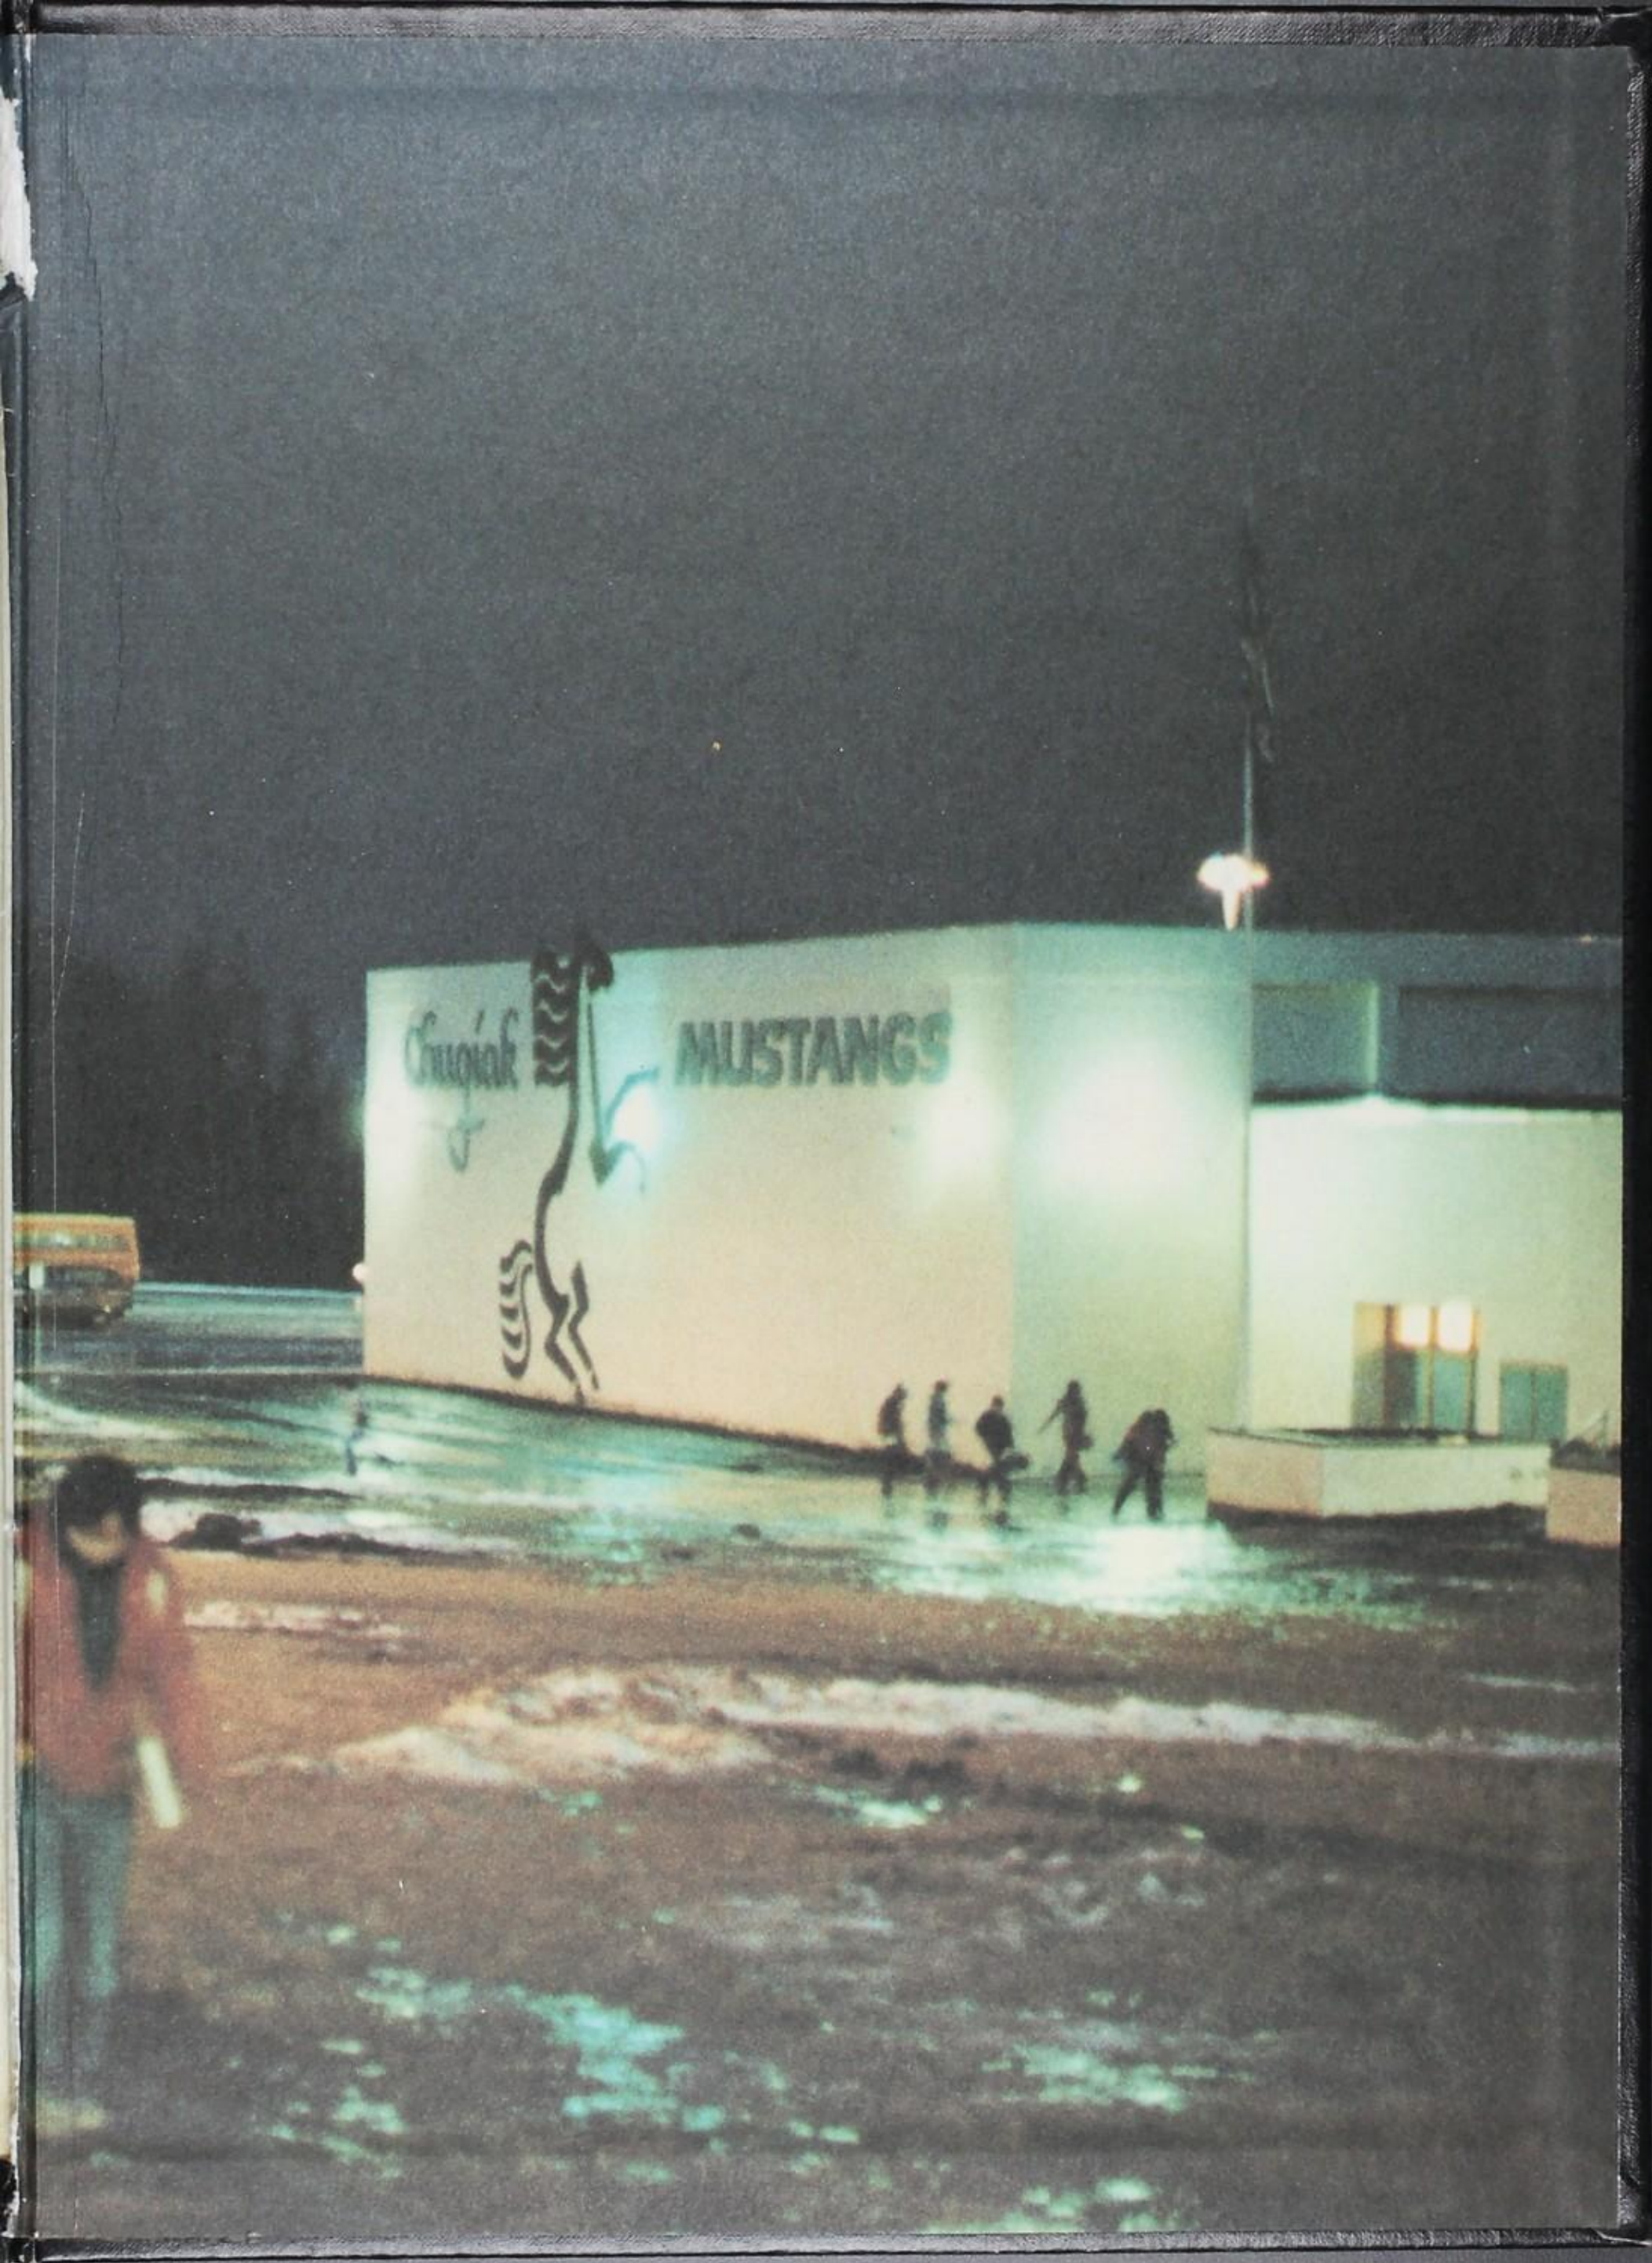

"I love it 'cus it means summer is comin'. But I love it 'cuz it's a time for makin' up or breakin' up."—freshman Sheri Mattson

... babiche yearbooks are produced with a concentrated effort to bring you the events of the year. they are an attempt to portray the spirit of chugiak / gruening and everything related to this once in a lifetime experience.

athletics, activities, academics—each is but one piece of the puzzle, as this time in life is only a small part.

every person is a part of what goes on here, and everyone together makes our school what it is. there are many small stories constantly developing, and they all fit together as the big story of chugiak/gruening jr./sr. high school. here is that story,—ONE PIECE AT A TIME.
